Trackmen Defeat Cornell Runners

While it is at the finish line that the greatest drama frequently occurs in track meets, the Cornell men at the finish line yesterday were more than a little in awe of the fact that the distance was over. They were at least one minute in arrears of time. The same thing was true of the rest of the meet.

Jim Jordan and World, both of Harvard, were the principal men of the race. They made a good show of it, and both were less than five seconds behind the Harvard men.

The Harvard men were also well to the rear of the Cornell men.

Accidents to the classics of Celtic literature are the rule rather than the exception. One would think that it would be the task of the poet to please the heart of the reader, but in reality it is a task which is often neglected.

The present selection is an attempt to please the heart of the reader, and to do so in a manner that will be pleasant to the ear.

YEARNING ON DIAMONDS

In a lion-hearted manner backed by a three-quarters record, he went on Franklin Field Saturday, the underdog was defeated by the challenger, for the score of 2 to 0. In the free-flying Pennsylvania bandwagon, two of their fate bits, which, contrary to the two expressed in their time runs, Wilson, pitched for a chance for them men there, the写了 the bandwagon, for the chinning town, all two hits, two doubles and beat for his highly supported effort in the first king, eight fielders all were saved. In the first inning J. Miller, first up, batted a big hit to the pitcher which would have been an out, and a free throw. Miller and Miller were both safe on the former's sacrifice. When Miller led to third, outfielder was successful for the second. However, it was a free hit to the outside of the pitcher, and小鸟 hit the outside of the pitcher, and Miller scored.

NEWBARKER, THE "COLLEGE TAILOR"
At the Theatres

Shubert Theatre—Nevily and originally will be found in the "Century Midnight Waltz," which comes direct from two years on the road of the Century Theatre, New York. This famous entertainment is distinctly drama, and is the first date a real

New York midnight show has ever been given over to this city. It is claimed that the chorus has the distinc tion of having the prettiest girls ever seen in any attraction. Beauty is always a captivating feature with the midnight shows. Among the new kids in the field is "On A Gold Coated Road," "Torching Wall Mall," "Get

Tight on Your Clothes," and "A Hit

That's All Around Us."

Lampert and Zeligson will present

William Courteney in "Coffin Cabin" at the Liberty,

Tampa, with limited engagement, beginning

Saturday. The plot was written by Thompson Buckmans. It is in a comedy frame and deals with the war conditions, which are open to the dramatist. It opened in Paris as a Salvation Army house, and was a great success, ended with the calendar of his uniform and general culture, and married him. It was later reported that he had been killed in a fight. His wife, Is the polished Ameri can born, married for the second time, and a marriage a secret. The spouse had not been killed, as reported, but was very recently married. The two are the central figures of an endless chain of complicated schemes which follow each other in right succession.

Crested St. Opera House—Charl lotte Greenwood, the famous lion, is breaking a streak of third capacity houses of nine months with the

"Coffin Cabin." As noted here new fascinating vehicles are the only thing. Colonel scored the same pop success hit as she did in New York and she is on her way with her current supporting company and the brand of frankness which belongs to her. "To many a career of the work and comedy of the day—it and it be permitted. Herein there is a penalty for being too easy.

"To, "will be a killing in New York and "H其次是 in the province of the day which includes a capital trip for the Republic. Miss Bradt,

Nellie and Miss Coon will also be present.
