ASSISTANT EDITORIAL COMMENT

A meeting of the candidates for the Fairfield and白沙 teams will be held at seven o'clock in the evening room of the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity. At this time Dr. Carre, head coach and assistant, will deliver an address to the members of the teams and their friends. The candidates will then have an opportunity to meet the head coach and to discuss the future of the teams. It is hoped that the candidates will attend the meeting, as it is believed that the team will be successful on the diamond.

The schedule for the teams is as follows:

Fairfield:
- Monday: Practice at six o'clock.
- Tuesday: Meet the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity at seven o'clock.
- Wednesday: Practice at six o'clock.
- Thursday: Meet the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity at seven o'clock.
- Friday: Practice at six o'clock.
- Saturday: Meet the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity at seven o'clock.

白沙:
- Monday: Practice at six o'clock.
- Tuesday: Meet the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity at seven o'clock.
- Wednesday: Practice at six o'clock.
- Thursday: Meet the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity at seven o'clock.
- Friday: Practice at six o'clock.
- Saturday: Meet the Alpha Sigma Phi fraternity at seven o'clock.

It is hoped that the candidates will be present at the meeting, as it is believed that the team will be successful on the diamond.

International Work Discussed at Dinner

Houston Hall was the scene of a dinner attended by many foreign students last night. The affair was arranged by the International Students' House committee as a welcome to the Foreign Students' Association of the Y. M. C. A. Several countries were represented at the function which was opened with a few words by Herman Heitlinger, 23W.

Dr. Charles Hurley, the International Secretary of the Y. M. C. A., was the principal speaker. He described his experiences during the Chinese revolution last May. He also congratulated Penn students on having the first student committee on foreign work, and mentioned that the University has men from more countries than Oxford has. Fifty-five countries are represented here compared with thirty-four at the English University. Dr. Hurley stressed the importance of foreign students in international politics, showing how it tends to bring about a better understanding among the nations of the world.

Elmer C. Ling, Motorc Yenashii, Director of Physical and Fraternity Rivals who are all students here, told the gathering what it means to them to be Pennsylvanians. They described conditions which exist in their own countries and stated that they had come here to study to improve their ideas on international subjects.

ENGINEERING ASSOCIATION PLANS ATTRACTIVE SMOKER

Endeavoring to arouse interest in its show, the Engineering Association will give a smoker tonight at 8 o'clock in the Engineering Building. At this time a motion picture depicting the manufacture of eight cylinder motor cars will be shown. The program will be explained by Mr. L. Hare of the Nash Motor Company through whom the pictures were obtained.

Several dances and songs from this year's show will be given by members of the chorus. President Humphries of the Tetico School Alumni Association will address the men regarding the coming alumni night.

Preparations for the play and dance are nearing completion, and the committee in charge has been instructed to spare nothing that will make this affair more successful. One of the features of each year's show is the unique scenery constructed by the members of the club.

BURHOLME CLUB TO ENGAGE UNIVERSITY CHESS PLAYERS

Burholme Chess Club of Phil Chase will be played by the University Club next night in a ten board tournament. Indications are that the following men will represent the University: H. Breuning, P. Cascaile, L. Zebal, J. Harper, J. Petty, L. Cooper, B. Lewis, H. Jenkins, A. Parsons and R. Brown.

Mercurial Club will be played on December 11 at Princeton on December 16. Pennsylvania's strength was shown in a game with Cornell last Thursday when the University team emerged victorious by a 4 to 1 to 1 1 2 score.

According to members of the Franklin Chess Club of this city, which the University played recently, Pennsylvania has an excellent opportunity to win first place in the Intercollegiates. They will be played during the holidays.

PROFESSOR OF SOCIOLOGY DELIVERS PUBLIC LECTURE

James P. Lichtenecken, Ph.D., professor of Sociology at the Wharton School, delivered a short talk yesterday afternoon in Houston Hall. The subject of this lecture was, "Civilization Self-Destructive?" He talked both around these main points, on which he elaborated. His first topic pertained to material culture in which he said that so nations are able to educate itself and survive. His second point was that a sign of national vitality is population has always been a high birth rate and as his last point he said that the tools with which man worked have been designed by science.

Saturday morning at eleven in the Hy- gnia Laboratory, Professor H. Cuthbert, Head of the Department of Physiology in the University will deliver the next public lecture. His subject will be "The Relation Between Food and Bodily Development."

