Class of 1926 Honors
Streeter by Election to Senior Presidency

Robert A. Streeter, '26, was chosen to guide the course of "ship 1926" on the last lap of its journey, as ever chief of the Pennsylvania Fleet. He was elected a junior last year, and Paul E. Hulbert, '24, is the only member of the Class of 1924 in the senior body. The new president succeeds Robert F. Ligon, '30, in the position of chief of the fleet.

Further election procedures are to be closely watched by the Undergraduate Council and leader of various campus organizations. Streeter is the ex-officio president of the Interfraternity Council and the council of the Undergraduate Council Executive Council, in addition to being a member of both the Interfraternity Council and the council of the Undergraduate Council.

The Pennsylvania Fleet is a popular undergraduate organization which includes all the undergraduates of the University. Streeter is in charge of the fleet, which is composed of all the members of the university who are not seniors.

PHILOMATHEAN PLANS THREE PRESENTATIONS

After a successful season in drama, debating and musical work, the Philomathean Society will bring its activities to a close on May 22 when they will present three more plays at the Philadelphia Club. The plays are: "The Lost Silk Hat", "Old Irving Gate", "Piano and the Fox", and "A Trip to the Moon", written by Lord Dunsany in the process of forming this league for the purpose of enabling university organizations to secure speakers for meetings with small effort and low cost. The plan of the Bureau is to continue its economic and serviceminded policy, at least for the first year. Premiere speakers in this field will be available representing every branch of thought. The men will be furnished at unusually low figures, transportation being the only charge. Membership dues and individual contributions will be the only revenue and the only expense of an executive secretary.

The following members have been invited to join the Bureau: Distinguished Yale, Harvard, Princeton, Columbia, Pennsylvania Brown and the more prominent women's colleges.

A MERITED SHOW OF APPRECIATION

The whole student body seems to have taken kindly to the idea, as presented by the Undergraduate Council, of planning the efforts of the man who represented the athletic field by means of a testimonial dinner to those who have kept the interest alive this year. It is an appropriate project of doing our forebears justice, but one which should certainly receive the unqualified support of the whole group of undergraduates. And from the forecast sent out so far, this will undoubtedly be the case.

And now the choice is one of selecting their classmates on to greater efforts, and the passing word of congratulations after a contest, is little that the average man who is not athletically inclined can do to show his appreciation of the efforts which the members of the various houses put forth. It is no easy task for the life of the man on a Varsity team, and for the sake of representative personages, to succeed each. Hours of study on the particular game which he takes up, more grueling hours of hard practice, and long periods when the color of living is in airless training on the life of the man who would win his Varsity letter. It is an organization equally by itself, but hold on there is the same amount of school work and the same scholastic struggles that the rest of us may see nearly all our efforts are carrying out. And although it may seem to be a great thing to win one’s way to the athletic field, the life of the man who does it is no bed of roses--not even a great deal. And to it a only fitting and proper for the rest of the students, the men for whom the athletics are representative, and realizing, should show their appreciation in the only way that is open for them, and that is by a public testimonial. Support for such a recognition should be, and in all probability will be. The undergraduates will not be backward. Through which crowd yesterday without losing his hips, he could be turned into a large election booth.

The Rocky Mountain Club is now making arrangements for a special coat to be taken home in June. Will these small towns get a thrill when the members put on the coat on the street where they came from? It’s going to be an awful feat for the members too, when they have to get out of their collegiate ways and don the sharply fitted coat for the season.

"GREENS PICK FRENCH AS COUNCIL HEAD"

As honest attempt to be "in process to clear up the international situation."

For some time now a lamentation has been ranging in this paper and the readers seem to be taking the attitude on the matter of letting George do it. This attitude is definitely wrong and we think it is due to carelessness rather than willful neglect. Therefore, we hope some enterprising lad will dash around with the answer to the time worn statement that "WINTER'S WANT A SESSION."

Keith's Notes

The handsome woman in the American Indian costume today is a man. Usually this may sound odd, but it is corrected by the eyes during the final scene of the show and the man who has been the object of the statement will be a reconstructed actress at the R.F. Keith Theatre this week, no other than Julian Eltinge.

As a special music week attracting the attention of R.F. Keith's Theatre has selected the Minnie Nellie and Sara Komis, the noted American colorists. These sisters have just closed their season in other fields of endeavor and are always a welcome addition to the R.F. Keith's bill. A treat is promised the lovers of music in this city due for the weekend of May 12th. Kathleen O'Hara will make her first bow to Keith Philadelphia. In an unusual dress, offspring of the "Caledon in Cities," Miss O'Hara will be starred in the next American appearance in America.

George M. Young, the versatile, member of R.F. Keith's Theatre, has come far; far from the secret rooms from which we were enabled to record Young's recent career in the latest issue of the magazine.

