FRESHMEN FROM PUBLIC SCHOOLS WIN HIGHEST SCORE IN INTELLIGENCE TEST

The examination of the Penn freshman class showed that the highest score in the intelligence test was obtained by a member of the freshman class from the public school system.

End of World Is Still Far Distant

Prof. E. D. Smith, head of the Department of Geography, expressed his confidence in the theory advanced by the German meteorologists regarding the end of the world. He stated that, after careful investigation, he believed that the prediction was not based on solid evidence.

The Pennsylvania announces with pleasure the election of Robert J. Earle, '22 S.S., of New Carton, Long Island, N. Y., as assistant business manager.

LOTS OF ENTERTAINMENT.

Two events of interest to the student body will be held on the University campus tonight. One is the second concert of the Philadelphia Orchestra and the other is the opening performance of the Engineers' show.

Nothing more need be said in favor of the Philadelphia Orchestra, which has already become very popular with the students through its previous concerts. The承包 ticket holders will not fail to patronize this musical event, and a large attendance is practically assured.

The Engineers' show, which begins to-night and will be produced for three nights, promises to furnish the enjoyment which comes from occasional association with men from your own part of the country. These shows perform a duty in serving Pennsylvania. This is done both partly by their very existence and the morale through the many plans which they have adopted for that end. These clubs are beneficial both to the men and to the University. Here's to their prosperity.

It is not very pleasant to speak of work during the holidays. Nevertheless, that period of trial and tribulation has already begun. The best values we know of the other theatrical productions of the campus is a sign that it is less meritorious.

Spur Cigarettes are "lengths ahead of the bunch."

Good breeding plus good handling.

That's the reason.

American and imported tobaccos. Minded so that the good, old tobacco taste is brought out to the full—

Satis, imported paper—crisp, not pasted, making a slow-burning, easier-drawing cigarette.

Smart brown and silver package that reflects the superior-quality of the Cigarette itself—

Every point is a straight tip to lay your bets on Spur. Say to the tobacconist, "Spur, 20 for 20 cents." You can't lose.

RED AND BLUE OUT TO-MORROW.

Offers $50 in Prizes for Three Short Stories Submitted.

Tomorrow the Red and Blue's fourth issue of the year will be placed in the hands of the patrons, with a novel holiday number, and will contain appropriate stories and articles. Copy for the January issue will be due January 5, and will be solely devoted to winter sports. Plans for the first annual short story contest are in the hands of the committee and will be published after Christmas.

The material has been selected to bring out the best literary talent in the University, and as an incentive prizes of $10, $6, and $4 have been offered to the three best contributions. The stories will be due with other copy for the March issue, which gives contributors two months in which to prepare. The limit to the length of a story has been placed at 1500 words.

What do you think?

Is the present strong demand for FERRO clothing because one good article will outlast two poor ones; or because, in view of the high cost of poor stuff, our own prices seem, and are, in reasonableness; or both!
