MATMEN ENCOUNTER CORNELL CHAMPIONS

Due to the fact that the basketball tournament will continue until 3 o'clock this afternoon, the wrestling match with the underdog Cornell team in Wehrli Hall will not start until 4. The Ithacans, last year's Intercollegiate champions, come here with a strong, experienced team, which has defeated Brooklyn Poly, Princeton and Columbia. During practice yesterday afternoon, Matman, 141 pounder, injured his shoulder, and this will cause quite a disturbance in the University lineup. It will be necessary to move Wright to the 115 lb. class. Lott to the 135 lb. division, and Wilson will compete against Cornell's 175 pound man. Early in the week Hedge, 175, broke his leg, and he will have to remain out of competition for the rest of the season. Taylor, last year's freshman star, will replace Hedge.

RED AND BLUE TO OPEN NEW COMPETITION FOR HEELERS

Next week the Red and Blue will open the second competition of the year, for the various departments of that publication. Candidates can sign up at the Red and Blue office in the basement of Human Hall any day at 11:00 o'clock, at which time the nature of the work will be explained to them, and they will be given instructions as to what to do.

This competition is primarily for the benefit of the President. However, Sophomores who wish to enter can do so. This competition is comparatively short, the men proving themselves worthy of being placed on the various boards will be elected at the May meeting of the present Red and Blue board members.

Starting Monday the office hours of the Red and Blue office will be changed back to 1:30-2:00 o'clock. During rushing weeks the hours were advancement to 1:30 and 3:00 o'clock, due to house vacancies caused by the former hours. The leaders entering the new competition will report every day next week at 1:30 o'clock for instructions and assignments.

One of our distinguished fraternity rushies has told us that after careful study he has come to the conclusion that Gutenberg’s Law is unconstitutional.

HEAR YE ALL

It has been said that radio is a cure for drowsiness. We hereby recommend it to the students when trying to orientate the Executive Council that they are not out of school.

AMONG TUBER

After the three weeks of rushing season is over it is a pretty safe guess to predict that both fraternity men and freshmen prefer rushing without the aid of their own.

WHEN RUSHING SEASON IS OVER

College widows will return to active duty. Pluggers will deal treats of joy. Campus housemen will function once more. Co-eds will emit sighs of relief. College widows will return to active duty.

RATHER WARM

It has been suggested that we make the Coluny a little more spicy, the cartoonist might picture an impatient diner at the counter a waiter who was rushing him with a platter of food, and then showing the Louise Sauce and Blue quintet. Victory will establish them once more in the list of Cornell’s rivals.

FINANCE

We sympathize with the White House in its time of depression due to the free meals for freshmen. As a suggestion: Why not rent its “silver ware” to some of the houses on the campus so that it would be unnecessary to wait for the dishwater before the pie may be eaten.

There are too many keys to the solution of the rushing situation.

QUOTATION

Many a bachelor believes, “As ye sow up, so shall ye also reap.”

RIGHT

Knowing the cornelian group we do, we venture to say his masterpiece will be a hot sketch.

DROPPING THE TUT ON TUTANKHAMEN

We can see our minds at rest. What the excavators were in search of when they were tearing up Woodland Ave. quite recently as it has been found. The diggers were looking for King Tutankhamen and recently has at last been found.

What we do wonder is whether or not the diggers had as good a time playing around there as they seemed to have here.

Is in King Tut is something so recent and has he has a most interesting past: twenty-seven centuries and the dirt is still stiff. Besides who would dig it on hand if there weren’t some scandal in it then?

Are we led to believe that Tut was a big man or his comsulting, results point to that conclusion. He was buried in pomp as deep as a pit sunk lower than bed rock; he had gold and broodly enough to have been a B. C. politician, but he probabliy looked in the grey that he came to. And that he was tight enough to have read political proverbs in shoe the facts that he took all he owned with him.

and they aim to test a student’s ability to relate facts and supply him, rather than to measure his memory for the facts he has heard and the textbooks he has read.”

The News believes that nearly every member of the faculty favors at least greater curricular freedom. The combination of flexibility, not is a dam at the undergraduates search, because they are not fit to be trusted. News, because with the awakening of students to a new realization of a University’s function, isn’t the faculty to be criticized as doing nothing to help “get the sponge idea out of college education.—Tory News

The "PRACTICAL" Alchemist and "THEORETICAL" Robert Boyle

Robert Boyle (1627-1691) proved more "practical" by testing matter, discovering that copper could be converted into a quantity of gold a million times as great. This all sounded so "practical" that Kings listened credulously, but the only tangible result was that they were enriched with much bogus gold.
