And To Dance

In planning a journey to South America, no consideration is more important than the vessel that is to be your home for the voyage of several weeks. The luxuries that are included as part of the palatial private yacht are realized in the appointments of the famous "Fiat" steamers. The cabins on board (outside) are cozy and homelike. Each meal in a dainty feast. Everything contributes to make the voyage itself as pleasant as the days that await you in the South American wonderlands.

Last year we advertised the following items and influenced in excess of 100,000 new customers to try these products and services. We are writing a new plan which will enable you to do more business in the spring.

COACH D’ELISCU HAS
IMPOSING RECORD IN PHYSICAL EDUCATION

Success of Gym Team Mentor Result of Long Athletic Experience and Rare Personality

HAS CHANGED OUTCOME OF SPORT

The recent upset of Pennsylvania’s gymnast team from previous expectation is large measure due to Coach W. Francis Wetmore. His advent on the scene in January, 1923, found fine men, but a season of former team but due to graduate in June, thus leaving entirely an unprepared for future needs. Dr. D’Eliscu instilled a genuine spirit of sports and enthusiasm into this sound team and carried through a happy successful season. He removed his team in the fall with only two men back from the combination of the year before. However, the present season was completed with a squad of twenty men of which thirteen are of first spring caliber and of this number all but two will be available for next year.

Coach D’Eliscu’s success at the University has a background of distinguished service in the field of physical education. Born in America in 1906 he entered the active hand of his parents, Pat in Southern France, where he spent the major part of his boyhood. He returned to this side of the Atlantic for his secondary education attending high school in New York City. He continued in Colombia University taking the degree of B. S. in 1923. In the three successive years he completed his education at the University of Paris where he began a study of medicine, taking his first degree in Physical Education awarded by that institution. He also died at a famous French Gymnasium. In 1926 he took a degree in Education and later completed a course at Savage Institute in New York City.

While there, he was a pioneer in the playground movement, not in his years of teaching physical education in New York schools and in the World War Military Academy, he organized the first street playgrounds of that city. At the outbreak of the World War, he enlisted in the French contingent, and taught war facts in the offense training camps of the French Army. Upon America’s entrance into the struggle he conducted a school of physical education for American officers. His two years in the service ended with his supervision of athletic at Camp Dix and at the Philadelphia Navy Yard.

Immediately after his discharge from the service, Dr. Eliscu entered upon his present position of assistant director of physical education at Temple University in Philadelphia. In this capacity, he taught athletics and tennis and reached all the teams on the Temple roster of sports.

Pennsylvania BIDS YOU WELCOME

Today the University stands as host to over 9,000 alumni as the Thirtieth Annual Relay Carnival gets under way on Franklin Field. To each and every one, from the freshman seal to our eminent visitors from overseas, Pennsylvania bids a most cordial and wholehearted welcome. It is our pleasure to have you here today and to make of you and your guests a part of our events. It is our sincere hope that your visit will bring you the same joy as your presence brings us...

The Pennsylvania undergraduate body, the Pennsylvania graduate body and those members who will wear the Blue and White, stand ready to help in any way possible. The University has "open house." Your slightest wish will find us ready and waiting to care for you and make your visit pleasant. The sport of friendly rivalry in which you compete brings its own reward that in no way can... B.F. KEITH'S VAUDEVILLE

The 7th and 8th Legitimate dairies is the headquarters of a very elegant and classic on Keith this week. The orchestra, under the direction of the Duke Ellington and his band, has been presented here in recent years. They keep the audience in a continuous state of enjoyment, and their set is much different from the usual offerings of other blackface ensembles. Next week, the newest ensemble, comes Emanuel Gillette, one of the finest and most amusing of the nation's blacks who has ever appeared in this city. He is very well assisted by Elise Lango.

