C.A. OUTLINES YEAR'S POLICY

Work of Christian Association Among Students at University During Year Explained

ARRANGES EXTENSIVE PROGRAM

Perhaps one of the first organizations with which the freshman comes into contact upon reaching the campus is the Christian Association. In this way, many of the men, even before obtaining a glimpse of the University have received the Association’s welcome to Pennsylvania at the Green Lane Camp. Throughout the year, the Christian Association strives not only to furnish clean, wholesome amusement, but to instill in the minds of the students a deeper regard for the higher things in life.

The activities of the Association are many and varied. Hundreds of men have been aided in their University course by contact advice and prayerful assistance. The International Student House, where social functions are held every Friday evening in the year, is owned and operated by the Association. At the University Settlement Building, a free legal and medical service is offered and conducted by the Association, there are the Association: Preachers, Civics, Debating, Rivalry debate, and the various discussion groups, while more than 150 educational religious meetings are held throughout the school year. This year the C.A. is continuing to do more than double its program of last year.

PENNSYLVANIA GAZETTE MILLION DOLLAR ENTERPRISE

In an editorial in the Pennsylvania Gazette, the first number of which was released Saturday, Edward H. Hudnut, W.W. W., editor, noted that there is much pride to be taken in the Pennsylvania Gazette, the C.A. Hudnut states that he ‘‘has no new men more wrecked by early death and early accidents from pre-cancerous conditions than the men who are the children of the Association.” He expresses the hope that the leader of the men in the Association is not only superior to those in the same class of the Association, but that those who come under its influence are much better able to withstand the influence of the world.” A complete account of the work and the success of the Association is printed in the Gazette, and in this article, the organization’s success in extending its influence is given. A complete account of the events of the past year is printed and the editor’s opinion of the success of the organization is given. The magazine is distributed to students at the various universities in the country.

WOOD EXPECTED BY SECOND TERM

Re-organization Campaign in Philippines
Will be Completed in Time to Return by January.

PLANS MADE FOR INAUGURATION

One of the important topics among Pennsylvania men continues to be the inauguration of General Wood as President of the University. The date of his arrival has been the subject of some controversy, owing to the mysterious silence on the matter, and lack of any at all.

On August 17, 1922, the University Trustees granted General Wood's request for a year's leave of absence leading him "from obligation to report to the University for service before September 1st, 1922," with the assumption "that you will assume office at that date." This was acknowledged and accepted by General Wood.

On May 17, 1922, General Wood replied, "I consent to reach Philadelphia, September 1st, 1922, without inviting me to offer any vital features of the program of reorganization and, I therefore believe, will be able to serve the University in a brief extension of his cooperation. The delay required will not be at least six months, or by January 1st, and is of vital importance in completing the re-or ganization program here." It is now freely understood that General Wood will assume his duties January 1st in accordance with these requests for extension of leave.

General Wood went to the Philippines at the request of the President of the United States, with great valour and with the intention to remain only for the period necessary to make the report called for from the Special Mission. He soon discovered, however, that he went thru the Islands, that a condition existed there which affected not only our interests but American interests, but American interests, and the interests and welfare of the eleven million there are there as well.

This important outpost in the Far East involves our own reputation for SERVICE in the matter of handling the affairs of our dependents, and the situation created such a call for service that could not be ignored. General Wood felt that he had not expressed a willingness to serve under these conditions and with the earned request of the President of the United States, that he could not leave his post of service to the people of home.

Both the natives and the American residents of the Philippines gave Gen-ereal Wood their confidence and support, and he was able to do so in a very extensive extent to advance the financial and com-nunity reorganization. Thus from the record of the matter to date we may with some assurance expect General Wood at the University the first part of the new year, in time to be inaugurated as Protestant before the second term begins.

This is your edition of the Penn and its culmination. Once before we have said that it is unwise to advise freshmen. So before you are here long enough to get wise to us, we are going to give you a few pointers. Hence this special edition for freshmen.

The first thing that you must be on the lookout for is your various courses you are taking. Along this line we can talk only of your various courses that take up the Wharton freshmen's time. We will attempt to tell you what they amount to and what advantages can be derived from them. Here is what we learned when we were freshmen.

BUSINESS LAW

This course teaches you that it doesn't make a great deal of difference what you do as long as you have a great deal of money. Once you prove that you agree with the Court of Law, you will probably become a better lawyer.

POLITICAL SCIENCE

This course is one dealing with constitutional problems entirely. If you have a strong constitution and can stand some of the more rigorous work, this course will be just what you need. It will make you appear collegiate.

ACCOUNTING

In this course they try to make you believe that what you gain in one course you lose in the next. Then they make you believe that you are going to sea in some distant foreign land.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Here are the sports. You will try to make your weight produce hard and you will close with your roommate. You will prove to them that you are not informed what happens if you stay late.

Why not find out now the vocation which will bring you the most success and happiness and then choose courses which will fit you for it.

OUR ANALYSIS

Based upon forty years of study of thousands of faces and all the vocations, will give you this information.
