Seek Third Successive Championship in Intercollegiate Meet On

Buller Will Lead Coast Team

The University of California track team, winner of the Intercollegiate Track Meet last year, will once again compete in the field classic to be held in Philadelphiia May 8 and 9. The Calamarians are to have a strong team and the coast will be represented by their best effort for championship of the third successive season. The team will have no对不起 admit to date.

In the javelin, where Merrick, who scored 111 points last year, and Harrett, who scored 100 points the year before, will be prominent.

Weights and gymnastics will not appear as strong a suit in San Francisco as they have been in former years. The usual preparatory schools, and the addition of the voting members of the Mask and Wig for the first time, will be declared the winner of the tussle.

Hold Final Luncheon For Four Year Men

Preserve Penniman, Vice-President North and Stock of the Board, will be guests of the Theta Classic at its annual luncheon at the Mediterranean Hotel, following the May Day exercises in Washington Hall on May 18. This luncheon will be held in the Big Quad to discuss the organization of the football team and many other matters of interest to Seniors.

Hold Final Luncheon For Four Year Men

Three hundred and fifty students attended the luncheon in honor of the seniors. The presidents of the various clubs and organizations were present, as well as members of the Phi Beta Kappa Society. The guests were entertained with a brief talk to the assembled students.

The Massachusetts Institute of Technology will make a new attempt to capture the Season's Cup, which has been held by the Harvard crew since its establishment. The M.I.T. crew will row against the Harvard crew, which has been the champion for the past three years.

The annual Lightweight Meet will be held this evening at the Walton Hotel. The committee has arranged for a large attendance. The committee has arranged for a large attendance. The committee has arranged for a large attendance.

YEARLEANS DEFEAT ALLENTOWN SCHOOL

Coach Yates' proteges decisively defeated the Allentown Preparatory School nine Saturday at the score of 6 to 1 in Allentown, Pa. Thus far the pennmen have won nine of their eleven games, losing only to Wyoming Seminary and the Wrenna Military Academy.

Errors committed by the prep school boys played a part in the Pennsylvania victory. The first year men garnered two runs in the second inning, one in the third, and one in the fifth. The three runs were scored by the prep school boys, no runs were scored by the Allentown quintet.

Next Thursday afternoon the winning players will meet the team representing St. Joseph's Preparatory School at the prep school field. It is not possible to know what the prep school boys will present tomorrow, and as that is the last home game of the local Catholic League.

PANTS FIGHT

At any gathering of "old grals," the subject of class fights is almost certain to creep into the conversation. At least many others of college days vanish from memory as the years roll by, it is difficult to find any alumni who will go on record as knowing anything about "the rush" in which he took part. Those grown men will converse with pleasure about affairs of state or works which are reputable and important, certainly go to see that a close match is more than a mere chance for bodily contact; more than the friendly contest held within every man who may rightly be called a man. Educated men are not wont to speak with any more than those things to be more important, especially when such matters are of a personal nature.

The usual refrain is that class fights should be abolished because they are detrimental both morally and physically to the welfare of students, is growing to efficient class rivals. The constant brouhaha of hostile criticism has in many cases taken away all the spirit of a "rush." The participants in inter-class struggles of today are not inclined with the same ideas which led their predecessors to incorporate such affairs; they often participate because they say that old traditions demand it; it is "the thing to do."

Speaking from knowledge gleaned from those who are in possession of the facts, it is safe to say that class fights were an outgrowth of class spirit. At their inception, it was the desire of those who took part to win the title of the class. To those men the class meant more than it does today; it was just as much cherished as the University. When the class was defeated, every one of its members felt the sting of defeat with genuine pain. As time went on, the class fight, started by class spirit, was found to be the best way to express this spirit. It was discovered that unified action brought together the many hundred men who made a class to form a community fighting organization. It was discovered that class spirit could be of more value to the University. The spirit could and should work for a common cause was found to be a wonderful thing.

There are few if any Pressmen or Sophomores who do not care to take part in today's Pants fight. They should be adored by all men, away from the grind of outdoor, their presence will be of no value, and the man is able to suffer injury through half-hearted participation. These who look forward to the final test should bear in mind that critical eyes will be focused on the quad today. Any actions on their part of a doubtful nature might result in the Class being pulled off, or that both Classen were populated. One might suppose that an Army-Navy game was in progress, but it was only the Big Mill Day Game.

The Roman civilization may have been magnificent, but what did they ever have "Ice Cream and Promenade" men at the Caledonian games? No, the lucky stiffs, not.

And then on the other hand the 1922 bowl ward might have called this current year their Blue-nosed Day.

NOT SO DISASTROUS

The pall of gloom which has descended over the campus as a result of the defeat of the track team by Cornell is caused by the loss of a star pole-vaulter is not as bad as it seems at first sight. While the Pall of gloom which has descended over the campus as a result of the defeat of the track team by Cornell is not as bad as it seems at first sight, the excellent manner in which they endeavored to make up those points is undoubtedly great; it is certain that the Red and Blue teams will be encouraged for the final test; there is yet ample time to make up those points.

We wait with bated breath to hear which of the Senate Societies will get the entertainment of June.

Of course June doesn't really have an editor-in-chief; it has a chairman of a board of publications or some such thing. Leave it to Ruth to be different.

... the local fraternity certainly do know how to capitalize on sentiment.

Contrary to the opinion of many sports writers the element of chance is still present in the track meet. Cornell won the track meet by being a bit disorganized.

At least we have one on the real reason why so many of the engineering students are residences of Philadelphia—life keeps down expenses while going to summer school.

three men who could better 100 feet in the hurdles event, while the best mark in the so far this year is 105 feet. The California team will concentrate on field events next week, and all but two of their team of thirteen men are entered in these events.

Led by "Brick" Muller, All-American end, and one of the best all-aroundathlet-"es of the West, the Californians will present a strong array of track material.

Muller who does over 6 feet in the high jump and over 7 feet in the broad jump will also throw the discus. A. G. Morris, present Intercollegiate Champion in the pole vault will endeavor to better his best previous mark of 12 feet 8 inches.

The records of some of the Californians are: .Baron, broad jump, 22 feet fifteen; Witter, shot put, 41 feet 6 inches; Summert, second place last year in the javelin; Shippard, 100 yard dash, 10.8 seconds; Becker, high hurdles, 15

6-seconds; Bert, two mile, 8:32.7; Bent, long hurdles, 24.6-seconds; Box, by 26th, 24-seconds.

A comparison of the records with the marks set in the past this spring shows that although they do not set new best marks made in the meet, many of them will undoubtedly place third or better. It is on the strength of their second and third places that the meet has been better before.

Although seemingly not much stronger, they have one or more men who are to take a first place and a runner up position.

The California team will be back tomorrow and will probably arrive in Philadelphia on May 19. This will allow a full week for the men to rest and acclimate themselves to the different weather conditions and the new city.

They train men will make the trip, including the coach, graduate manager and manager of track.