Relief Valve, the deftly Welsh primer, comes direct from his London success, sings several numbers with much charm and in a simple, sweet voice. Her accompanist, Leon Baskoff, an excellent pianist and presented several fine selections. Dave Robb, an old Philadelphia favorite, presents his own specially designed dance, arrive, and scoring a hit with the audience. The William street resident served service in a very pleasing manner and also formed a novel and distinctive sketch that were much enjoyed by all. Patricia and Company, Helen McCall, in a pantomime sketch called "The Poor Boy," was not only amusing but also amusing.

Mabel Normand appears at Fox

Mabel Normand, famous film star, will be present at the Fox Theatre next week in conjunction with her latest picture. She will make a brief talk on the subject which has earned her and all of the fads of the extra in the motion picture studio.

STANLEY CELEBRATES FOUNDING

The Stanley Theater will celebrate the Tenth Anniversary of the founding of the Stanley Company of America this week of April 25th with a program of such variety and entertainment delight as has never before been presented at this home of the vaudeville and a feature of attraction. The feature play which will be a presentation of Booth Tarkington's stage success, "Magnolia," produced by Paramount by James Cruze, the man who made "The Covered Wagon." The surrounding program includes a special Terpischorean feature the Thirty Anniversary merrily presentation, arranged by Paul Dodd, with music by Buzzond. The special attraction will be the reproduction of Tom Burke, the popular British actor, who scored such a tremendous hit when he was here a short time ago and who has been recommissioned a special anniversary, week In the form of a tribute, the thousands of requests received from patrons who desired to hear his sweet voice again. My Burke has prepared a program of new selections for this visit. The Stanley Symphony Orchestra, under the direction of Manager Pasternack, will provide an special anniversary appeals, Homeley's "Southern Ragpoetry." There will be other odd of attractions and surprises that will delight audiences.

The story of "The Fighting Coward," in which Mabel Normand will star, is an affectionate fellow who thrilled everyone along the Mississippi. The idea being to convince folk that the youngster in about the most dangerous of all traits and the whole thing is a hit.

MANY NOTABLES AMONG REED PRIZE WINNERS

Award of One Year’s Interest on $150 to Seniors of Wharton, Moore & Towne Schools

ESTABLISHED BY ALUMNI, 1875

One of the oldest prizes for which prize winners of the university are eligible to compete is known as the Henry Reed Prize. It was founded by the Rollins, the Allen, and the Wilson families, and the senior who submits the best essay on the subject, “Reflections Upon the Rights of American Colonization.” The contest is open only to seniors in the College, Wharton, Moore, and Towne Science Schools and the successful student is entitled to two years’ interest from the date of issue.

Many of the prize winners, in the past, have been members of the faculty after being graduated. Charles C. Stearns, who received the award in 1882, later became President of the University. In 1893 the prize was awarded to Frank Cooke Nagle. He was well known for the work of the Philadelphia Society and held the position of director of its work. The Annual Registrar, Nagle is now a full time instructor in the English Department.

The following is a list of prize winners since the year of its beginning till the present day:

TOOTELL THROWS HAMMER 190 FEET AT BOWDOIN

Frederick D. Toottell, American Intercollegiate hammer throwing champion, and America’s hope in the coming Olympic games, last week exceeded the world’s record in an unofficial throw on the Bowdoin College infield field.

The hammer crashed through the high beam from 10 to 10 feet 7 1/2 inches from the point where it was thrown. The world’s record is 198 feet 7 1/2 inches made by P. J. Ryan, of New York in 1912.

Can You Propose Without Being Accepted?

That is also an accomplishment, says Joe.

Dear Editor:

You know the compelling influence of environment—a pron, a girl, moon and music. Sometimes, just the girl is all that is necessary. And what about this ever increasing popular sport of proposing—the girl might accept! Yet, some other time, when you feel in the mood, she might not accept. How to propose realistically and how to keep their acceptances and refuse in accord with your whims—immediate and future—is, I believe, the crux of a perfect line. And, I’m sure you’d be pleased to hear that I have achieved this perfection in my line from reading VANITY FAIR.
