EIGHT COLLEGES ORGANIZE
OFFICIAL GOLF LEAGUE
Having as its object the organization of golf as an intercollegiate sport, and in order to procure for it more publicity and recognition throughout the East, an intercollegiate Golf League was formed recently in New York. It includes all the large Eastern Colleges, namely, Cornell, Columbia, Dartmouth, Harvard, Pennsylvania, Princeton, Williams and Yale.

With the aid of the League the standing of the different teams will be computed each week, and broadcasted by the Associated Press. The averages will be determined in a way similar to those of the Baseball league.

The standings of the different teams in the League will not have any effect however upon the Intercollegiates which are to be held at the Rowayton Country Club in New York during the latter part of June. There are several new colleges in intercollegiate golf circles this year, as Syracuse, Lehigh, and Penn State are being represented for the first time in this activity by a regular team.

ENTHUSIASTIC ATTENDANCE
AT ALL-UNIVERSITY SMOKER

With an attendance of over five hundred, the All-University Smoker held last night in Rowayton Club at 4:30 furnished an evening of varied entertainment. Charles Kerr’s Pennsylvanians’ provided the orchestra music for the evening and the Glee Club gave a short concert. The ballet numbers were one of the main attractions of the smoker and great interest was displayed in the play between Otto Rehbock, prominent local professional and R. A. Ross and Rehbock of the University. It is a closely contested third billiard game, Rehbock defeated Ross 35-34; and in pocket billiards he defeated Rappaport 65-52.

The showing of the motion picture, “The Don Trail” was warmly received and many were forced to take standing room in order to see this portrayal of the Buck’s famous medall. Speeches were made by Dr. “Buck” Wharton, Rev. John Hart, Stockton Tawes and Louis Young, coach of the football team. Following the speaking, refreshments were served.

One of the features of the spring football training season will be the presentation of a cup by 'Big Bill' Hollensback to the punter who excels in this department. Judgment will be based on distance attained, general form in kicking and speed in getting off punts. According to Head Coach "Lou" Young, this cup will be the permanent possession of the man winning it this season.

Speaking of the practice, the coach said, "Practice will start definitely April 14 and continue for about one month. The object of this preliminary practice is to get the men in good condition for a quick start next fall. Most of the formations to be used by the team next year will be taught the candidates during this spring workout, the very little real inaction will be indulged in because of the hot weather."

"Members of last year's squad and other selected candidates," continued the mentor, "will report to Trishrnt Interimhef atson on April 9, who will preside over a course of special training for them. At this time those men will also receive their uniforms. Most of this training will consist in some form of training, such as weight lifting, running and jumping."

"Candidates can report any time during the month of practice, the more they work during the entire period will have its count in their credit. There are many football players who are faced with difficulties of various kinds, and it is necessary for them to report until they have taken examinations that will put them on good standing again. Most of those taking the examinations will be in shape to report during the second week of practice."
The Honor Election Plan

The question of Honor Men is again before the Senior Class for its consideration. For Its attention a definite plan was presented by the committee appointed to consider this problem. It would be well for every senior to examine in detail the proposal put before the campus by the committee in yesterday's Pennsylvania. There is much to be said on both sides of this question, and it is the committee's plan unsatisfactory. And, furthermore, this much to be said on both sides of this question.

1920 ENDOWMENT PLAN WORKABLE
Small Individual Life Policies Feature New Scheme. Formulated, By Class Committees
DIRECT PAYMENTS TO COMPANY

Last week's issue of the Pennsylvania Gazette carried an article in which an alumnus of the Class of 1900 outlined the Endowment Insurance Plan which that class has adopted and which is proving eminently successful. Many recent graduating classes have chosen to establish endowment funds of one variety or another as expression of their respect and love for the university. These funds have not with varying degrees of success and the experience of the Class of 1920 stands proven valuable and helpful to future classes. The proper time for the institution of any such plan is prior to graduation because at that time, if a good plan is provided, more can be done than at a later date.

The principal mistake which former classes have made has been in connection with the sale of policies before a definite plan had been decided upon. This has many times resulted in the adoption of a plan suggested by an insurance salesman, not at all suited to the conditions with which it had to deal. The proper procedure is to first adopt a suitable plan and then ask insurance companies to bid upon it.

The Class of 1900 started its endowment fund along the lines followed by its predecessors and at the outset a fair measure of success was attained. When the second premium fell due only a small percentage of the subscribers and their pledges and the policy lapse. The original plan having failed, a committee was appointed to recognizes the class endowment committee. This fact bore a difficult task. It first had to formulate a new plan and then to sell this plan both to the insurance company and to the members of the class. In both undertakings it was successful. Up to the present time a total of $12,000 has been subscribed by fifty members of the class. But the greatest accomplishment of the committee was the formulation of a plan which was at once simple and effective.

Under this plan each person who subscribes receives an individual twenty-year plan policy in the amount of $600 with added provisions of $700 in case of accidental death and waiver of premium in case of permanent disability. The subscriber receives premium notices direct from the insurance company and pays them directly to it.

These members of the class, in consultation with a Philadelphia trust company, are named as trustees to receive payment of death claims. The trust company invests any money so received, and the interest or dividends are paid to the beneficiary. The funds accumulated in the policy may be taken advantage of by the trustees.

The plan meets with the approval of the trustees. By following this plan and making such an investment the class is not only able to save a portion of its endowment funds, but at the same time has taken advantage of the services of a national and efficient insurance organization.
