440 TEAMS ENTERED FOR INTERNATIONAL RELAYS

Cambridge, Edinburgh, and University of Havana Among Those to Be Represented

EXPECT MORE TEAMS TO APPLY

Although three weeks yet remain in which to register for Pennsylvania’s great international cricket carnival to be held on Franklin Field April 25th and 26th, nearly 200 colleges and schools that entered last year are already on the entry list, bringing the total up to 440. By the date of the closing of entries, Manager Orton estimates that at least 600 colleges and schools will have sent word that they will be present.

The entry list is most representative, including Cambridge and Edinburgh, Universities of England and Scotland respectively, the University of Havana, Cuba, and the Hamilton Collegiate Institute of Canada. All of the United States will be represented by the best institutions within their borders. Oregon Agricultural College and Occidental have entered along with numerous mid west woolen colleges, and teams from the other others but show the names of scores of the best known colleges of this country such as Harvard, Yale, Princeton, Pennsylvania, Cornell, Columbia, Brown, Dartmouth, H. L. M. Michigan Wisconsin, Chicago, Missouri, Kansas, Notre Dame, Ohio State, Pennsylvania, Virginia, Johns Hopkins and many others.

Carnegie will take over its record breaking team for the sprint medley and the German department of Illinois Institute, Boston College and Michigan will oppose them with teams each of which expects to win and make a new record.

In the hockey class Yale, Harvard, Holy Cross and Virginia all have teams that should be in contention. Scores of teams, 20 seconds each, most remarkable prospect for in all the entries Harvard have three teams, namely Harvard, Pennsylvania and Brown have shown that there is time in this event. Both the quarter and the half hour promises promise for with new records and all the other championship events are expected to do as usual, with the exception of the four mile championship. The latter is this is only event which is not up to the highest intellectual level this year.

The special events will also be of an extremely high class with the most interest centered in the international sporting races in which the British champion, Eric Lindahl of Edinburgh University, Scotland, will meet the pace of our American college sprinters.
