HOLDS SECRET PRACTICE DRILL

No Signals Called During Formations in Final Workout on Franklin Field Yesterday

PANTHERS PRIZED FOR CONTENT

"We have a good, fighting bunch, but we can't be too hard on the team that did the job. The young Panthers and Warner when interviewed last night. He refused to say much beyond assuring fans that the Panthers would hold a secret practice to hold their final workouts preparatory to the Navy game. The secret practice was held behind closed gates and consisted mainly of a general warm-up, with a few bits of practice as a sort of plays without situ-tions. During the afternoon Warner un-consciously put several of his leading backsmen up more close to the right of the line, but the other half-backers were kept well back and in three limners on the left deep back. The best that the Red and Blue has been of the seven games played since 1915.

"A team that won't be beat, can't be beat."

With these fighting words still ringing in their ears, the Pennsylvania eleven goes into battle today with the same eagle spirit which brought victory yesterday. Not a man of the 30 Churchmen is in the numbers of the tally last night but that will not prevent our men from "Punting the Panther" today. The men feel that their opportunity to send their warriors into battle with a fighting reception and make them "re-examining "pat on the back," the student body will not be left out. The leaders of the Philadelphia Cricket Club, the University of Pennsylvania, and the men from Pittsburg. "It is anybody's game."

The game being on the same Captain Hollerman said. "We have a great team and we know it. We are going to show them up and we expect a very clean battle. The defeat by Alabama, a good team, has done more good than harm. It will make them fight more and be more determined. We are the logical leaders of the amateurs and I feel sure of the final result."

Although Pitt has lost two of its games, it will be a fight. The other to Wash-ington and the two last week swapped 63 to 0, this team having prev-ioulsy held Washington and Jefferson 13 to 11 to 10 score. The team has gradually been developing into a fighting unit and its line-up and backfield are more powerful. The probable winner of the Intercolleg-iate meet. The polls for the primary elections, will be held from 10 to 5 o'clock.

CROSS COUNTRY MEET MAY DECIDE CHAMPION

The polls for the primary elections, will be held from 10 to 5 o'clock.

Upon the outcome of the quadrangle cross country race, to be held today on the three mile Van Courlander Park course may be based a forecast as to the probable winner of the Intercollegi-ate meet. Columbia, Cornell, Dartmouth and Pennsylvania will line up before the start at 11 o'clock and this is the most formidable game of the season. The course will cover the course twice, totaling a distance of six miles. The Red and Blue aggregate left for the New York race with a winning record in the party. Captain Haas, McCandless, Kerr, Bush, Parker, Chalmers, Peirce and Van Dine are the representatives, with Captains Black and Eyer leading the aggregate. Captain Robert L. Hunter has not decided on his final program but promises a tremendous effort when he address-es the polls. Forget the Brother, and all determination to win. This is the critical game of the season, and it will bring the tour of the year to an early finish for the Pennsylvanian. But I'm confident of their ability to finish the season on top, although it's going to be an awful fight.

The results of Wednesday's and Thursday's matches were made public late yesterday afternoon. Wednesday's contest was a thrilling game. The first half was described by many as the finest exhibition of football ever seen in this city. The second half was even more exciting. The final score was 12-6 in favor of the home team. The away team put up a brave fight, but could not overcome the superior skill of the home team. The two teams will meet again next week in a key match that will determine the championship of the city.

The visitors' offense was led by its star player, Jack Thompson, who scored the first goal of the game. The home team's defense, led by Captain Williams, was able to keep the visitors at bay for the majority of the game. The crowd was on its feet cheering for the home team throughout the game. The game ended with a final score of 12-6. The home team will take on another team this weekend in what promises to be another exciting match.

A Congenial Place To Eat

The atmosphere of our Club Rooms will make you feel at home
The sectional rules are usually among the most active groups in the University during the earlier part of the year, and accomplish much in alleviating the vacuum-like homeliness which attends all new arrivals. And, not only do they now concern itself with the confines of its special groups in connection with their own, but these clubs also can stimulate an important medium through which the University can reach prospective students.

Pleasure and service, then, together form the keynotes of the work of the organizations which the sectional clubs have erected in past years. Results have been harvested from these organizations, which cannot be disregarded without loss. This year, however, the necessary organization of these clubs has not taken place, a lamentable situation. Thus it is a timely appeal to all the sectional clubs. Their leaders should shape this thoughtless sequence by an early reorganization, and the new materialists as well as opportunist should spend lavishly to the first call.

The Eighth Battle

For seven successive years have Pennsylvanians and Pitts hard bargained a bitter grizzled warfare. And for six of those years, the Feather of Pitt has emerged from the encounter victorious. The best a Red and Blue team has done date to hold their foes to a tie in 1919.

This year, the title maybe ours.

Pennsylvania can afford no longer to be in default before her rival. All the arts and fight that can be mastered must be thrown into the balance. We must beat Pitt.

Today's opportunity is a golden one. The Feather is no longer the formidable beast that has preyed on the Red and Blue for the past ten years. This team of 1922 is tossed about by the present. Nevertheless, it is still a beast to be feared. A veteran team composed of Grover Beaver must now be reckoned with always.

But we have seen the Red and Blue football machine in action with all its fight and power. We can't be outdone, that the king of football, our State, the wolverine. Carroll stevens, can stop it when it loses the full blast of its attack. A fighting Pennsylvania eleven beheaded by a fighting Pennsylvania clearing section can never be deflected.

The afternoon "Penn" Miller and his teammates will be giving their best to Pennsylvanians. Can we afford to give them up?

Remember PENNSYLVANIA MUST BEAT PITT!

Fighting Every Minute

Our team—this Red and Blue aggregation of which we are so proud—will set out on Franklin Field this afternoon as it has to do to the. We, who matters body, sit up in the stands. How are we going to do our part in attaining victory to Pennsylvanias honor?

Each and every one of us is not less a spectacle than the Varsity squad. Although we do not wear uniforms, we are a part of the machine. It is our duty to examine every minute and every second that keeps the men down on the football field. When they are here, and needs must stop for the moment, it is our encouragement that lifts them to fight on, fight on. When the team is standing in the shadow of its goalposts, we are to stand up and fight behind them. We must cheer then until we can cheer no longer for they are giving their all to stem the advancing tide. Cheering, cheering, every moment!—can't let up.

When we cheer that we can cheer so we that our throat muscles are ached, but we reach the teams on the field—how much more the players are. We must grit our teeth and lay all thoughts of self aside. Remember that it is an honor for the team that is playing football, but the University, Pennsylvania football is deadly combat.

We in the stands must inspire the thoughts of our team. We must think of only our team. We must watch every yard that the ball travels and dig and then fight back to victory. A bowling, fighting, screaming crowd in the stands today means victory. A bunch of scream, cold-blooded students, too silly to do anything but sit and watch, nearly defeats.
