Tiger Crew Wins Triangular Race

In a spirited match on the home-stretch, the Princeton crew outdistanced Harvard and Yale to win the 2-mile boat race at the Charles river on Saturday afternoon. A hard front was brought from the start, with Harvard taking the last lane for the first 400 yards to work better for the favorable start, but the Princeton crew carried the lead.

The Harvard crew on the other hand, who w"are the favorites, were not as successful. A slow start and a strong lead at the 200-yard mark were their undoings. Finally, the Princeton crew won the race by a length and a half, with Harvard second and Yale third.
