CAGE TEAM DOWNS LAFAYETTE FIVE

PLAYING an impressive defense and taking full advantage of its height advantage, the Lion Five continued its winning streak yesterday by outplaying Lafayette, 5-3, in a varsity basketball contest at the Campus Field House.

This was the third consecutive victory for the培 college team, which is off to a 6-0 start for the season and has yet to be outscored.

Lafayette, coming off a five-game winning streak, was out-rebounded, 37-26, and lapped six times in the competitive battle.

The score went 1-1 through the first half, and then the培 college team played better in the second half to roll to the victory.

Samuelson and Robbins were the high scorers for the培 college team, each with two goals, while Brackbill and DeRose added one each.

Lafayette, on the other hand, received its goals from one each of Newcomb, Higdon, and Holcomb.

With this victory, the培 college team moves up to the top of the Eastern College Athletic Conference, sharing first place with Fordham.

Lafayette, still in second place, had a good chance to reclaim the conference lead but could not match the intensity of the培 college team.

The培 college team's defense was particularly strong, holding Lafayette to only six goals, while scoring 11 themselves.

The win moves the培 college team closer to its goal of winning the conference championship and advancing to the NCAA tournament.

Lyric.—These who admire Alton Booth on the screen, and their member is legion, will have an opportunity to see this admirable young actor in action when Miss Booth comes here tonight in "Forever After." Owen Deuc's charming play of love, youth and faith. In "Forever After" Miss Booth has a role in which she is temperament, personality and that rare skill which is hers, she is eminently fitted, and in the play Mr. Davis is said to have written an unusually exciting and appealing romance. The story opens in a wilderness across the sea,swiftly to a picturesque garden in a little Vermont town, and then to the quarters of the Harvard crew on the Train, on the eve of the Harvard-Yale crew. The same characters and action continue in Vermont, where Mrs. Jociee Chatter is married, and again that themeless for a time to shelter love's growing flame, and here Miss Booth is said to demonstrate her gifts as an emotional actress. The star will be supported by James R. O'Neal, John Warner, Mrs. Bert Winfield, Penn
White, R. D. Plain, Victor
McDonald, Gustav Robin and Charlie Lear.

The Brown Brothers

THE PENNSYLVANIAN
MONDAY, JANUARY 19, 1920.

"The Brown and Silver's out in front!"

Spuir's colors—brown and silver—the colors of a sure winner! Spuir is there with that good old tobacco taste. And the "wise cuts" among cigarette smokers have gone right with Spuir from the start.

There's always room at the top and Spuir have made the grade on their merits.

Here's why:

American and imported tobaccos, blended by a near method that brings out all of that natural, good e old tobacco taste.

Easy, imported paper that is crisp, not pasted,
making a slower-burning, easier-drawing cigarette.
Spuir has the qualities to keep it the greatest cigarette for enjoyment and for price in the race today.
