Second Wharton Smoker To-Night

Short Talks by Professors.

At 8 o'clock to-night Houston Hall will be the scene of other tobacco smokers to-night. It will be the second entertainment, of a number to be held by the Wharton Association this year, and a record attendance of Wharton School students is expected. Three members of the faculty will be present as the subject of their addresses on current topics. The faculty members are: Professor William E. Lichtenheuser, Professor of Psychology; and Dr. H. C. Croenan, Professor of Political Science.

The smoker this evening will be a novel attraction on the Wharton scene. There will be a five-minute short speech dealing with the Honor System. This will be followed by a scene given by the members of the faculty, which will bring the curtain down on the association. Several of the older campus performers will make their appearance and the \"speeding students\" will offer various forms of light entertainment and the whole evening will be concluded with a program.

After the program will be a dancing supper, which anyone present must pay five cents for. The cost of the refreshments will be paid by the Homest System. The dancing will last until 11 o'clock. The dancers will act as judges, and the decision will be made according to the amount of applause given each man. The comedian of the evening will be announced, and the winning star of the evening will be a box of cigars. As the date for the night is the nearest Easter vacation, encouraging presences are desired to attend the University.

Aim at Large Ticket Sale.

To have every seat sold by Thursday, April 21, the Wharton faculty, under whose auspices the Philadelphian Symphony Orchestra will perform on the campus that evening. To determine the admission of every student in order to make the largest possible capacity of Whiteman Hall has been set at 2500. A students' committee, headed by Stanley Haddy, chairman of the Ticket Committee, says that it is expected to be sold by this evening.

By the wish of Leopold Stokowski, famous conductor of the Philadelphia Orchestra, special places are reserved for the members of the faculty. Only those members of the faculty who are either officers or members of the faculty office will be admitted at the door of the Wharton class house when the faculty is in absolute order of the ticket sales.

A meeting of the council and members of the orchestra will be held today at 16:45 this morning. In the Office of the Wharton Student Council, the committee on the committee on the ticket sales will be held and a final plan will be made for the concert.

AN INSULT NOT TO BE OVERLOOKED.

We are receipt of a letter from a group of short-sighted, self-centered, misinformed individuals at Washington operating under the title, "American Union Against Militarism." The Epistles pratically amount to an insult, since it requests college men to stay away from their readers all manner of opinion to future attempts of the government along the lines of national preparations and pressures.

Putting a premium on such kind up to blooded men and expecting them to pass us on to other real Americans is tantamount to casting a slur upon one's intelligence and patriotism, and is distinctly unfair.

In its communication the society boasts of having carried on its work for the past fifty years, opposing Congress, everybody and everything that is mentioned military training. In other words, the Union has existed before, during, and after the war, and its argument is that it has a past in one great propagandist, so detrimental at the outbreak of hostilities. The wonder is that such an organization can exist within a stone's throw of the Capitol and disseminate its vicious propaganda from the very heart of the nation. Certainly, there are times when "free speech" is terribly abused.

Much sport is made of the S.A.T.C. by the Union—a thing not hard for any one to do. The college men repping it as the evils of the biggest Army Training Corps, and we have all ridiculed it in our heart's content. But no one ever considered the point of view of the one against future training of all kinds. Tearing down without offering any constructive suggestions is a game which does not have a very strong appeal to college men, so that the attack on the S.A.T.C. by the American Union is hardly worthy of the exercise.
