SOPHOMORES TO ASSEMBLE TODAY

Chapel Exercises under New Regulation

As to the Penn-Columbia game

HAR 11:10.

"POST" MILLER WILL GIVE TALK

Chapel today will be attended by the Sophomore Class, in accordance with a regulation made by the Undergraduate Council and the President's office several days ago. All members of the class are expected to be present, as the attention of those who do not account for their absence will be reported in the Office of the Vice-President.

The Assembly will be held in Wheaton Hall from 1:10 to 1:45 P.M. The idea of abolishing the Monday morning assembly and, instead, having such meetings weekly and, in addition, having the students who have been absent, was inaugurated recently for the purpose of increasing a student's degree of class spirit. This is one of the few classes who meet together, and its members are expected to be present at the time of the Assembly.

The program will consist of talks by the President, the Sophomore President, and the Undergraduate Council, followed by a roll call of University students. Each of the classes who are present will present songs, including such songs as "Fight on Penn," "Oyez," and "Pitt."

SOPHOMORES TO CHAPEL EXERCISES UNDER NEW REGULATION

With the Sophomore Class in attendance, the Sophomore Class, in accordance with a new regulation authorized by the Undergraduate Council, will hold its assembly. The purpose of the assembly is to stimulate a higher degree of class spirit and to show the dues receipt before the vote. The assembly will be held on Monday at 1:10 P.M. in Wheaton Hall. All members of the class are expected to be present.

RALLY IN QUAD WILL INSPIRE TEAM TO "SKIN THE PANTHER"

"Vince" Stevenson and Jack Minds, Sophomore and Junior Gridiron Heroes, to Speak Tonight.

PARADE STARTS FROM QUAD AT 7.

Pennsylvania spirit, the fiery kind that inspired the Red and Blue to soar to great heights and make the Navy, will be kindled anew at the Rally in the Big Green tonight. Similar to the Rally which "skinned the Navy," the undergraduate parade will be under the command of the Big Green at 6:45 o'clock. Preparations for "skinning the Panther" will be laid, and the actual performance will take place on Franklin Field under the direction of "Vince" Stevenson.

Although the details of the parade have not been finalized, it is known that the parade will start at the Big Green and will proceed to the University. The parade will include floats and marching bands, and will be a fitting prelude to the big game on Saturday.

OPPONENTS EXPECT 11-1-1 RECORD

The Penn-Columbia game will feature an interesting match-up. The Pennsylvanians, led by a strong team of sophomores and juniors, will face a Columbia team that has shown signs of improvement in recent games. The game is scheduled for Sunday at 2:00 P.M. at Franklin Field.

For the benefit of our readers who have not attended the Penn-Columbia game, here is a brief rundown of the current standings:

Pennsylvania:
- Record: 11-1-1
- Last Game: Won vs. Harvard
- Team Strength: Good offensive and defensive play
- Key Players: "Vince" Stevenson, Jack Minds, and others

Columbia:
- Record: 6-4-1
- Last Game: Lost vs. Yale
- Team Strength: Balanced offense and strong defense
- Key Players: Bill McDonald, Henry McGinnis, and others

The game promises to be a thriller, with both teams eager to prove themselves on the field of battle.

ELEANOR GILMOUR, Former Club-Swinging Champion, only Member of 1922 Squad Meeting

LONG PROVES ASSET TO SQUAD

Prospects for this year's Open Team are very promising, with every man of last year's team back except Arthur Gilmore, '93-'22 Captain. The helpline in progressive plans, but has not been completely set, and several members have not been heard from about pending meets. However, the opening meeting will more than likely be seen against Navy, who were the intercollegiate champions last year.

Gilmore was the intercollegiate champion on the club swinging event, but on the authorities have struck this competition out of the intercollegiate Pennsylvania will not have to develop a new team to take this place. After a lifetime of three years, will be the first and other representatives on the horizontal bar, while Creswell and McHenry will handle the rings and parallel bars respectively.

Long, the former captain of the Hav- enford College team, is also one of the few men on the University squad. He placed in several events at the Inter- collegiate, and with his ability to per- form, in our event on the program, will naturally enhance the chances of the team coming through with a successful season. Long was unable to compete with the first team last year, owing to the one year residence ruling.

Performing on the base will be taken care of by Captain Hunter and Wilson, while Novembre will be seen in the throwing events. In addition to the above mentioned men, a wealth of material has been talked about by the members of the football team, as well as the questions of who will be the coach for this season is definitely settled, the team will start preparing for the Navy meet.

ERNEST R. BALL, COMPOSER.

ENTERTAINS FOOTBALL TEAM

From the position of "Mother Marce" and other songs, congratulated the members of the football team and the coaches with songs and music selections in the training house meeting. Mr. Ball is travelling with the football team at present. He was unnaturally elated.

To show their appreciation the placees sang the Pennsylvanians songs at Mr. Ball's request. Many of the men have excellent voices, and the songs should be to the University songs was well executed.

Coach Nelson expressed his pleas- ures at the entertainment and thanked the members of the football team. All of the songs rendered by Mr. Ball were composed by him.

POUNCE ON PITT

Pittsbughers have been accustomed to watching their own fortunes end for a good many years. There is going to be quite a variation tomorrow when a certain group of Pittsbughers are going "TO WATCH OUR SMOKES".

Judging by the signs exhibited in the dormitories it is evident that the residents there are not from Allegheny County.

WHY WE LOST THE PENN GAME

BY L. N. Miller Athletic Editor

(Penn is the name of the Academy)

Penn had more spirit in two minutes last Saturday that Navy ever had. That's what cost the game. They were there with all the lights in the world, they were confident of victory, they talked victory and they got victory. Our team was twice as good as Penns. We gained twice as many yards, we outpassed them and we outscored them. But the light was not in our team. The spirit which should have been instilled in them before they left the Naval Academy was lacking. They were helped against the greats.