Establish 805 Prize for Veterinary School Seniors

Fifty dollars has been offered by Dr. Bruce Halt, of Spavin Hospital for Animals in New York City, to be awarded to the senior class of the Veterinary School who receives the highest grade in proficiency in the small animal clinical work. This prize is named the Jeannette Blair Prize, and is to be awarded at the close of this term as well as each succeeding year.

The Woman’s Auxiliary of the American Veterinary Medical Association has also offered to fund $100 each year in aid of one of the veterinary Veterinary Schools in the United States or Canada. Certain conditions must be complied with in order to receive this fund. Any veterinary student interested may get complete information at the office of the Dean of the Veterinary School.

Athletic Council Will Review Tennis Rules

Will Debate Issuance of Statement Favoring Reconsideration of Rule by Net Solons

Will Discuss Cricket Recall

From all indications the meeting of the Council on Athletics will be held today at 40th Street, will be one of unusual interest. Recently the Council was requested to reconsider the rule which barred the appearance of the intercollegiate slate adopted by the General Alumni Board, to make public a statement favoring a reconsideration of the intercollegiate slate adopted by the Alumni Association for some time now. This rule bars all tennis players who write for newspapers, magazines and other periodicals from playing in amateur races and as it affects the standing of W. F. Tilden, National Amateur champion and former member of a University tennis team, it has brought many protests from all parts of the country as well as from Philadelphia.

It developed yesterday that the University Council on Athletics has on its books a rule passed in 1917 which bars members of Pennsylvania athletic teams from writing articles pertaining to its sports. It seems that most of the members of the Council are in sympathy with the views expressed by thousands of other tennis devotees, that the rule of the Lawn Tennis Association be forever abolished. In view of the existing rule of the Council it will be interesting to note what development will take place as the meetings of this afternoon when the whole controversy.

The rule which stands on the books of the Council at the present time reads as follows:

"No coach, captain, manager, member, or subordinate of any regular or regular teams or crew shall grant any interviews, write or give authority to any article for publication, signed or unsigned, on any subject relating to any team or crew, or concerning teams or crews in the same sport, or to the conduct of a sport at the University of Pennsylvania, but this shall be without prejudice to the coach of any team from receiving the usual inter views on the eve of a game nor shall it prevent a coach from propriety prices for publication on the general subject of his sport, if they have no special reference whatever to the University or to any of its members."

The rule has been a broad interpretation since its adoption in 1917 and does not interfere with students who write for sports in general but is aimed at members of the sports teams who capitalize on their positions on the teams for personal profit, or special advantage above their particular sport.

The press will also discuss the question of restoring cricket to the list of minor sports from which it was recently dropped along with trap shooting and polo. The Board of Directors of the Alumni Society has expressed a desire to see the game continued and it is for this reason that the matter be reconsidered.

WE. COLLEGE PRESENT CHAMPION

Pennsylvania's debating team left last day for Boston where it will oppose the Boston University representatives this season. Tomorrow evening Bates College will furnish the opposition at Lewiston, Me. With these two contests the season for the Red and Blue debaters will terminate.

Captain Arthur T. Gilmore, Paul H.
Schultz and Patrick A. Mall, all of whom are Wharton winners, make up the bates team which will defend the deposit of the question, "Resolved, that the United States should imme-cdiately become a member of the Permanent Court of International Justice with out reservations," in both engagements.

The Boston team is a very capable engagement, having been defeated but seven times as a whole. One of the Mos-Obtage, George A. McLaughlin, 74, has been named in another debate of which only one was lost. He will be assisted to start by A. Leonard Brown, 74, and David H. Green, 75, both of whom are well-known college debaters.

Rocky Mountain Club
Charters Special Car

With new Plan Program for Amazing
Entertainment While in Transit

For the past three years the Rocky Mountain Club has arranged for a special car to carry all Pennsylvania stuents who travel in the west, home for their vacation. This year the club has planned to continue the custom by its predecessors and will run over the Baltimore and Ohio and Northern Pacific lines. Each year the trip entertainment varies and the number of men taking this advantage to travels on the special trains is an increase within the past ten years.

Last year as a matter of fact, the men were not in St. Paul by a number of Pennsylvanian "edits" who took them on a stop of the "Eden" line. From St.
Paul they went to Minneapolis. Where-ther veteran the University of Minnesta's. The students boarded the famous Mississippi's which had been bought forth there for their benefit.

This year they will be able to return the favor to two of the state's big points, in addition to the trip to St. Paul.

This year the club has prepared for special dinner to be served on board the train at which there will be all kinds for all palates. There is a ban on the train, in fact, that the finest dinner the train is not as yet scheduled but it will be approximately June 18, and so the train is over.

How Improved My Line in One Evening!

Dear Editor:

I am sending you the two photographs above. They tell the remarkable story of what you have done for me. The first one was taken just after I had recklessly supposed that the Ponte Rialto had something to do with Auction Bridge. The two women are engaged in looking for the Torricellian vacuum. . . . Now just look at the second picture, and see the difference! My social success is at least assured, for I am now a regular
