Final plans for the social event of this year's Class Day will be held Thursday at the Majestic Hotel. It has been completed according to Harry K. Clark, captain of the football team, and the faculty at this time will present twenty-five Honor Societies, with a banquet before the meeting of the Senior Class to be held in the auditorium of the college. From all reports, the annual dinner program will be a huge success. With the arrangements for the entertainment of the football team, all that remains to be done is to select the Reverend Mr. Blandon to address the seniors. If the meeting will do as expected, it may be expected to do much more. The program of the banquet will be featured by many novelties, all of which will have been arranged by Mr. Clark.

KEITH’S—VALHALLA

Kris Shirley's creation into the Keith limelight to the weird alluring rhythm of (now) Atlantic abandoned symphonies. Miss Shirley steps sedately and deliciously on the waves of insinuating just which the Adler rambler strikes into your heart and soul. At Keith supplied interludes of ecstatic dancing. The stage consisted of a Plednora, secret deity bequeathed by various persons from various preparing acts. Marye Wilder created a series of spiritual and expressive dance numbers to a Spain, Banjo and nearby other places. Her buoyancy and exceeding grace were captivating. Her background was George Halpin whose agile figures on the piano made productive tunes. Bunton and Hayes were the Bond and Banner of it, putting a lifetime reporter at their mutual spiritualistic delivering. Miss Wilder was reminiscent literally and figuratively. The Adelphia Melody Four composed a crescendo four- tone whose asserted modalities carried one into diverse moods. Versatile renditions of popular numbers were nicely done in lusciousness succession. The goal of Demarest and Collette exhibited lots of funny talk and funny tricks supplemented by a violin. Hobson and Lพระราช moralized a novelty act composed by waver, lazezian, limer, and some energetic stunts. Larry and Denis DeFurt showed delicate terpsichorean ability while Len Schmidt and roller skated decorously. The usual chimes staff furnished intro and exit.

GARRICK—ODEN

The charm of Nancy Welth and the adumbrable meaning by Edward Boyce were the only bright spots in the opening of an otherwise drab performance at the Garrick last night. "Ulysses" will undoubtedly improve with the settling it is sure to get within the next few weeks, which should involve the employment of at least one comedian worthy of the name.

Miss Welth is fresh here and is a very charming little actress but she, as well as the rest of the company is rather seriously handicapped by material. The conclusion is gorgeous and the general love of these charm by being displayed on such spectacular models as Alto King and Dagmar Oak.

With all its intricate length and padding "Ulysses" has moments of brilliance and under the masterful of Edward Boyce may blossom into another "Billy." -R. H. F.

TOSSERS PRACTICE

DESPITE BAD WEATHER

Practice for baseball candidates will be held every day from now on, regardless of the weather. Intensive practice will be required on the part of those who wish to make positions on the squad this year as only two weeks remain before the spring schedule actually opens. The Southern trip starts a fortnight from today and between now and that time, Coach Carter must choose a squad and whip them into shape in preparation for the stiff schedule. Varsity practice will be held every day at 12; with the exception of Retanta when the squad will report at 2 o'clock.

An innovation this year will be the reorganization of a Junior-Varsity team which will be made up of those men who are out from the Varsity squad. "Save" O'Reilly will be in charge of the coaching and the team will play a regular schedule with various other teams in their class, such as Lowell and P. M. C. All men who report for the Varsity are requested to fill out applications and take a physical examination in the near future.

PAGE THREE
The unseen force

Back of every college and university in the country, a great force, known as the administrative body, is continually functioning. Without this force, the educational unit would cease to exist; their usefulness would come to a standstill.

For the future Wharton graduate, will be irresistible to him the eternal contest between capital and labor. Equal to this, the educational institutions would cease to exist; their usefulness would come to a standstill. For the future Wharton graduate, will be irresistible to him the eternal contest between capital and labor.

Everywhere on the campus we hear the same question asked—"What the bosses have got out of the current issue of "PUNCH MONEY"?

It is quite correct to say that all the editors are hourly in favor of it. It can be used for any occasion and saves the speaker a lot of worry in making up an opening sentence. Moreover, this method of approach is highly endorsed by members of the faculty.

How a university graduate can earn a living:

Method No. 1

The院长 of the G & D Department

Go to Africa with one piece of ripe, 18 O. Long; one pole, 2 feet long; and one piece of steak as a White House According to the instructions, carry it to the residence of the President and give him a message. The President will then hand it to the groom, who will deliver it to the White House, and then you can ask him. Since by this method, you will have proved the value of the steak, without any bull tales in it, it will bring four times as much as an ordinary tiger's skin and should give you almost enough money to return to the White House and buy another steak.

A little advice

We received a letter from Pally Tilloo the other day and said that he was always troubled with nightmares and through what means he had found relief. Our advice to him is to concentrate, he must forget that it is a dark house, and then he will no longer be troubled with nightmares.

The other day

We wandered out on Franklin Field and watched the basketball contest warming up. As we sat on the tailgate around, we concluded that the greaser the pitcher, the greater the wishbone.

It is terrible

This eternal contest between capital and labor. Equal to this, the educational institutions would cease to exist; their usefulness would come to a standstill. For the future Wharton graduate, will be irresistible to him the eternal contest between capital and labor.

An easy occupation

It must be great to be a poet, and always stay a connoisseur of art. However, the old law of self-preservation must be reckoned with.

It is easy

To average yourself at any time, and into the best circle of people. This will certainly admit that you are speaking, and the speech will kill him.

Seasonable note

Now that the great American public is so tuck up with some manufacture of "essentials necessary", why can't some manufacturer Mr. the manufacturer himself, come out with some synthetic coal?

Do you know?

The finishing touch of class may be attained by parking your car glad on your front door.

By special arrangement with the General Electric Company, the Industrial Service Department of the Wharton School, has secured the services of Mr. P. B. Cliffe (Wharton '16), chief statistician of the General Electric Company, for a series of interviews with seniors interested in non-technical positions. Mr. Cliffe will be in Philadelphia on March 15 and 16 and by special appointment will talk with Wharton School seniors interested in the opportunities offered by the General Electric Company.

Students who wish to obtain interviews are requested to make appointments in Room 308 Logan Hall when interview blanks can be obtained for the designation of a definite appointment hour. Seniors are advised to make their appointments as soon as possible because of the limited time of Mr. Cliffe's stay and the fact that many will seek appointments.

The question of the reestablishment of the plunge as a championship event was brought up, but it was defeated. The Association decided, by vote, that the temperature of the water in the pools should be approximately 74 degrees for all swimming meets. Most of the eastern colleges were represented at the meeting.
