WATER POLOISTS WIN BY 39-26
Pennsylvania closed its home season with a prolonged battle, handing the C.-N. C. S. N. a score of 3-15. Coach Keenan's men were determined to carry their season's success to the end and with this polished victory the Red and Blue men showed that they merit the highest praise.

OPENING AT LANCASTER, APRIL 9
After a long wait of ten years, the Pennsylvania N. S. Club opened its home swimming season with an afternoon of thrills. The Pennsylvania Alumni N. S. Club and the Penn State University men, with the exception of the American Red Cross team, which has been on vacation since February 18, make up the program. The men's races were run as usual, but the women's program was started in the new gymnasium.

New in an uphill battle in the second half in an effort to tie the Tigers, the Red and Blue ended up in a margin of 31 to 32, last Saturday night on the Weigntman Hall court in the final collegiate League contest of the 1923-24 season for the University armament.

Diamond Candidates Move To River Field

Due to the fact that Franklin Field will be reserved during the comic month for the exclusive use of Coach Lawrence Robinson's track program, the diamond candidates who have reported for practice the last three weeks will be able to take their training off to River Field.

The recent favorable weather has done much to aid the candidates, and the prospects of the candidates at this time are very good. The team will be in excellent condition for this afternoon's practice.

Although weather will be unsatisfactory, the players will have the opportunity to work on their running ability in this division tomorrow; Hoke, Blend, Lance, Haver, Williams, and Pretz will be given special practice with a candidte with speed, and all that the candidates have been doing this spring towards the physical development of the individual will be reflected to the advantage of the university in the team's performance.

The field for the third base position which was left vacant by the retirement of John Skladky of the Class of 1925 and of George O'Leary, a candidate for the Class of 1926, has attracted considerable attention, and Lindsay, Seagrave, Charles and Haver are displaying the "sweeping form," while Jimmy Carmack, captain of the batting team, and an infidel of no little reputation is expected to report immediately as an infidel for the same position.

GRIGORIDON CANDIDATES WILL HEAR COACH YOUNG AT 4 P.M.

All football candidates will meet at 4:30 p.m. today at 1 P.M. Coach Young will give the men a talk, explaining his plans for the coming season. It is believed that he will be more fingers on the dotted line and that only minor changes will be made in the lineup until the final meet will be made by the end of this week. As the season is still too early to be sure just how many players will be used in this sport the candidates will have to wait until they have been accepted by the coach.

One such inviting talk will be the one that Coach Young will give to the men to-day. It is hoped that these counselors may also be offered to the candidates who have yet to make in the team. It is also hoped that the grounds will be secured.

UNIVERSITY MUSEUM
GETS VALUABLE HEAD

An honor board of Athens in the style of Scopas, one of the most notable pieces of Greek sculpture ever brought to this country, will be placed on exhibit to-day at the University Museum. Thirty-three and figure statues. The head, which is according to European and American authorities on sculpture, is said to have been made after the same fourth century B.C. original which is lost. In any case, Dr. Gordon says that the head in the Museum possesses the most admirable qualities of both the fourth century B.C. and the fifth century B.C. art in its search. The one acquired by the Museum is proof of the influence of the one from the left.

 ven on the Science of English and its relation to the rest of the world, London is the best place to study. The University of London, one of the oldest and most prestigious in the world, offers a wide range of courses in both undergraduate and graduate studies. To be eligible for admission, applicants must meet the specific requirements set by the university, which may include a minimum GPA, standardized test scores, and a statement of purpose. Tuition fees and living costs are also considered. Overall, London is a wonderful place to study and learn about the rich history and culture of England and the United Kingdom.

Westerners To Hold Elaborate Banquet

The Rocky Mountain Club of the University has completed plans for its annual banquet. This event has been a tradition of the club since its organization and no pains have been spared to make this year's meeting the biggest and most elaborate yet.

It is planned to hold the affair Friday evening, April 1, in the West Room of Bookbinders. As a special feature, surprise awards of a truly westerly nature have been planned by the committee to charge. Jack Dura, quarterback of the football team, will be master of ceremonies, the group of speakers have been secured, one of whom is Mr. Twigg, the popular professor of Psychology.
