B. M. Hirsch, 13W.W., who has charge of the Beul and Miss Liberty Contest, regarded counterfeiting that the building had been very busy. The contest has ared considerable interest in University circles and there is every indication that it will be further augmented as the competition grows longer.

There will be no announcement of the stdnings of the contestants until the January issue is published later in the week. At that time it is expected that pictures of the leaders and their respective positions will be featured.

The editors of the campus weekly are planning to present valuable prizes to the winners who will be inducted into the Flying. Plans are also being formulated to have the pictures of the final winners shown in the latest of the newspapers of the United States.

In order to facilitate the voting in the contest, ballots have been placed in the following places: Dormitories, Bener's Hall, and the Red and Blue offices in Houston Hall. All students are urged to cast their ballots as soon as possible so that the returns may be tabulated for the next issue of the magazine.

1926 BOOTERS FINISH VICTORIOUS SEASON

Pennsylvania's first year football team completed one of the most victorious seasons ever recorded in the annals of this University by defeating Western Preparatory School. The final score of the game was 2 to 1 and this result was noted to the excellent team work of the freshmen booters.

Ares started out to defeat one team this year. This game was lost during a mild season slump when Upper Darby high school won a 1 to 0 victory. Two days before this uneventful defeat later the Penn sylvaniaes had sent from Charter, one of the strongest preparatory schools in this section of the country, down to defeat by the decisive score of it all.

This year, two games which promised to be the best on the schedule were concluded. These were the matches against the Princeton first year team and against the Buffalo Prep School. The other teams which the freshmen met were West Philadelphia High School, Willing to Pields School, George School, and the Haverford College Preparatory.

Tell Them While You Are Home That—
The University Museum is among the world's best; and that it was started out of all those in this country by the British Museum to assist in six. excavations now being made in Egypt and Mesopotamia. Philadelphia is rich in historical sites and buildings; but it is the "workshop of the world" offering the University student who contemplate entering the business field unparalleled opportunities for practical research; and that the other extraneous advantages in art, the opera, the drama and music, are never more.
Outside of the merits of its curriculum, Pennsylvania offers the undergraduate the choice of varied activities in which to gain time, pleasure and profitable experience. Athletics, which have already been mentioned, are but a fraction. In addition there are the publications, the magazines, the Christian Association, class officers, and the musical clubs and Band and Wind. The latter is widely known as the best organization of its kind in the country.

Moshe Dajani, Twenty-third, who won the freshmen pool tournament last week defeated Lehman '25, 50 to 10 and Parker '25, 30 to 16 for the Post championship of the University. Lehman and Parker hold their respective third class honors while Riboff holds the junior class honors in this field of activity.

Mr. Bell, who conducted the teams next, hopes to form a pool team to represent the University in competition with other universities and Colleges. I suppose class wins an inquest about whom he will form the team and adding Pliner, Whelpley, Zimmerman, Shipp, and Smith, the leading contestants of the tournament. Mr. Bell expects to place one of the leading teams of the country in the field.

To date, no other Colleges or Universities have announced teams in this sport, but after the Christmas recess other teams are expected to be formed. The matches during the recent tournament were played in Houston Hall and were all well attended by the followers of the game.

Enthusiastic Gathering Held by Menorah Society
Last night the Menorah Society held an enthusiastic and well-attended meeting in Houston Hall. The business portion of the program included the finishing of plans for activities which the Menorah Society intends to present in the near future. Information after the Christmas holidays several dinners will be given.

Plans were also made for the formation of Hebrew History and Current Events classes to be held in Houston Hall. A list of prominent speakers for future meetings was also presented at this meeting.

After the business program an interesting entertainment including musical numbers and humorous selections was given by some of the members, following which there was a general discussion of these facts.

HAY YOU EVER NOTICED?

You can hardly visit a school in this country without finding that it has a basketball team, and that the students are thoroughly interested in it. Whether or not you believe that basketball is the one great college sport, the fact remains that the Pulmanian has access to basketball as an institution of his college life. For students at the University of Pennsylvania, basketball is a never ending source of interest and enjoyment. Do you understand his choice?

JUST THINK

With this issue The Pennsylvania suspends publication until Christmas. We extend to all our readers the wish of a Merry Xmas and a Happy New Year!

John W. Heiman—A TRIBUTE

John W. Heiman has been the big factor in Penn sports in the last few years. He has worked with unceasing energy to help the football men master their studies. He has been a constant attendant at our Alumni dinners—yes, as they call him. Through his efforts under fine gym school systems have come to be known as Pennsylvanias. His estimation in the matter of spirit has kindled in the hearts of the student body the same enthusiasm that we have seen in the older men. In brief, Mr. Heiman shows us the road to success and gives us a start in the right direction. The decision of the Council on Athletics to fire Mr. Heiman from coaching worries will enable him to give us an inside direction to that other side of football which he has handled so capably. We are glad that he is to be retained with us next year, and we pledge him our support in all the things that he has to find the betterment of Pennsylvania.

NEW YEAR'S DAY

Our basketball team believes in starting the New Year right, as they have arranged to meet the Missouri University quintet before 1923 is many hours old. In doing this, our men show excellent judgment, both for themselves and the University. Of primary interest to cage fans is the fact that this contest is the first one of an international aspect that any Big Six team has scheduled, and that it is to take place on New Year's Day marks another step in the history of Pennsylvania basketball.

In undertaking this project, those in charge of our basketball team have shown that they are doing their job. If they are to be successful, the student body must support them, but when one considers that to consider of that sort of thing is to be away as Christmas Holiday, this plea for support seems futile. How, you may well ask, can we expect our basketball team when we are not going to be on hand? Simply this, not attendance will be your pulse, suggestion and your care. Consider them that it will be well worth while from a spectators viewpoint. If your team is a team of which you are proud. If it is not, the team may be your fault. In the man who makes sure that everybody fills your place. All in all a fine outfitted affair. That the basketball management is anxious to make this contest a success. They realize value of international athletic competition, and they are doing their best to increase such sportive relations. If this year fails of success, Pennsylvania will not suffer alone—other international matches, now in the making, will face assumes a laugh for the right answer. Space Reserved Far
