If You Were Stranded On A Desert Isle

You'd never starve as long as you were able to obtain milk. Milk is a complete diet in itself.

A quart is equal in food value to three-fourths of a pound of lean ground beef, eight eggs, three pounds of codfish and four pounds of cabbage.

Be sure your diet contains plenty of Scott-Powell Golden "A" Granulated Milk. For a few extra pennies you get more milk, a greater abundance of Vitamins and a flavor that is unequalled.

This announcement reveals the extent of affairs reached toward the close of last year, when Dr. Penn's morning sermons were delivered to an audience of but two men.

Publicity given this fact by downtown newspapers still ranks in the minds of many, and leaves an unpleasant memory.

Man is a creature of a thousand fates. Danger lurks in the unseen development of one or two sides of this triangle of perfection. Physical utilities, educated craves, or relations banal are the result. Our abilities develop on one of the triangle—intellectuar corner. The chapel attend-
