SUNDAY ENTRUST DRIVE

A meeting of the Christian Association was held last Sunday evening in the Logan Room to discuss the annual entrance drive. In the presiding over the meeting was the Rev. I. L. Leggatt, assistant editor of the Daily Pennsylvanian. A large number of students were present, and the meeting was opened with a prayer by Dr. Leggatt. The purpose of the meeting was to discuss the methods to be used in the entrance drive, and to secure the support of as many students as possible.

COUNCILLOR POSITIONS OPEN

The Christian Association has announced that the positions of counsellor for the various councils are open. Any student who is interested in serving as a counsellor is encouraged to apply to the Christian Association.

BLADESMEN GRANTED BRIEF REST BY COACH

The New York Law Journal reported that the Blademen have been granted a brief rest by their coach. The Blademen have been working hard and have had a successful season so far. The coach believes that a brief rest will be beneficial for the team.

INSTITUTE LONG ESTABLISHED

A result of detailed investigation and interviews, it has been discovered that the incumbent demand for cast-off clothing is not a new or local phenomenon but an ancient and persistent recur-rence. "We found that to the University a lucrative market. How- ever, there is no evidence of collision between reputable Campus merchants and the new organization. Large numbers of..."

Summer Vacation Funds

College men considering a summer's vacation should give careful thought to the United States government offer of special travel funds. The government has made a very liberal offer of travel funds as well as the most convenient form in which to carry their funds. These letters have been issued to (7) men under the condition that they use all funds in all parts of the world.

The brave face of summer makes us think of travel, and as the season draws to a close, we move with regret to the thought of its passing. The last warm days of the year are upon us, and the thought of the coming winter is in the air. The New Hall of Fame presents a picture of the past and the present, and is full of interest for all who visit it.

FOR THE BOYS

How should you conduct yourself the first night you went a girl? What would you say under certain circumstances? What should you do if you are in love with a girl? What should you do if you are not in love with a girl? These are questions that arise every day. For the latest and most interesting answers to these questions, see our pages.

THE LYRE

"How would you reason with a girl who has been drinking?" is a question that arises every day. For the latest and most interesting answers to this question, see our pages.

"Should a girl ever be allowed to pay the fare?

"Do you know just what you would say if your word were given you the night of the dance she cannot be with your friend?" is a question that arises every day. For the latest and most interesting answers to this question, see our pages.

BRIDAL

"Do you know how to advise your younger sister?" is a question that arises every day. For the latest and most interesting answers to this question, see our pages.

GIVEN GLAD HAND BY HORTS

One of the most unusual, eventful experiences during our recent visit to Harvard College was the heat of the good standing nationally of the organization you contemplate joining.

Therefore when I had the chance to visit our Alpha Chapter, located at Harvard, I was glad to accept, especially since several of the slates from our chapter were also going to take in the festivities.

We were transported to the mother chapter by an automobile whose driver shook his car with skillful care of the fact that he had considerable difficulty negotiating the turns in the road due to some preliminary preparations for the long trip.

It was after dark when we arrived at the town in which dear old Harvard College is located, but after a few minutes as to where the A. O. L. stands, we stepped in front of the house with a great flourish, and halted before the statue in college that immediately created the traditional glad hand.

We were shown to an upstairs dormitory room, which looked as though it was in the cesspool of the century we have at home but properly decorated; but we deposited our baggage on the floor a touch and set the essential refreshments, again on the tables.

Then after much accomplishing around, we struggled into our Tuxedos, which appeared somewhat corrugated, because they had been packed carefully in our suitcases. Having disguised ourselves as much as possible, we wandered downstairs and met all the brothers and their sources of worry who were their guests, for the annual spring frolic and dance, which was quite the party.

After meeting several of the 'fratres in facsimile who were present, some of whom were cousins and others, our few little party of visitors not most of the girls, who were not sure that the boys of Alpha have good judgment. One of the girls was from a school, which I think was in our city, and followed with our Philadelphia. She informed me her home was in Poughkeepsie, N. Y. and claimed she had met me there last spring during Regatta Week. I did not remember the meeting, but admitted, everything satisfactorily, which made it good fun, but it did not please her escort, who was the one to make the usual remark about the brothers that would not take anyone's private stock. I laughed it off, however, keeping everyone under control.

Aside from the fact that I had to sleep on the pool table, due to the unfortunate fact that the house was crowded to capacity, the week-end was a success. All the entertainment was performed by the boys all about myself, and my plans were in a political way, which were to be met with in my next trip to New York. Complete details of my weekend trip will be told in the next issue of our Triangles, which is due after the Press Day. Call for Mr. Apple of The Pennsylvania Athenaeum.
