VASSAR OPPOSES DEBATING TEAM

Fair Try Out to Avenge Defeat of Last Year—Mains to Open Attack

SUBJECT IS IMMIGRATION ACT

Defeated in a debate on the prohibition question last spring, Vassar College to dispute, as in its previous contest, but the Vassar debate will show a world of difference this year, with promises, and promises to be worthy of the name.

Mrs. H. P. Robinson Nichols will act as president of the affirmative, and Frank Schoble, '24C, who will act as the negative. A special meeting of the affirmative to consider the question will be held this afternoon.

Cherrie To Speak On "South America"

This afternoon the Auditorium will be the scene of a debat e between Cherrie, "South America," and Mr. George K. Cherrie, "South America," this being the first time that the name of the continent has been chosen as the subject for a debate. The affirmative and negative will make four arguments each, and the debate will be concluded by the affirmative, and the affirmative will make the closing address.

The debate will be broadcast through radio station WIP.

LOCAL TEAM HIT BY INJURIES

Dickinson and Delaware will meet in a classic that will be one of the hardest fought games of the season. Both teams have come through the season with the constant struggle of the Big Red to the top. The final score will be expected to be a close one. The Dickinson team will be able to give the real Dickinsion team a good fight, but it is doubtful if they will be able to win. The Dickinson team will be led by the famous "Dickinson" brand of players, and the Delaware team will be led by the "Delaware" brand.

The game will take place at 2:30 p.m. today, and the winner will be the team that is able to hold their ground and come out with the victory.

Students To Hold Services In Jersey

TOMORROW A Christian association called "The Christian Association" will hold their annual meeting today at 2 p.m. in the Protestant Church at Sixth and Catherine streets.

The meeting will be attended by the officers of the association, and they will be addressed by the Reverend Mr. Smith, the pastor of the church.

When Coach Stewart began working with his team, he did not have a single captain or "crying out" for the Princeton team. He was surrounded by the men that he had assembled a team around, and they were the ones that were responsible for the team.

There are three important things that the team has to work on for the coming season: the defense, the offense, and the team morale.

The defense must be improved, and the offense must be improved. The team morale must be improved.

Predicts Abolition Of Modern Football

Union college football is removed from the control of a few paid coaches and alumni, and placed in the hands of amateur undergraduates. The spirit of semi-professionalism which pervades the game today will come to be abolished within a few years, in the opinion of Dr. Stuart Paton, professor of neurophysiology in Princeton University.

Dr. Paton declared that football has become largely a form of amusement for the alumni, and that the temptation to exploit it for financial gain is the real reason why the game has been taken over by the coaches.

"The spirit of the game is often marred by the desire to make money," Dr. Paton said. "It is a pity that this should happen, because the game is a very healthy form of exercise for the students, and it is a pity that it should be taken away from them."

The situation may seem very awkward at first, but Dr. Paton believes that it will all work out for the best in the long run. He predicts that football will soon be abolished in all colleges, and that the game will be taken over by the students themselves.

"The students are the ones who really enjoy the game," Dr. Paton said. "They are the ones who should be in charge of it, and they will do a much better job than the coaches ever could."

WANTED—A CHAMPIONSHIP
Back in 1920 Pennsylvania's soccer team, coached by Douglas Stewart, as captain of the team, won the intercollegiate crown by defeating Princeton in a post-season game. In 1921 Pennsylvania and Princeton were again tied for first honors, but Princeton managed to come through and break the Red and Blue's winning streak. Last year Pennsylvania was all set, but the players from Tiger town won a decisive victory—retaining the crown for an other year. There are six universities in the intercollegiate soccer league, but once more the argument seems to be between the Red and Blue and the Orange and Black. This 1923 argument will be settled at Princeton this afternoon.

Pennsylvanias wants the 1923 championship, and we've got a fine chance to win it. Today marks the close of Princeton's soccer season, while the Red and Blue Have six more league games to play. Princeton is credited with six points, having won two league games and two ties, while Pennsylvania has won four points, by defeating Yale and Harvard. If Princeton wins today her final rating will be eight points, and to tie for Pennsylvania will have to conquer both Cornell and Harvard, the two teams which the Red and Blue has not yet played. If Pennsylvania cracks through both Cornell and Harvard, Princeton will be out of the running, and the title will come to the University, whence we subsequently lose to both Cornell and Harvard, and take the honors, if we beat Princeton today, the crown is ours. If we lose, we've still got a fighting chance for a tie and a play-off with the Orange and Black.

Today the average of Pennsylvania's soccer team is 1.90. Every game this season has resulted in a victory for the White and Blue, the visiting Red and Blue having the advantage in only two games.

Yesterday the White and Blue played an internecine game, both teams coming out with honor.

Why shouldn't the Army win the annual classic? asks the perennial baskettown. Who ever heard of a football game on a Saturday night?

It is hoped that Bylawan and Dickinson will be careful of our strike and tapered grass. We'll need it next week for a little little.

All doubt about the identity of the best football team in the United States today will be cleared up today, too. Yale and Harvard are going to fight it out and resolve all of further worry.

The report hasn't been confirmed as yet, but it is understood that both teams are going to adhere to the usual custom of covering the cars when an opponent is giving signals, and it is hoped that the release will permit the adoption of formal signals instead of the usual vulgar practice of effective penalties.

The president of Vassar College is quoted as saying that Vassar girls do not smoke, and roll their stockings only once. If this may seem a trifle sentimental but we must know how the president happens to know all this.

Quite interesting, Watson. Quite interesting; what do you make of it?

We can't say that that had anything to do with it, but it was noticeable that the sale of the debate tickets dropped sharply after this statement was public.

If you'll pardon a few poor puns about the coming verbal battle with 'Vassar, it will be well worth the money one has to "shell" out for a ticket as the big game of both colleges will be there and a wonderful car attack and protoskeletor will also be in it. Also it is expected that several quantities of powder will be used.

Another old Pennsylvania institution seems to be better off from the position it has held these many years. We refer to the White House boys according to the Pennsylvania tradition. We feel that the White House boys. It is headquarters for Junior Week festivities, and that Delaware and Dickinson will be as well.

The Eye World of the Hospital has taken over several new rooms and has ordered all available doctors and nurses to hold themselves ready for service, in anticipation of the expected cases resulting during Junior Week.

FOOTBALL SEASON REACHES CLIMAX ON MANY GRIDIRONS

Football fans are offered an unusual treat today when the problem games reach the climax. Ancient rivals will strive for supremacy throughout the country, and West will spend half with its array of grid champs. In New York City, Army and Navy will renew roles in their twenty-sixth football engagement, before obsolete spectators, Army, with its powerful line and tell-tale backs, will be met by a disaster new team. The Midshipmen are strong in this year's outbreak of the game and should gain more prestige by the victory.

At Cambridge, Harvard and Yale will end their season's with a thrilling climax. The Blue, undefeated and sporting victors over Harvard and Princeton, in a heavy favorite to average last year's reverse, and Yale, which will only be taken floundering with a deep yale victory. Little Smith's Golden Bears will meet Stanford University, which will have little Wrigley as coach in 1924. Fuller rules, like Yale, has an untasted record, and Stanford has suffered only one defeat. The combat of this game is a bowser, and should be close throughout.
