In this latest product of Mr. Hutchinson's pen the author of "If Winter Comes" turns from the novel to give us a group of short stories none of which have appeared separately in periodicals, none that are new and all of which, he tells us in a brief introduction, have novelties for publication in the present volume.

Before turning to our discussion of the merits of the stories it would perhaps be in order to give a brief topical survey of their characters. "The Eighth Wonder" which plays the title role, is the story of a young man who finds the logical conclusion to the Philosophy and the Hunting Gardens, to be a modern weather who, over a long fence and holds on her lap a brown hat trimmed with brown velvet." "Some Talk of Alexander" deals with a man of honest nature but false spirit who is suddenly drawn into a struggle for self assertion through his ploy for a Nancy who is being bullied by a Bill Skiles. "The Rough Little Girl and the Smooth Little Girl" is a splendid satire on the class struggle in Eng-land and is full of Mr. Hutchinson's di-

Do You Know

The News Editor of this publication wishes unententiously to deny the gross scandal connected with the name in the allegedly scandalous column of the colorful literary monthly. This is not intended as a derogation of the national caliber of the magazine but is designed to preserve the reader from the0 outrageous plagiarism of a Missouri mule and the Red and Blue variation of the same species.

If the Column seems quaintly today you’ll have to blame it on the way the University authorities keep changing the various editorial offices around. This makes the third time we’ve tried to walk through one of the partitions.

We sure have to waste enthusiastic about the 1927 women students. Why, some days, if one is careful to keep the Library out of sight, the campus is so beautiful that one can almost imagine oneself down around Broad and Chestnut streets.

The purchase of the School of Education for representation on the undergraduate body, which has been under consideration for some time, was finally granted. At the same time, Council resolved to alter one representative from the newly-founded Moore School of Medicine. These elections were placed in charge of a subcommittee.

The date of the first regular inter class meet between the sophomore and freshman classes was definitely announced for Tuesday, October 28, when the Floor Pulls will take place. George Holli, '28, member of the Council, was appointed to supervise the affair.

The subcommittee appointed to investigate the "cut" system, composed of Clifford R. Koos, Charles D. D. Harl, and Sports Pulls, Jr., made the following recommendations:

1. That the number of cuts remain as at present.
2. That there be a uniform interpretation of the cut rule in all undergraduate departments.
3. That the taking of a cut shall bring no penalty of grades to the students.
4. That the student shall have some central means of appeal to have the cut reversed in the event he has a sufficient excuse.

Note: It is suggested that the Office of the Vice President act as the authority in cases of appeal. This permits men who should be allowed more cuts a chance to take them without receiving an "N" in the course.

I. That participation in authorized University activities should not entail cuts.
