In the second issue of the "Penn and Ink," the editor wrote:

"It is indeed marvelous; the stories some of the boys will tell will WHILE gathered around the home-like Boston fireplace. Last night a tale of the cold wave held sway as each man reported conditions from his home town. We have since learned the more plausible of the yarns and present them:

- In Michigan the air is in the automobile tires. From

- In Missouri they cannot tell how cold it is, for the mercury has pushed the bottom out of the thermometers.

- In Maine they are using liquid instead of cow-bury.

- The northern part of Illinois is one huge glacier.

- In Ohio ice cream is giving for cream.

- In upper New York the skaters are cavorting on a lake of frozen water. This is a new sport and love the hell out of the light of morning the station—the little girl—the

FIX FIRST YEAR ELECTION DATE
Continued from Page One First-year men displayed such a noticeable lack of interest in the time that it was decided to post the elections until such time as enthusiasm, which had been acquired in the class to warrant a selection of capable leaders.

The Council also decided that an standing freshmen committee should be appointed by the officers of the freshman class to take the place of the former cooperative committee, which was abd injured by the council for participating in the election. After due consideration the council of the concluded that the existing group of temporary officers were perfectly capa of conducting the organization of the class and if they should appoint a com mittee similar to the cooperative body, the result would hinder rather than an st in their work.

A subcommittee was appointed at the request of the Council to investigate the amount and cost of printing that is done for the University. Action will be taken in the direction of attempting to centralize the printing work to reduce the enormous expense that the University must pay for this service. In the opinion of the Council, a great deal could be accom plished in this way of economy in the use of printed matter about the Univer University.
