APPONT NORTHFIELD CONFERENCE LEADERS

Plan Large Undergraduate Delegation for Student Gathering in Massachusetts.

OUTLINE PROGRAM OF MEETING.

To have Pennsylvania represented by the largest delegation ever sent to the conference on which Northfield, Mass., is the object of the annual gathering, President John M. Clarke, president of the Junior Prom, will begin today at 1:15, when he will present the gift. No tickets will be issued to the general public, but a ticket will turn in all unstamped tickets and a new ticket will be given the owner. Chairman D. R. Lippincott, Ticket Manager.

JUNIOR PROM TICKETS
PUT ON GENERAL SALE

General sale of tickets for the Junior Prom, will begin today at 1:15, when President John M. Clarke, president of the Conference, will announce the opening of the sale. Ticket Manager. Gieseke urges Juniors particularly and all other guests ticket sales to receive them immediately, as very few tickets will be available to those who wait until tomorrow. No guest tickets will be obtainable at the door.

All tickets have been in the hands of the Juniors during the past two weeks and cash has already been turned in for the sale of over two hundred tickets. It is expected that at today's meeting of the committee many more will be accepted.

The following Juniors have made their sales:

Ticket Manager.

First Day.

The Junior Prom Committee will be held this year between June 20 and June 27, at the residence of the Major, with a large gathering of students of Middle Atlantic and New England schools, and the Junior Prom, a new feature of the conference, has been introduced for the first time this year.

Meetings are held every morning, and it is expected that the Juniors will meet every afternoon with prominent men, who interpret life to them in its broadest terms and show the place of education in the development of the individual. All efforts of all kinds hold a prominent position in the work of the Juniors. Two or more prominent men will be present every afternoon and will talk on subjects of interest to Juniors.

On three occasions in recent years Pennsylvania College has had the honor of having students on the Junior Prom Committee, and in recent years the Juniors of the University have had the honor of being represented at the Junior Prom Conference.

FASlEST SHEllS ON WAY TO ANNAHELD FOR RACE

Three Crews and Substitutes to Leave To-night for Today's First Regatta.

Because the Varsity and Freshman crews are to compete against the Antwerp Yacht Club, the crew which will race the Middle Atlantic Yacht Club's boat, the Antwerp Yacht Club, is accompanied by John Smith, who has been a member of the crew for many years, along with William Cody, ex-captain of the Antwerp Yacht Club, and the two Harvard Rowing Clubs. The shells have been entered in the race, but only the Harvard cock, which will prove great opposition in the race.

The members of the crew who will take the Antwerp trip will leave for the city on the first train this morning. The training periods of the Harvard and Van Vorst are to be taken at the Antwerp Yacht Club, and Deaver and Rosewell for the Freshman crew.

A large number of Antwerp Yacht Club and undergraduates who are rowing oarsmen in the Antwerp Yacht Club are tomorrow morning to watch the race. It is expected that there will be the most congested rowing classic of the season, and these undergraduates and Antwerp Yacht Clubmen are expected to show their best when making a good showing, unless the weather is exceptionally rough.

RUNNERS PREPARE FOR RELAYS.

Robertson Gives Special Attention to Mide and Meade Teams.

Pennsylvania's athletics are gradually coming to life for the Relay Carnival. Coach Robertson has made special arrangements for the men's team special work, with the result that Haymond, David Williams and Quinlan are in the best of condition. In the sprinters, Roberts, Quinlan and Quay have been selected, the last two being selected because of superior speed.

For the pentathlon, Bartels has been given the job, and the track team, under the direction of Dr. H. A. Stimpson, has made very good progress in recent weeks.

The entire track team has made excellent progress in recent weeks and will be able to present a fine display tomorrow afternoon. The team will make its final appearance at the annual at a banquet, which in will be given by the Varsity Club of the City of Philadelphia on May 17, 1919.

Flannels for Spring are the Tip to Very Nifty Dressers!

C. We felt it in our bones, so we just went to flannels.

C. We caught the first spurt of the looms when they swung to Civilians after the Armistice, and we bought the niftiest flannels eye has ever seen!

C. Then we made them up in new single and double-breasted models designed and cut on new lines, the kind of which a young fellow never put on his back before!

C. Waist lines are high; lapels are long and generous; snugness and trimmness are their middle names.

C. Colors—plain and in new stripe effects never before woven, because Victory was their inspiration, and Victory Stripes is their name.
