APATHY IN STUDENT AFFAIRS

The establishment of an active student body by the Undergraduate Council is a monumental task. When some one asks where there is actual need to open the student body this new channel of common action with its executive organization can only be determined by the best of experience. This is a thorough one for its success or failure will measure the extent of student interest in undergraduate affairs.

Student government is theoretically democratic. All the Anglo-Saxon ideals of responsibility of the government in the governed are embodied in the constitutions of student councils. However, the peculiar conditions of undergraduate affairs is limited, save at elections, to a relatively small group. Furthermore, the peculiar conditions of college life affect the electorate, for they are seldom candidates for re-election and the electorate, tor they are seldom candidates for re-election and the electorate.

It may be, however, that interest does exist but in a limited way. The Freshman who has not had the time to perfect the routine you have set him to be published and who do not realize that it is necessary to model this year provided with two outside seats for the auto show. It is claimed by the managers that the "Gridiron Eleven" will be fitted out with a Young steering apparatus and a Hammer. It may require the judgment he makes while the Freshman has no one to announce that he has a limited number to rent to Freshman for the Rushing Season.

The Freshman, when it comes rushing to him, can make more rush of his hosiery than the best of all and as the same time he must constantly be watching the merits of the man he is. He, moreover, responsible to his fraternity for the judgment he makes while the Freshman has no one to announce that he has a limited number to rent to Freshman for the Rushing Season.

The "Bootheagers" Quartet is perfectly such a man, the only fault is a failure to familiarize themselves with the rule board and a still attachment for the radiator. The swarming character, as in the case of a nurse or maid, with a great amount of clean eight palms. If anyone can be so kind as to mark on the board to the right of the driver.

The "Pennsylvanian" car has a new and unique feature this season as it can be operated by an executive Manager. This triumph is said to be the work of a well known physician.

Pyer To Interpret American Tragedy

Under the auspices of the Arts Association, Walter Pyre, famous as a dramatic reader, will give a recital of Edgar Allan Poe’s tragedy, “The Murders in the Rue Morgue.” The lecture will be delivered in Room 200 College Hall, on Tuesday afternoon, January 21 at 5 o’clock.

Mr. Pyre in depicting the characters in this play, has a lightning-like change of voice and expression which has proved pleasing, even to the most exacting of New York dramatic critics. George Baker, author of the play, was an American writer, born in Philadelphia in the year 1822. His education at Princeton, experience as a lawyer and travels in Europe following close together gave him a broadened view of life and of people in general.

Because of his intimate knowledge of the world at large, his writings were of such a character as to appeal to all tastes and ages. He was particularly successful in the line of tragedies and Mr. Pyre has chosen to interpret a play which was popular and commonly produced on the stage thirty years after its first appearance.

Result of Campaign Satisfies Secretary

In reviewing the events and incidents of the recent drive by the Christian Association, Rev. Charles O. Wright, executive secretary of the Association, expressed the following sentiments: “Regardless of the outcome, I am well satisfied with the campaign. In taking an estimate of the drive I see that it has been a more satisfactory one than those of former years. It was much more efficiently managed and the members of the committees are to be congratulated on their ability. In looking up statistics on past campaigns I came to the conclusion that the students...”

The final results of the drive have not as yet been compiled but it is thought that everything will be known in a few days. The Cabinet of the Association, which is composed of the officers and secretaries of the various departments, will hold a meeting in the near future to apportion the funds collected among the charities which are to benefit by it. This body meets every year following the drive to determine the proportion which shall be allotted each beneficiary. The officers of the organization also would like to state that if there are any who still wish to contribute to the fund they should call at the office in Houston Hall.
