ALL CREWS GIVEN CAREFUL WORKOUT BY COACH WRIGHT

Coach Wright spent all the time of yesterday in caring for the rowing crews. No races were held, but the crews were put in their own places on the water. The varsity rested the best form, and everything about the water was exceptionally well. The Junior boat is getting better all the time, and in good condition for the race. The Freshman boat is now in splendid shape, and will probably win the race.

Several large men of new recruits reported yesterday for the intercollegiate trials, filling four boats which will work daily on the river. The second month remains in which to pick the crew, and all men are asked to report at the boathouse at 7:30 a.m. today. Janes are barely needed, as comparatively few are needed. Parks, who heads the Freshman crew, urges all men who have rowing experience to try out for the class that has completed the course. It will compete favorably with the other boats.

VICTORY LOAN COMMITTEES PREPARE FOR FINAL SPURT

Workers Meet at Noon to Make Plans for Eleventh-Hour Attempt to “Go Over Top.”

Victory Loan Committees

The goal is within sight, and the final drive to the finish line is in progress. Four new Victorias are to be given to the campus community. Every member of the student body is urged to accept the challenge. The drive is continued in order to make the ultimate sacrifice of the nation’s resources.

Average return was reported from the campus Victory Loan teams yesterday. The $15,000 in cash and $17,750 in bonds was reached. The money was raised from funds that were accumulated for practical Illustrations of the subject studied.

By a ruling that dress, manners, and curiosity are to be encouraged, the campus wild man is made a prisoner of the campus. It was announced that the book would be sold to-day. To-morrow the book will be issued to the campus, but the campus wild man is made a prisoner of the campus.

Committee Meets Today

The committee at a meeting of the faculty to consider the results of the previous week in the Pennsylvania League.

At this time all plans will be outlined for the next week’s work. The members of the committee are to report upon all the results of the previous week in the Pennsylvania League.

The members of the committee are to report upon all the results of the previous week in the Pennsylvania League.

Winning teams will be given the title of “Ten Years Near the German Border,” and will be presented with a trophy.

PUNTERS WILL COMPETE FOR CHALLENGE CUP-TOMORROW

Campus meets campus in the Challenge Cup to-morrow. The competition is for the purpose of choosing the best all-round athlete for the University, and the winner will be picked by a committee of former University graduates, including A. C. McCarty, chairman of the committee, and Eugene J. Stiles, a member of the committee.

Punters will compete for the Challenge Cup, which is awarded to the campus football team that has the best record.

VARITY FACES DIAMOND TO-MORROW

Playing the third Intercollegiate game to the best of the Pennsylvania Field, the varsity will meet Princeton today.

The Princetonians, who defeated Cornell last week, are expected to play a strong game this season, but the varsity is well prepared for the contest. The Princetonians have made a strong defense, but the varsity will meet the challenge with confidence.

In the game that opens the season for the varsity and Pennsylvania teams, Princeton is expected to play a strong game. The varsity will meet the challenge with confidence.

The game will be played on the campus field at 3 p.m. today.

The Athletic Association of the University has taken the initiative in proposing a plan for the reorganization of the University Council on Athletics, as authorized by the Board of Trustees at their April meeting. The plan will be considered at the meeting of the Council this afternoon. If the present student representatives put it properly before the Council, there is every reason to feel that it will be adopted.

The students have a right to be satisfied over the present system, because of insufficient size in proportion to the total number of the Council. The alumni's complaint is that they have no direct representation. The size of their representatives lies almost entirely with the Board of Directors. The Athletic Association of the University has two representatives, with an unrepresented body. By order of the by-laws, issued in printed form in 1914, the Board of Directors, which controlled the business end of the corporation, consisted of nine alumni members and eight students. Another body, known as the University Committee on Athletics, consisting of fourteen members, was charged by the athletic policy of the University to fill that position. This charge will be true as long as the student allow it to be true. There is abundant reason for the so-called "voting alumnus," and not the freedom of the country institution. Such events as the interpublication and inter-fraternity track meets and the fraternity lacrosse team all help to reprove the monotonous routine of college life, and should be encouraged for the good of Pennsylvania.

IT'S my Murad that speaks to me and comforts me—it's not the sweet music that so delights me!

Murad could not be refreshing—so delicious—if they were not made of 100% pure Turkish tobacco—the world's most famous tobacco for cigarettes.

It is true that "ordinary" cigarettes cost a trifle less.
