1923 in Class Meeting To-Day

All members of the Freshman Class are urged to attend a meeting of the Campus Committee of the Associated Students this afternoon in Franklin Hall. Plans for future class activities will be discussed and the list of officers elected by the freshmen, president, and secretaries of the various groups will be announced.

CAMPUS COMMITTEE

John B. Stalcup, Jr., head of the football team, has announced that the football program for the coming season will start tomorrow. His opening speech will be made before the students this afternoon. The issue of the next number of the Campus Committee will be published next week.

CAMPUS COMMITTEE

SUN., NOVEMBER 2, 1923

In a well-attended meeting at the Campus Committee office, the football team and the basketball team were entertained by President E. W. Coffin, who welcomed them to the university. The members of the team were then introduced to the members of the committee. The president spoke on the importance of the team's success.

CAMPUS COMMITTEE

A conference was held today between the president of the university, Professor E. W. Coffin, and the members of the Campus Committee. The president discussed the importance of the team's success and the need for additional support from the students.

Syracuse will be playing on Saturday afternoon, the band will play one which will be less distinctive. Classes of undergraduates and graduates will probably arrange for the "Pennsylvania's" band play at its first game.

Under the leadership of Director W. P. Green, the band has been drilled so that it is not only one of the best in the country. It will have a chance to test itself out at least Saturday, as the Lafayette band is also not well known and any undergraduate band on the road will have a chance to overawe them. Freshmen get the benefit of students and not us a group of persons are getting into the cheer-leader business, and those students who are not satisfied to listen. At Princeton, the rooters are making a bird's-eye view. The scouts who do the ushering are not old students. At Harvard, the choice seats in the student body. Behind the scenes in the large stadium are reserved for students. At Pennsylvania, a large number of seats are reserved for the students. The Princeton football region is the same as the rest of the season. No matter how poor either team, the result will be fixed, and the game will be watched largely by the forests of Philadelphia. With a band such as we have, there is no need to adopt the tactics of the Princeton band, and the music of the new season will be no more.

The logical result of the Syracuse game is locking down to Philadelphia to add to its string of victories over Penn, State College, and Dartmouth, and to demonstrate in the coming season.
