Seniors Attention!

Seniors who have received their proofs for pictures in the Class Record and have not returned them may be photographed January 25th. Bring them in as soon as possible so that we can forward the pictures to the engraver. This date applies also to those seniors who have not yet had their pictures taken. After January 20th special permission from the Record Board will be necessary if your photograph is to appear in the yearbook.

WASHINGTON, D.C., January 12, 1934

To determine to keep an unlimited record, the freshman basketball team will play its first game of the year away from home tonight with West Chester State Normal School as an opponent. The weather has not yet been fixed to taste, but have piled up large scores against most of the teams they have faced. It's not the men now have been practicing with the Varsity for the last month, and they have put in hard work on offensive and defense. They received their first letter in the way of a check to the West Chester team, but are confident that they will come out on the long end of the score.

HEARTBURN
... have caused no little
... have caused no little

BROMO-MINT
WILL NOT AFFECT THE HEART

We were overjoyed to learn that a subway has been discovered between College and Logan Halls. To further bring the campus we suggest that this be reserved for novices.

... to the already long list of definitions of optimists there might be added one or two of the boys who start to register now for the second term.

Along that same line we wish the athletic coaches would not press their matches as Elimination Matches—it makes it sound too much like the University examinations.

Knowing the faults of the average freshman we would advise that the newArrival not get down on their knees besides their little legs, each night because "Mid-years will advise that the majority of them get down on their knees, it sound too much like Wharton monthly examinations."

... If Butler does all that he claims he is going to do the Officious Twins will be ashamed to show their faces in Philadelphia.

... the subways offers a prize to the person finding anything that rhymes with Gen. Butler.

... and we submit this bit of impossibility: The Harper shows her chocolates. The blinks an eye. The big. Hurrah! For her.

... From porel on a jag.

... it of many of the city's bootleggers has been as "Philadelphia is uniform."

... GENERAL BUTLER is in peace it is in war it is last in the hearts of his constituents.

... see three or four kings to clean up but only "philadelphia.""... we expect to clean up ourselves tonight—the week.

... seems another instrument in that orchestra it has been impossible to get the entire group.

... this peace and solitude couldn't last forever, am making request to College Hall and the second like that good old village Blacksmith shop.

... freshmen were several yesterday sailing is in the great puddles of water that collected in.

... any of the Ledger Lumber winners are like the ones they should be called "Lingo Lumber."

... Probably a few feet missing.

... A SAD FINALE
By Edgar Allan Quot
Think the campus ought to know

... the middle of the main dining hall.

... A veteran of last season's campaign
... a season which was smooth sailing.

... With licks of western confidence but little eastern common sense. He picked his own fraternity, and quite enthusiastically. Advised his friends to wait and see.

... the rivalry intensifies.

... But Alexander's Hauzer hopes were smashed entirely through the rms.

... They didn't get a smoker bid.

... As a journalist, he had no limit.

... And now the disillusioned kid

... in most darkrooms.

... He's contemplated suicide
... In fact I think he's even Iran.

... It's a rather old and innocent.

... Pessimist they say his daily bread

... And she became his bride.

... And Henry seeing all was best

... And not considering the cost

... Allowed the girl to go abroad

... To make arrangements as she said

... And now our fallen hero's wed

... To the already long list of definitions of optimists there might be added one or two of the boys who start to register now for the second term.

... Speaking of things we all understand that the Editor-in-Chief of the Class Record and Henry Alger are fraternity brothers.

expedition has unearthed since 1895.

According to Dr. George B. Gordon, director of the Museum, the collection in itself is of tremendous importance because it contains large blocks of stone weights among other things. The weights are cut from stone form of rare and rare.

One number of the relics is a beautiful mummy, preserved on which, there are also many valuable pieces of jewelry, the weights articles taken
