TODAY'S FIGHT.

Beginning with Freeman Chapel in Hourman Hall, the week is one filled with the last music of the Sophomore Ball early Saturday morning. Students of the three undergrades compete in the annual University Week. No period of time during the entire year carries such interest for the entire student body as do these five days, which are so filled with activities demanding the attention of all classes.

Probably one of the most spectacular events of the entire week is the annual Freeman-Sophomore Pants Fight, to be held on Franklin Field this afternoon. Several years ago an incident occurred in the historic Bowl Fight caused a suspension of interclass scraps for several years. Last spring they were revived, and, under a series of regulations, have been freed from the attendant evils which caused their temporary abolition.

Despite personal opinions as to the advisability of each interclass competition, there is no doubt that they are the greatest spirit developers yet produced. This is the second meeting of the present two underclasses. The first was the Push Ball contest, early in the term, when the Freshmen, through their superior numbers, overwhelmed their traditional superiors of academic rating. Today's scrap will offer much more excitement to the spectators because it pertains to the more of the nature of individual contests.

The contests, however, should not be in the nature of combat. It is regrettable that these scraps are held with a purpose, and that that purpose is not to engender hatred or malice between the opposing classes. Franklin Field this afternoon will go into the contest with the idea of settling a personal grudge or inflicting injury is not only losing sight of the purpose indeed only achievements have been in literary or social fields, these are the most "useful" men of the University. He who excels at work as well as at play merits the highest approval of his fellow-undergraduates. The Harvard Crimson.

PHILO TO ELECT OFFICERS.

Society Gives Production of Russian Play at Crowded House.

Election of Philo officers for next year will take place at a special meeting in the society rooms on Wednesday morning at 6:45. A number of temporary positions are to be filled, as well as the regular offices, and every member is urged to attend to present.

Playing before a crowded house at the Little Theatre last Saturday, the 1919 Philo dramatic cast gave an exceptionally well produced and fine production of four tableau dramas. A feature of the program was the rendering of "A Tragedian in Spite of Himself" in the Little Theatre, the parts being taken by W. Rex Crawford, 29 C. and Urban T. Holmes, 20 C.

1922 TRACK MEN TO HOLD MEET.

Will Compete with Combined High Schools Tomorrow.

Competing in their final meet of the season, the 1922 track squad will meet the combined local high schools tomorrow on Franklin Field. Coach Robinson urges the men a short workout on Franklin Field this afternoon.

Among the local school athletes are expected to be from The Central High School squad looks up as a strong combination with such men as Holley, Cullman and DeWitt, and in combination with the other teams, will offer a strong competition to the Pennsylvanians.

Yale Baseball Game Postponed.

Yale baseball received another setback in the cancellaton of the Yale game Saturday. This is the second SI contest that has been postponed, and no further arrangements for playing them have been made. Columbia is scheduled to play on Franklin Field Wednesday. The Columbia game has had a most successful season, defeating both Princeton and Cornell. Practice will be held on Franklin Field this afternoon.

Lacrosse Game Postponed.

Owing to uncertain weather conditions, the lacrosse contest with Rensselaer was called off yesterday. It was expected that the field would dry sufficiently to enable the teams to play, but after waiting several hours it was decided to cancel the game. The postponed match will probably be played on the trip which the lacrosse team makes to Syracuse the latter part of this week.
