RESUME REGULAR ROWING PRACTICE

During the two week examination period, regular rowing has been postponed except for the "Varsity and Freshman crews of whom men were selected voluntarily for practice. Beginning today, Coach Wright issues a call for regular practice, which will be continued until the Varsity crew, April 7. All men who signed up and went rowing the past two weeks are asked to report for practice, in order to align the crews with which they were formerly rowing.

The "Varsity crew has made most progress during the past two weeks and is now rapidly getting into shape to the potential demands this season. Stephie is temporarily curtailed from the freshman position, where he usually sits, in order to free up some space. He now seems to have obtained permanent position in the first eight. Wright moved down from the low position to No. 2, and goes back the stroke, and Allman from No. 5 to bow. This line-up will be to which the crew has been rowing for the past week in as follows: Bow, Allman; 2, Kellor; 3, Roberts; 4, Caroll; 5, Lowry, stroke; Thomas. Coach Wright has expressed from in the least three days and was unable to take part in practice Thursday and Friday. His pace was temporarily taken by Frank of the Junior Varsity. Coach Wright expects to resume the Junior "Varsity crew because of the loss of Armstrong from school and the transfer of javascript from the first eight. Some changes are also expected in the first Freshman eight. Coaches will in assigned all crews in a few days. It is expected that work on the new boat house will be completed during the week, and as soon as the locks are opened the ship will be moved from the junior boat house, ready for immediate use, and rearranged which include rows with the new set for the only crew of this season. The Calders cup race and the Annapolis boat race are to be combined on May 29. It is expected that the Junior "Varsity crew will be ready and will participate in the event and that Pennsylvania will not make the customary spring trip to Annapolis.

Shakespeare—The Groomsby. William Foulis is well launched on all he can do in the playing of the young man in this somewhat mistimed, but not uninteresting, production of the Shakespearian Theatre, and enters its second week today with what is probably the record box-office of the play. Here is a practical comedy beautifully designed for the night of laughter, yet so ingeniously in its treatment and presentation that it has an interest permanent appeal for all classes of the audience. Mr. Foulis is ably supported by a host of gifted actors, including Frances White, James Catto, Ted Lewis, Ada Perriman, A. T. Burton, Fred Hardy, Billy Dean, Mamie Stoe, Mahlon James, Grace Creed and Irene Oates, not forgetting the twenty famous actor players.