Penn had been preparing for Navy for weeks. Painters, cartoons, and signs were all over the district. Every night last week the student body held size footbeats and rallies. The confidence in their team and that is what won that football game.

If you claimed to be in Philly the night before the game you were at once struck by the amount of enthusiasm that the Red and Blue supporters had. You could ask any one of them and the inevitable answer was that Penn was bound to win. Then, despite the fact that Navy was a two-to-one favorite. They felt satisfied themselves and they con

Unless the Regiment comes through with the real stuff.

The Christian origin of the Association's Employment Bureau was the crying need for work which became more and more evident as the University increased in size. Through realizing their need for work the position adequately to cope with the situations they encountered in their program of service. In order to keep alignt with the great national movement for the expansion of the employment branch of their work formerly it had been included under the classification of the club work. As a result a third of the men who have applied for jobs are receiving employment through our bureau.

An index to the vastness of the employment problem is the number of positions which as it has barely been touched upon by the Association. It is safe to say that a third of the nation's men are looking for work for the reasons of the University's bureau. Men who have striven in the University Employment Bureau with an adequate basis to seek a solution for the problem on a systematic basis. Three times as many men could receive help and assist and could be connected with the many employers who each year make earnest attempts to recruit college students. The University bureau in realizado Pennsylvania will be equipped to perform a definite service for the student and the employer and also to itself as well.

CHRONICLE MEN

START FOR BIG MEET

Tonight the Varsity cross country team leaves for New York City to compete by the quadrangular meet against Columbia, Cornell and Dartmouth.

The race is scheduled for the Overland Park course tomorrow, and will consist of running over the course twice, making a distance of six miles.

The chances of Pennsylvanias winning the race are unusually good, as Cornell is not up to the usual Harvard standard, which was shown in the final meet against M. I. T. Columbia seems to be the biggest competitor for the Red and Blue collar, with Higgins, the intercollegiate two-mile champion, and Moore in the start.

Nine men will take the trip, of whom eight are expected to run. Homer Mc-Lane, Head, Kerr and Fisher are the mainstays of the Pennsylvania aggregation, and it is expected that these stars will lead the field at the finish. Peach, Bates, Pfeifer, Cannon and Van Lines are the remaining men who will run.

cision that Langdon will start at quarterback tomorrow, as Craig has not had the experience at the post that the for-nor has. Popovitch was out in bugs, but all reports notwithstanding, will not start against the Panthers tomorrow. The turn ignorant in his knee has not needed sufficiently to warrant his tak-

Final Heats of Fall Regatta Held

Rowing the half mile course, in front of the best houses, in four minutes and thirty seconds, Crew No. 2 won the fall regatta championships yesterday afternoon. This victory comes in these curves as the result of careful training and daily workouts on the river for the past three weeks.

After the presentation of the medals by Manager Barry, Coach Wright congratulated the men on their victory, and expressed his desire that they would continue with energy in the spring. Crew No. 2 was coxed by Winger and made up of Scott, stroke; Rumph, 7; Carpenter, 6; Garwood, 5; Woodruff, 3; Gunther, 1; Ly- on, 2; Nalfe, 7; and stesso, bow.

Yesterday's event ends rowing until January 8, when indoor practice will begin in the new rowing room under the north stand of the stadium. All men are urged to remove their clothes from the lockers at once. The boat house will be open for the remainder of the week to enable everyone to comply with this request.

Dribblers in Last WORKOUT THIS WEEK

Inasmuch as practice will not be resumed until next Monday, Coach McNichol put his Red and Blue dribblers through a two-hour workout last night. The first part of the drill was devoted to a short series of scrimmages followed by the usual routine exercises. The remainder of the time was occupied in the laying down of the rudiments of Pennsylvania's defensive play. Despite the fact the squad has already been cut, it is comparatively small size will cause the coaches to welcome new players up until the week before the start of the season. Hilhur, experiences on the part of the player has been expected, but this year McNichol has been hitting his men in the very fundamentals of the game. Consequently the candidates who received the benefit of this instruction, will know the Pennsylvanian system of play from the ground up.

The Red and Blue mentor is positive only on the book-end for a fast, easy man to fill Green's place at center. For the past two years, this position has been McNichol's least source of worry, and none which has required few exhibitions. The graduation of the lucky pivot man, however, has been keenly felt, and the Vantrask coach is beginning early to develop material for the position.

Football Rough in 1922

In 1922, according to a manuscript of that year, football was a "bloody, mauling practice rather than a friendly fight," and the player was making his adversary to "throw him on the line, even though it be on hard stones". The Sunday Transcript reports part of the writing to show the contrast with modern football because of contact on the shoulder of today's grid-iron.

Must Have Permit to Dance

All students at Oce College, Iowa, boys desirous of a dance, must have permits signed by the faculty. The policy of the College is to discourage dancing in every possible way.

Tech Will Have New Head

Massachusetts Institute of Technology will have Dr. W. R. Stratton, Director of the Bureau of Standards of the Treasury Department, as its president after January 1, 1923. An executive committee headed by Dean Talbot is in charge of the Institute at the present time.

Confidence

SILVER buyers have confidence in the name "Sterling." It is a guarantee of quality.

A long-standing reputation for excellence has established the name beyond question.

Less than a decade ago SUPPLEE ICE CREAM made its bow to Philadelphia. Today the name SUPPLEE is accepted as an assurance of utmost quality.

This most conservative of American cities has confidence in SUPPLEE ICE CREAM.
