Third Soccer Team Faces Moosers

Handicapped for a two-weeks' break and because of the recent holidays, Pennsylvania's third soccer team will line up against the Monongahela Sports Club on Monday afternoon. The contest will be held at the Monongahela Athletic Club.

Pennsylvania's Intercollegiate schedule for the year consists of fourteen games and seven Saturdays. At this time the Monongahela will be playing the first game of a series of five.

The Monongahela is one of the strongest clubs in the West and is the only team without a loss in the Intercollegiate schedule.

Joe Creese, a member of the Pennsylvania team, who played in the game against the Yale team last Saturday, will be out for the game against the Monongahela.

He is a member of the Pennsylvania team and has been a leading player on the team.

Pennsylvania will be given a good game by the Monongahela and will have to work hard to get the game.

The game will be played under the rules of the Intercollegiate Association of the United States.

The winner will be awarded the Intercollegiate Cup.

Local Chieftain To Meet Famous Player

Lively interest has been manifested in Philadelphia this week in the announcement that Alexander Abbe, the famous aboriginal chief, will visit the city.

According to the announcement, Mr. Abbe, who is an expert in all matters of ceremonial, will be in Philadelphia for the purpose of meeting the chieftains of the various tribes.

The announcement states that Mr. Abbe will be in the city on the 4th of May, and that he will be met by a delegation of local leaders.

The chieftain, who is well known for his knowledge of Indian customs and traditions, is expected to give a lecture on the history and culture of the aboriginal people.

The lecture will be held in the large hall of the American Museum of Natural History, and is expected to draw a large crowd.

The event is anticipated to be a highlight of the week in Philadelphia, and is expected to attract significant media attention.

Council on Athletics Approves Game with Washington, D.C. University on November 11

The Georgetown University council on athletics has approved a game with Washington, D.C. University to be played on November 11.

The game will be held at the stadium of the University of Washington, D.C., and is expected to draw a large crowd of spectators.

The committee on athletics, which is responsible for the scheduling of games, has decided to add this game to the Georgetown University schedule for the coming season.

The council, which is comprised of members of the administration and faculty, has taken a favorable action on the proposal.

The council meeting was held on Wednesday, March 30, at 10 a.m., and was attended by a large number of members.

The committee on athletics has recommended the scheduling of this game, as it is expected to increase the revenue of the University.

"Book a Highfield" Quoted from Song Book
Because It Was Borrowed

CLAIM WESLEYAN AS BIRTHPLACE

Concordance with the publication of the new University Song Book comes a letter to the editor of this paper by Mr. W. O. Miller, Connector of the University, asking to the non-useful side of the inclusion "Thank a Highfield." Mr. Miller writes that the song was first introduced at the University of Pennsylvania, then that it was a direct "deed" from another college. In order to have a direct connection to it, the one performer in that song was to be sung about the time that Prof. Annie was carrying on important research concerning the effect of alcohol on the brain. Mr. Miller concludes that the song was introduced at the University of Pennsylvania, and we could not properly publish it as a University of Pennsylvania song. It is of great interest, however, to note that this song had its origin in connection with a piece of scientific research. One day highly-exalted Prof. Annie's will, one month standing up in a row, quaffing off the or not, it is a valuable book, and a credit to the University. And this is lamentable. If we can blame, however, does not change the state of affairs. What of any means of class or University assemblies is probably the campus who do not even know the second verse of "The Star-Spangled Banner and Cheers." Harmony, sentiment and beauty which a complete list of songs, is something which should be a welcome addition to every individual, fraternity house, or home.