JUNIORS REPORT

Chairman Daily's Statement Shows That Third Year Does Break All
Previous Records

CLASS SHOWS REMARKABLE SPIRIT

In making a tentative statement in regard to Junior Week, J. M. Daily reports that the Third Year activities were a financial as well as a social success. A complete report is tentatively foreseen
for later.

Chairman Daily also explains that the Junior Banquet was run as a slight loss
due to the fact that the 1923 Annals were distributed to all those who attended the affair. The Stukey as was expected proved to be a liability.

Although the expenses of the Prom were very high, the enthusiasm of the students in regard to the third year
was so marked that the affair alone paid for itself and covered the decencies of the governance. Besides there was a city sun left over with which it is expected to pay off most of the class debt.

In concluding his statement Chairman
Daily remarked: "The Juniors deserve no impressive commendation for backing up the class in such a spirited manner. Their attendance at all the functions was indeed very inspiring." Last week's festiv-ties practically out did the 1924 activities
until next spring when the Junior style
will be held.

C'EST LA GUERRE CLUB WILL ELECT OFFICERS AT MEETING

Members of the C'est La Guerre Club will meet at 7:30 tonight in Houston Hall
to elect officers.

The following men have been nominated for President: Sullivan, Brynn, Brown and Schriver; for 1st Vice-President, Rhodes, Koever, and Mallow; for 2nd Vice-President, Sumner and Mathis; for Secretary, Henry, Henderson, and Bales; for Treasurer, Wonda, Drennan, A. S., Smith
and Melin; for Publicity Chairman, Chamberlin, Barrett, and Grey. An executive committee of five will also be chosen.

Besides the election, the men will be addressed by Mr. Anschutz who is a United States official appointed to act as coordinator between the war veterans
and the government. Mr. Anschutz's position enables him to provide a direct channel to the government authorities
for any complaints or appeals from men at Pennsylvania, who were injured in the service. Due to a recent Illness, this is the first opportunity he has had to address the organization.

R. L. Heineman, the president of the club,
expressed the hope that the ex-
thesis which was shown at the first meeting will continue. All men who have not yet joined the club are urged to attend tonight and meet their brothers.

LIBRARY RECEIVES UNUSUAL
HISTORY OF PENNSYLVANIA

One of the recent additions to the University Library is an unusual volume entitled "History of Pennsylvania," subtitled
"A Legacy From the Past." The book itself is very large, and bound with decorations to imitate an ancient manuscript. This valuable book was presented to the University by Mr. Effingham B. Mor-tle, a trustee for 10 years. He has also promised the library with a page from the Gutenberg Bible, the first book ever printed.

PHILO'S SECOND YEAR MEN PREPARE A NOVEL PROGRAM

For the first time since its organization, the Philomelian society will be treated to a program arranged entirely by members of a single class. To the 25 men of the society belongs the honor of their first public program, and they have selected the following addresses for the occasion:

"Rhymed Review" by Horace Levermore; "Modern Shop Talk" by William E. Canfield; "Patriotism Here and Elsewhere" by Ralph C. Bonner, Jr.; "Via and Tikka" by Herbert W. Pitney.

The society this autumn consists of approximately 40 members and to the recent try-out competition this tournament has run longer than was at first expected. It has proved very successful by the fact that 50 candidates responded to the call at the beginning of the term.

FRESHMEN PLAY FINAL ROUND IN FALL GOLF TOURNAMENT

In the final round of the Freshman Intertainment has been started at the earliest possible position. The men are Redford Sargent, Ralph C. Bussey, Jr.; "VM. and Voker" by William S. McCahan; "Skepticism" by William S. McCahan; "Review" by Herman Uverley; "Modern Class Intertainment has been started at the earliest possible position. The men are Redford Sargent and James Crawford.

The program is as follows: "Rhymed Review" by Horace Levermore; "Modern Shop Talk" by William E. Canfield; "Patriotism Here and Elsewhere" by Ralph C. Bonner, Jr.; "Via and Tikka" by Herbert W. Pitney.

The society now consists of approximately 40 members and to the recent try-out competition this tournament has run longer than was at first expected. It has proved very successful by the fact that 50 candidates responded to the call at the beginning of the term.
