MIDDLE WEST SPRINTER ENTERS RELAY CARNIVAL

Gray, of Butler College, Indianapolis, is a contender for honors in Straightaway Races

WILL FACE STRONG OPPOSITION

Extravagance in the Intercollegiate Sprint Flares of Pennsylvania's Relay Carnivals will probably fail of being equaled from the Midland West in the person of Glenn Gray, of Butler College. Butler apologetic is the champion sprinter of the Indiana Intercollegiate A. A., according to a report received by George W. Beaston, manager of the Relays, yesterday. Though comparatively unknown, Gray has been chalking up some very good records for the century and 220-yard sprints.

Gray showed real ability last year by winning the Indiana Intercollegiate 100 in 9.45 seconds. In a later meet he repeated his stellar performance, beating out Tyte, of Purdue, who finished second to Clarke, of Johns Hopkins, in the National Collegiate Championships. R. O. Page, the track mentor at Butler College, states that Gray is very anxious to test the field in the International Intercollegiate at Pennsylvania and he is fairly careful to perfect his form. The Indiana sprinter is also making fast time in the 220, having acquitted himself in 21.64 seconds on several occasions.

Butler College will also enter a one-mile relay team in the Class B championship with relay teams in the Class A and Class C lines. The quartet has maintained all of the Class B Middle Western course

This May Be Your Tale!

When the team entries for the Pennsylvania Relay Carnival closed yesterday, a new record had been established as far as the number of schools to be represented is concerned. An exactly 366 colleges and schools have sent word that they will be present on April 23 and 24. This is an advance of seventy-five over last year’s total and indicates greatly increased interest in the Carnival. Out of the hundred and thirteen colleges on the list, no less than 264 high schools have entered. This will necessitate several more races, some of which have been placed on the first day, others will be added to the Saturday program, which will start the Carnival on that day at 10:30 o’clock.

The judges and stewards will be divided in groups so that one squad will work for half the afternoon and another squad the rest of the time.

The college list is the most representative that has ever been received. In addition to the big colleges and universities, the University of Havana and Canadian colleges will lend international flavor to the Carnival. Colleges will come from all over the country, Texas being represented by the University of Texas and Silesian University, California by Occidental College, Oregon by the Oregon Agricultural College, Florida by the University of Florida. The Middle West, New England and the newer Southern colleges are also well represented.

It has been an enormous task to classify the different colleges and schools, but this has been done by Manager Oliver in the best of his ability. Years ago the entire list for the final classification was published at one time, but this year that would of itself take up at least three columns. The final college listings will today be given below and the final class for the schools published later on.

The big college events to be given in April to finally decide in which of the championships they will compete. At present it can only be stated that Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Columbia, Dartmouth, Cornell, Michigan, Missouri, Notre Dame, Florida, Harvard, Chicago, Syracuse, Pittsburgh, Oklahoma, Johns Hopkins, Georgia, Tennessee, Ohio State, Holy Cross, Boston College and others in addition to the foreign teams will be found in those events.

The other college events are as follows: this classification being final.

Midwest Athletic Conference: College One-mile Relay Champions: Class A: (To be run on Friday), Berkley, Lehigh, Lafayette, Johns Hopkins, Syracuse, New York University; Class B (As run on Saturday), DePaul, McCormick, Drexel, Franklin and Marshall, Gettysburg, Millersburg, Haverford, Harvard, Union, Washington, Jefferson and Westminster.

Philadelphia City College one-mile relay championship will be given on Friday. Philadelphia Institute, Philadelphia College of Pharmacy, Philadelphia College of Osteopathy, Philadelphia College of Osteopathy, Philadelphia Normal, Penn State College of Optometry.

Normal School one-mile relay championship: Mifflinville, West Chester, Erie State Normal, Shippenburg, Keyser at Kutztown, Philadelphia Normal and Trenton Normal.

College Class races, off at one minute: Class 1—Bates, Colgate, Harvard, Bucknell, Marietta, Johns Hopkins; Class 2—Hobart, Union, Bowdoin, Julliard, Boston University, Colby, New York University and Fairfield; Class 3—C.C. C.N., N. Y., Union, Creighton, Lincoln University of Pennsylvania, Maryland Normal and Juniata; Class 4—St. Bonaventure, Loyola, Manhattan, George Washington, Savage School of Physical Education, University of Oregon (Plotz—Lees—Wilkerson—Drexel, St. Joseph, Chasney, Tringham, Galbraith, Washington, Shippensburg, Schrull College.
