NEED MORE WATER POLO MEN

Starting at the crash of Coach Klein's revolver the University swimming team recorded an official water polo game for the first time this season held in Westmian Hall. The men, which were the best of the weekly series, was the last of six court games in the various classes of the year and before the opening of the term the men have been constantly practicing and working up material for the varsity and freshman squads.

Again yesterday afternoon, Captain L. V. Hoist, 22, showed the way as he swam the 100 yard dash in 28.3 seconds. J. P. Wilson, 22, followed him close by recording a time of 28.7 seconds. In other heats B. B. Bowd, 20, brought in the 100 yard dash in the 27.3 seconds. In the 200 yard dash, J. Rhein, 21, clocked his time at 34.2 seconds.

The 100 yard breast stroke was swum by J. Rhein, 21, in the 1 minute 10 seconds 1.4 seconds.

A WEALTH OF BACKS

The season of 1923—about to ring down its curtain at the grand finale on Thanksgiving Day—has been especially productive of brilliant backfield material. Star tacklers and quarters seemed to be the chief contribution of the year 1923, but now the spotlight has turned its glarring rays upon the backfield. Outstanding linemen are, comparatively scarce.

Harry Wilson, of State, and Flann, of Cornell, without doubt are the two most elastic backfield runners and greatest ground gainers of the season. Each has earned the title of battle in several important contests over several umpires with the ball.

Following close in the wake of these luminaries of the gridiron, are Smyth’s, of Army; Kinsel, of Michigan; Lappin, of Notre Dame; West, of W. J. N., Nickalls, of California, Tryon, of Colgate; Nardecchi, of West Virginia; Bowman and McBride, of Ste. Claire, Wychell of Georgia Tech, and Hardy and Richardson, of Yale.

Practically all these backs are versatile—can pass, are adept at heading the forward pass, and running with the ead. To pick an All-Star, or All-American quintet, of this array of talent before their final games would be an act of folly—but several can be named as now outstanding in various departments of play.

To Lappin, backfield protege of Knute Rockne, practically all concede the laurels for being the best forward passer of the year. Notre Dame has developed one of the most purifying overhand attacks of any team in all the country-side—with Lappin doing the burning, accuracy, and with the speed of his passes, their record to date, Mahony and Wychell appear to be the. class of the two plogene.

As mentioned in our previous issue, West and Nardecchi play white at the loads of their respective teams, as well as an ability to handle communications above the average, and be the messengers of their time to date.

TALK IT UP

"We've got to beat Cornell," we're told. That's our slogan. What are we doing to put it into actual practice?

Are we saying to ourselves, "We've got to beat Cornell, but we're only going to do it 11" and all the same time saying to others, "We've got to beat Cornell, and we're going to do it." If we adopt the first, we can do no good work talking. First of all we must "sell" ourselves on the proposition.

The Pennsylvanian (hereafter referred to as the paper) is for Cornell to make sure that Cornell men use Cornell tickets, for Pennsylvania men to understand that they are guaranteed seats.

"That's kind of a Red and Blue outfit that will be licked." That's the kind of thing that is expected to turn the Franklin Field Thanksgiving Day. That's the kind of a team we are supporting. That's the kind of a team we can talk against. We can talk the whole world around and have the last word in our behalf. But we are not Bitwit Chapter of the other fellow.

Talk it to, "You can't lick a team that won't be licked"—that's the kind of a team that will face Cornell. Put two and two together and you get four.

CORNELL TICKETS

Up at Illinois the athletic authorities in charge of the sale of tickets for the Cornell-Penn game are taking very positive steps toward preventing the sale of the tickets allotted to Cornell from going to standby purchasers. An article appeared in the Undergraduate Daily today touching the possibilities of such a sale going to Cornell authorities and being supported by Cornell authorities. An article addressed to the underclassmen bespeaks the fact that the year past a large number of North Stand admissions have found their way into the hands of Pennsylvania men, and calls on the underclassmen to put a stop to the practice this year.

According to the report of the Cornell Athletics Committee, Pennsylvania, $5,890 tickets have been sent to Illinois, and, as the Cornell expects to entertain a capacity crowd of over 11,000 in Franklin Field on Thanksgiving Day, this leaves over 6,000 admissions to be distributed by Pennsylvania. The Cornell athletic authorities feel that the Red and Blue factors should be satisfied with their allotment, without encroaching upon the seats allotted to Cornell men, on the other hand, find it necessary to have a large number of North Stand admissions allotted to them through Pennsylvania.

Cornell has 15,000 seats for its alumni and underclassmen, of which 9,000 seats are in the North Stand. Pennsylvania has 44,600 seats, but the only men available for the underclassmen and alumni who is definitely promised a season ticket is in the East and West Stands, and seats if one can get no others.

As long as it is necessary to sell season tickets, Pennsylvanians will have to be satisfied with East and West Stand seats, unless they all in the course of the 11 games in the East and West Stands at least fifty per cent. of these seats are allotted to them. The paper reports that this is being done, and the result is that both the Cornell and Pennsylvania undergraduate is dissatisfied.

