TROPIC ISSUE OF WITS ON NEWSSTANDS TO-DAY

THERE is something about the spring that should be in the air. That is why 'Springtime, Lemonade, and Banquet Committees' will be the slogan of the Tropic when the third issue of the year is published Friday evening. The Tropic will be especially well adapted to the spring spirit. The first section will be devoted to a review of the Freshman team which won the first game of the season, and the second section will follow with a preview of the Sophomore team. Of course the third section will be devoted to the usual Tropic fare of sports, literature and society news.

Westinghouse
A Pioneer in the Stoker Field

1887

A Pioneer in the Stoker Field
Westinghouse was one of the first among the pioneers in the stoker field. Although power stations have grown to enormous size with sudden peak loads, in some instances reaching as high as 500 and 600; normal rating, the remarkable fact remains that the design of the Westinghouse-Boney Shoker permits today practically the same as it was thirty-three years ago and that it still retains its firm position in the combustion field. This is due to the simplicity of the original design. The Boney Shoker as particularly made for steady load demands with moderate overloads of 25 to 50%, and it bears a wide range of adaptability. Simple design, low first cost and ease of installation strongly recommend it for plants of modest scale. Over three million horsepower have been installed.

Industrial explosion, however, has wrought many changes in power plant equipment since 1887. Today mechanical stokers are called upon to burn everything from high-grade slack coals to refuse. They are also called upon to meet the sudden and enormous loading situations. Hence, two additional stokers were added, and our line now includes the Chain Oiler Shoker, particularly adapted to the burning of low-grade, high-ash fuels; and the Under-the- Bed Shoker, which is equipped to handle the sudden and enormous overloads of central station service with the highest degree of efficiency.

In a host of vital importance to the coal buyer that we manufacture the three central units, because whatever production should be approached with an open mind, and the stoker manufacturer should be guided in his recommendations purely by the facts that develop from a study of field and load requirements.

THE TURKISH CIGARETTE

THAT old-fashioned Turkish taste in Murad is one of its chief charms.

That old-fashionderful taste is the result of 100% pure Turkish tobacco—and when a cigarette is made of Turkish tobacco it is made of the world's most famous tobacco.

There are other cigarettes—but no others like Murad.
It is true that "ordinary"
cigarettes cost a trifle less.
