smooth precise body, Duofold red pen.

FRESHMEN TURN OUT FOR SMITH DORMITORY SMOKER

That the Class of '27 is not lacking in initiative and cooperation was proved by the smoker held by E. F. Smith Dormitory Tuesday evening, in the Mark and Wig Room. Under the capable leadership of "Pat" Malin, the senior advisor, and "Bill" Bellingham, the dormitory representative, a very successful get-together was enjoyed.

Some campus "big" men were present to speak to the gathering. Clifford B. Reeves, the senior president, and Gordon Max, were two of those attending who entertained, and at the same time offered some excellent advice. Rev.
"Jack" Hart was another who inspired all with his diction and vigor.

"Lew" Chapman, of musical fame, was taken in to render a number of piano selections. Following the program refreshments were served. Affairs of this type are planned for others in the near future.

Graduation Leaves Many Vacancies in Boxing Team

Bob Brown, who with many vacations to be filled, Bishop and all ten-rounders are eligible for the team. Freshmen wanting to get in later on should think of getting for practice this year.

Last June only on the seven men on the team were graduated, and a number of last year's team, who have now met for the past few days will not get much needed. Tuesday was a better day, with twelve rounds on the river going through the frames.

There is still a shortage of controllers, and these in the 111th Michigan should report to the crew master as soon as possible.

The managerial competition for sophomores is still open, and those who wish to go out for it are asked to report to the A.A. office this morning or at the least by Monday afternoon.

The belated crew rally will be held Monday evening. Pictures of former crews in action will be shown in the chapel.

SPANISH PROFESSOR ARRIVES

Was Detained With Wife at Ellis Island

One Day—Admitted by Court Ruling

After being detained at Ellis Island for one day by immigration officials, Prof. Navarro, of the Spanish department of the University, with his wife finally been admitted to the country and are now in this city.

Rafting the deportation, according to Commissioner H. Hurley, of the United States immigration department, was the fact that the quota for Spain until July 7, 1923, had been exhausted in September. Prof. Navarro, as an educador, was admitted but his wife was not. An answer to a wire sent to Washington by Commissioner Hurley was received at Ellis Island on Tuesday admitting Mrs. Navarro. The couple with a recent court ruling exonerating the wives of exempt individuals from the opposition of the quota law.

Vigilantes After Slackers

Members of the Vigilance Committee were especially active yesterday on the campus according to what extent their harassing campaigns had been curtailing all of the initial reception given the freshmen under their auspices. Any member of the first-year class who escaped the barber's chair will probably be expected to the freshman dormitories in the near future to give an explanation of his absence on that night.

IS THE CLOUD THAT LIFTED: By Maurice Maeterlinck. In which the problems of modern romanticism, in "The Power of the Dead," Maeterlinck has given us within the covers of one volume two sharp and unmasking short plays. It is refreshing to find among the hosts of contemporary dramatists, one play in which the problems of moral creation and action are not presented as paradoxes. Yet these two dramas do their work in a way that is romantic.

The name of "The Cloud that Lifted" is said in Finland at a time when a national Scandinavian is playing the music of Russia. Rusalua, influential Russian, has killed another nationalist's daughter, Lata, at one time in a duel. And, indeed, the only witness of the slaying, bore the outcome of the plot in her hands. There is a strong and emotional psychological interest in the struggle of her mind toward safety for student. In a week, the student turns to. A. E. Brown, 8 Chestnut St., Philadelphia.
