Two teams of fighters will be face to face when Pennsylvania meets Cornell at Yard this afternoon is one of the most important Intercollegiate Soccer League games of the season. Both the Red and Blue and the Big Red boxers have displayed an indomitable spirit in coming through their seasons without suffering a reverse.

The untimely deaths of the opposing teams exhibit no bases on which predictions can be made. Cornell has a trio of stars in Miller, on valve, and Pringle and played the rest of the game. Pennsyl-

DANCE CONCLUDES PROGRAM

George Sullivan, University field hockey player, is selected as

George Sullivan, a well known speaker, is selected as the guest speaker at the Princeton University Dance, held at the Orange Hall, held in conjunction with the Varsity, last night. The Dance was well attended and was opened by an address by Mr. Sullivan, who was introduced by Mr. E. H. L. Heil, the President of the Publicity Board. The program consisted of a variety of dances, including the "Twist the Lib's Tail" and "The Beautiful Ballerina."

CONTINUE DANCES AT INTERNATIONAL HOUSE

This evening the International House will be the scene of a dance given by the Freshman Class. The dance has been announced, and no effort is being made to please a number of different groups. All undergraduates are invited to participate in the festivities, which are being held to take care of a large crowd. There will be dancing all night and a plan to bring in the representatives of more than forty for-

JUNIORS ATTEND CLASS ASSEMBLY

Third Year Men Hear Interesting Talks
At Session Held in Weightman Hall Yesterday

GOOD SPORTSMANSHIP URGED

The first Junior Assembly was held yesterday in Weightman Hall. Addresses were made by Acting President Prince, Ernest Coover, Graduate Manager of Athletics, and Malcolm Williams, Class President. Several Pennsylvanians songs were sung and cheers practiced.

President Williams was the first speaker on the program. He urged still greater attendance at assemblies, better spirit in the stands and united support of Junior Week. Mr. Coover urged absolute good sportsmanship at the games, as well as the elimination of "politics" from campus politics.

Dr. Penniman spoke on "Pennsylvanians and Their History." He called attention to the fact that the University Museum was the only one in the world asked by the British Museum to join it in unrolling some of the wonders of Mesoamerican.

The English organization is recognized as having the world's largest collection of curts. It continuously supports several expeditions which search the most secluded corners of the earth for ancient curts.

The Acting President also pointed out how the University and numbers of its faculties had aided the progress of science. Crawford Long, a former professor in the Medical School, was the first to introduce the use of ether as an anesthetic. In the manner, former President Edgar F. Smith contributed to electrical progress by perfecting the purification of the filament tungsten in incandescent lamps.

TWO MATCHES SCHEDULED ON TODAY'S GOLF TOURNAMENT CARD

Match play in the Fall Golf Tournam ent was continued at full speed yesterday afternoon with every effort being made to bring the competition to an early termination. Five dual matches were shot over the 18 hole Cedar Creek course.

Today's pairings are as follows: H. R. Moultrie, '28W, vs. J. A. Hunzheimer, '28W; B. Wilcox, '28W, vs. J. F. Mitchell, '28W. There will be no play tomorrow, but matches will be resumed as usual on Monday.

JUNIOR VARSITY SOCCERISTS
LINE UP AGAINST MIDDLEFIELD

Raiders from the Menlofield Field Club will be the guests of the Junior Varsity soccer team on River Field this afternoon. The Menlofield team, although from New Jersey, is a companion in the first division of the Cricket Club League. They will meet a lot of opposition, however, for the membership of the University Junior has improved a great deal recently.

Wilmington, Delaware, will be the scene of one of the hardest games on the freshman schedule. The first-year men will meet the Wilmington Friends School team, who have thus far established an enviable record. Constant practice has developed the raiding into a team with an impregnable defense and a powerful offense which will give considerable trouble to any opponent.

Members of the third team will be unable to attend the football games as no context has been scheduled for them. After last week's decisive victory they have strengthened their line from end to end in preparation for the closing games of the season.

Measurers Club Will Meet

The West Virginia Measurers Club will hold its first meeting of the year Monday in Houston Hall at 7 o'clock. Plans for the year will be discussed and new officers will be elected. All members are urged to attend.

Brush Elected Grid Captain

Fred E. Bruce, '23E, of N. Y., was elected captain of the Hamilton College football team for the season of 1922. He played tackle for the past two years.

The Pennsylvania

The Deciding Factor

The success or failure of Pennsylvania's football season in the balance today. Victory for the Red and Blue and Penn's success stand forth as one of the best in history. Defeat, and our claims to greatness fall unsupported. Today's struggle is crucial.

Pennsylvania Must Triumph

The contest will be a desperate one. The teams are evenly matched. Records this year are virtually equal. Spirit alone is the unknown, decisive factor.

Penn State turned out on mass to send off the Nittany Lions in fighting mood. Hundreds of Penn State men are now hastening to the field of battle. The big State team is confident, determined. Behind it is a string of victories marred by but one defeat. Today is its opportunity to avenge that loss. Can Pennsylvania spirit turn back its attack?

The answer will come clearly in today's rally. Let us cheer on Black and Gold with the cheering of ten thousand men. Let us send that Red and Blue team on as Franklin Field affre with light. And then let us gather in the stands and cheer, cheer, cheer.

Band Concert

Every Saturday afternoon during the football season and on various other occasions throughout the year the University Band locally supports our Alma Mater. It has earned for Pennsylvania an enviable reputation in this field. Football more, all this service is absolutely gratuitous; even ground could be denied the members this year. We are behind no other institutions in rewarding such an important part of our student life.

Tonight Pennsylvania is given a chance to atone for this neglect, for the band is sponsoring a concertarea in Wheatman Hall. The proceeds will be used to defray expenses incurred in preparation for the band on even greater expansions in the future than has been the past. Undergraduates are afforded the opportunity of hearing excellent marches and overtures, followed by dancing and, at the same time, of assuring a worthy student activity.

fray. If he does, watch a great defensive back and line plunger spring a surprise. Penn State, being only 4-0, will get directed against McCrory, the new right tackle. Even if McCrory gets a step on Hull from tackle to tackle is all but penniless. Hull is the Pennsylvania’s favorite soft tackle plan. He pulls for any logo and finds it difficult on one tackle berth. The blaster have six inches of height and break strength enough to “This-KEH-KEE-N, which, again, as the other tackle looks almost heavy.

Practically all the players are ready from the conference. Pennsylvania’s players must give all they can. The team to defeat here today," remarked Coach McNamara, when questioned by the photographers about the outlook of the Red and Blue in today’s game. "How the team will perform that is one of the greatest defensive teams in the history of the Big Ten. Pennsylvania has no one to use for a victory, and all the way for the game. J. Kenneth, who scored Penn State at the State Capitolest estimates that the team taking advantage of a victory will win. Also, he believes that the team receiving the first touchdown can win. Hull is liable to be caught with a wish. The West is likely to be the center man. Half delay caused by examinations and inclement weather the series is gradual; drawing to plant where there have been three remaining victims in the fray.

During the last meeting of the Big Six, the conquerors of Smith, eliminated E. W. Smith, Willard, but another player, White, missed a victory over Thorpe (Pest, came through on the end of the series against Mead and Wood.

The remaining teams are to draw for positions in the final round. One of these teams will draw a low thereby ensuring them of the championship without further competition.

The two remaining teams are to draw for the position in the semi-final round, and the winner of this game will compete in the final round in order to have the week prior to the Cornell game free from Dorm Ath.

Penn State University students are now selected for the Dorm Ath. tournaments, and the group of men has selected the idea.
