Pennsylvania Year-Book Board Announces Changes in Cover for Issue

EXPLAIN RECENT RISE IN PRICE

After four days of earnest efforts on the part of the board members and booksellers to stem the rising cost of the University's yearbook, the board has been forced to acknowledge the superiority of the new publication. The board, which has been meeting three times a week, has finally determined that the new issue will be priced at $1.30. This is the first time in the history of the University of Pennsylvania that the price of the yearbook has been increased.

HOCKEY TEAM PREPARES FOR WEST POINT GAME

Coach Powers will send Squad Through Workout This Morning Prior To Game Tomorrow

LAFAYETTE NEXT GAME AT HOME

Coach Powers will put the university hockey squad through an hour of intensive practice on the Arena rink this morning from 9 to 10 o'clock. In final preparation for the game with the Army at West Point tomorrow afternoon, the Lafayette eleven will work out with the West Point City Club Wednesday and Thursday. Coach Powers stated.

Players of all four lines have displayed intense interest in the last two periods of the first game which indicate that team is championship material on the Rink and Mite squad and the coach expects his men to put up a strong fight when the most important game was played later in the season. He has but four replacements from last year to Captain Andy Pingeon, but a number of the men on the squad showed that practice is all that is necessary before they will be able to use the team work required in building up a winning hockey team.

The university stickmen work under a handicap by not having a full available at all times for their use. City League games and the number of hours of skating for the public on the Arena has taken a little opportunity for the team to work out, whereas colleges further north have the advantage of natural ice rinks and considerable more time for practice.

The contest with the West Pointers is meant to be regarded by Coach Powers and Manager Bateson as another practice game but the players feel that they have a good chance of holding the Army men to a few more despite their inexpertise in playing together as a team. The game scheduled to be played here will be with Lafayette on January 11. In tomorrow's game, Lafayette will line up as follows: Grey, right wing; Prince, left wing; Pingeon, center; Han and vocal defense; Murray, left defense and Camabin goalie.

DEAR DAD: I NEED A REST and some cash...

 zijn a few of my thirty cun now, and am spending the week-end at Palm Beach. College is strenuous, you know, especially this business of getting dressed. Speaking of dresses, I'm sure to get one in Modern Art 395, as I'm doing outside work with Vanity Fair. Write soon, but wire the cash.

Yours for a "phi bete",

In the face of it, the opinion seems to point in many such courses—stronger emphasis being laid on such things as the realization that such faculty action is devoid of any kind of spirit.

The Pennsylvania  Invites communications on all subjects of interest to students and faculty. It has been estimated that there is no opponent that can trifle with the Varsity. To the skill and cunning which has been taught by Coach McNichol.

The schedule has progressed and the preliminary games seem to point in many such courses—stronger emphasis being laid on such things as the realization that such faculty action is devoid of any kind of spirit.

The factory River—the way its tasting lately one would think the swimming pool had been dumped into it.

If it isn't one thing it's another, as the fellow says—when the newspapers had printed the last of the 'One Hundred and Seventy Winning Football Plays,' none of which we were able to understand, they started in on some Basketball Diagrams. If they were ordinary diagrams we wouldn't feel so badly about not being able to understand them, but when they started in on some Basketball Diagrams, if they had made a move to take up for us while he's on this cleanup job.

At other times their play has left much to be desired. The result is that the Pennsylvania five is not contain, showing. Displaying sensational form as evidenced throughout the season, the names of students arriving late at the conclusion of 11 o'clock Saturday night, and being stiff and sore all over, we decided that if we had anything to say about those steps, they'd be installing an escalator.

FOX PRESENTS "THIS FREEDOM"
"This Freedom," by A. S. M. Hutchinson, author of "If Winter Comes," and the logical successor to that reason's production, will be the main photograph presentation next week at the Fox Theatre, "If Winter Comes" was shown at the Fox a few weeks ago and was hailed by critics as one of the greatest motion picture productions of the season. Critics who have seen "This Freedom" declare it a greater masterpiece than its predecessor, and those who witnessed the latter give it straight away to next week's presentation. A splendid surrounding bill of divertisments has been built around the main picture. Keaton's "William Tell Overture" will be placed by Maestro Rapte and his corps of symphonic artists. Maurice Ravel will sing Novak's "Misty Lake's Rose." "Georgia Camp Meeting," a terpsichorean divertissement of the most captivating and staged by Erno Rapte and Thalia Zanou will be accompanied by Miss Zanou and Ralph Wonders. Louis Shannon, dramatic baritone, a favorite with Fox Theatre audiences, will also do the "Prologue" from "Puccini" with an appropriate scenic setting. "In Frogland," a photoplay curious novelty in color, will also be seen.

WALUT—THE OLD STAR: Raymond Hitchcock opening bottles and his mouth. Leaves a good taste and a bit of a headache.
FOREST—VAINES: Jumbled vaudeville that is above the usual. Pretty girls, too, but nothing of that.
SHEBERT—THE GINDAM GIRL: Sweet, simple stuff in the way of musical comedy. Jane Richardson will be remembered. You'll change your mind about gingham.
LYRE—THE LAUGHING LADY: Ethel Harrimore speaking some of Alfred Streich's brilliant dialogue and epigrams. Repulsive femininity, if you get me.
BROAD—MEETING OF THE MINDS: You'll adore Glenn Hunter and naturally you'll be attracted by the title.
Harry Leon Wilson wrote it.
ADELPHI—THE WAY THINGS HAPPEN: Katherine Cornell captivates some feminine psychology. A play of day life in dear, old England.

ART NATIONAL COUNCIL ON JOURNALISM AT MEETING

A National Council on Education for Journalism, consisting of the directors of five of the most fully developed university schools of journalism, was created last week at the annual meeting in Chicago of the American Association of Teachers of Journalism and the Association of American Schools and Departments of Journalism.

The primary function of the Council will be to formulate and maintain standards for admission for journalism, looking forward to a classification of schools similar to the classification of law and medical schools. An executive committee of five members, including the presidents of the five schools, have been appointed to study the problem of classification and to report findings 60 days in advance of the next annual meeting of the Council, and, upon their adoption by the association, to draft a model code of practice. The Council had the task of a classification of schools and departments of journalism.

The directors elected to the Council are: Frank H. Allen, University of Wisconsin, chairman; Prof. John W. Coughlin, Columbia University; Prof. Joseph S. Myers, Ohio State University; Prof. Dreyer W. Allen, University of Oregon, and Prof. Nelson A. Crawford, Kansas State Agricultural College.

Ryan, Wisconsin Coach HOLDS FOOTBALL CLASSES

Coach Jack Ryan, football manager of the University of Wisconsin, has begun a weekly conference and class for correspondence with the Better Boys team. Football tactics are discussed at the conference, fundamental points gone over in detail by the speakers concerned. The Better Boys have sent out all men, and each enrolled member is to take part in the class, which will continue throughout the winter until spring football opens up.

The intention is to have the news of the season on the squad as important as possible, and to make the accumulation of knowledge without delay a great point of attention to them at the spring.