ASTROINOMY WILL BE

Subject of Lecture

"The Solar Eclipses and Some Related Problems of Astronomy" is the subject of a lecture to be given under the auspices of the University Lecture Bureau in Houston Hall Auditorium on December 11 at 8:15 P. M. Mr. James Bokely, a member of the faculty of Central High School, Philadelphia, will deliver the address.

The lecture will be illustrated by very remarkable motion pictures and slides. The films, which have not been seen in Philadelphia before, were taken by the expedition sent by the Yerkes Observatory to Swarthmore College to Yerba Buena, Mexico, to observe the eclipse of last September 8. An other film will be shown which was obtained at the Yerkes Observatory, maintained by the University of Chicago at Williams Port, Wisconsin.

The Joseph Leidy lecture in Science will be given in the Mitchell Hall of the College of Physicians on Twenty-second Street above Chestnut on December 4 at 8:15 P. M. This is an annual event held in commemoration of the great work done by Leidy in the biological field.

Prof. Henry Fairfield Osborn, the speaker of the occasion, will lecture on "Joseph Leidy, Founder of Vertebrate Paleontology in America." Prof. Osborn is the president of the American Institute of Natural History in New York City.

THE PENNSYLVANIAN

COOPERATIVE COMMITTEE
PLANS GAMES AND SMOKER

At a special meeting of the Freshman Cooperative Committee last evening, final arrangements were completed for their December banquet, which is to be held on the night of the fifteenth at the Drillroom. The speaker of the evening will be Clifton S. Bower, '21B, and as a contribution of the extreme good fortune in securing such a prominent leader, a very interesting talk is anticipated.

In addition to discussing the plans for the banquet, the committee listened to a report from the Chairman of the Smoker Committee, who announced that every effort is to be made to make the Freshman smoker next Wednesday night the most talked of event of the year. The committee wishes to emphasize again their desire that a large number of the members of the class of 24 be on hand.

UNIVERSITY GYM TEAM HOLDS ROPE CLIMBING COMPETITION

Under the direction of Coach M. F. Kelley of the University gym team, a rope climbing contest was held on Wednesday night in Weightman Hall. He is convinced that a capable man can perform in this event, as that has been one of the weaknesses of the team in previous years. The winners in the contest held the other night were Smith, '23W, and Gomez, '21B.

The gym squad, which is one of the largest that can ever turned out for this sport has been working on elementary exercises thus far. Special emphasis has been laid on tumbling as a general developer of the body, and a holder of indoor contacts.

FIRST-YEAR CLASS OF LAW SCHOOL ELECTIONS

At a recent meeting of the first-year class of the Law School, Bernard I. Keller, a graduate of the United States Naval Academy, and E. B. McEwen, were elected president, John F. E. Hlppel, '23C, and Charles N. Eckel, '23C, were chosen vice-president and treasurer respectively.

Miss Rachael Higginson, who was graduated from the College of Wooll College (H.S.) was elected to the office of secretary. The graduating class of Miss Wells as secretary of the Law School, of choosing a woman in this position.

Most modern exponents of football would hardly believe that the game dates as far back as two hundred years ago. A description of the game as played then is given in the October number of the "Living Age." The picture from which the game is described was taken from a poem published in 1733.

"There were six players on each side. Men on one side were red ribbons and men on the opposite side blue. The play was started by a kick-off but by tossing up the ball by a master of ceremonies. The ball was made of leather stuffed with straw."

The game is described as one that was filled with wrestling and tripping. Often the members of two teams would stand about watching a minor conflict between two members of the opposing teams. There was some modern criticism in the game too. It was considered quite fair to tackle any player who showed any indications of getting the ball.

PHYSICAL EDUCATION

...INCREASES IN WEST

Referring to recent criticism of college athletes, as hampering physical education, Major John I. Griffith, Big Ten Commissioner, in his address to the Intercollegiate Athletic Association of the United States, declares it can "very closely be shown that in a large measure the intercollegiate athletic department has been responsible for the development of the entire physical education program. Moreover, he adds, "in the Western Conference, where interest in the competitive athletics has increased, the other has not been neglected." He cites the fact that in many instances the student who has been responsible for the administration of intercollegiate athletics likewise have been responsible for the development of the entire physical-education program.

To prove his contention he quotes figures compiled from statistics supplied by all the Big Ten schools showing the tremendous growth in physical education in the last quarter-century.

During the school year 1897-1898, he adds, nearly 68 per cent of all the students enrolled in the Conference universities took part in some physical-education activity; in 1917-1918. To go back to 1896, he adds, when intercollegiate football was started in the majority of the conference colleges, it is to be noted that 90 per cent smaller percentage of men took part in athletics or were enrolled in gymnastic classes.

Of 6,070 male students enrolled in the ten schools in the conference last year, 2,840 took part in some form of physical activities. The number of men taking part in football was 2,072, or 6 per cent of the enrollment. The enrollment in 1897-1898 was 1,126, with 206 men participating and only 49 in football.

Ohio State was well up among the leaders in the Big Ten last year with nearly four-fifths of the men enrolled in some form of athletics.
