Noyes Believes Europe's Economic and Political Course Approaches Bankruptcy and War

GEN. BLISS FAVORS WORLD COURT

Princeton Professor Calls Attention to World Crisis at League of Nations Foundation in Europe

"Immediate cooperation with European powers is the only satisfactory way in which the United States can earn the world's respect," said the statement of Mr. Philip P. Noye, who at Princeton University yesterday spoke on the subject "America and the Peace of Europe." He was indicating to the League of Nations Foundation for discussion at its annual meeting, which opened at the Wilshire Boulevard Hotel, Los Angeles, Monday, Mr. Pierpont R. Noyse, in the course of his discussion of French political policy, expressed the opinion that Europe is economically working toward bankruptcy, politically toward war. Mr. Noye's position as an American member of the Commission of Occupation in Germany in 1919 and 1920 has given him an unusual opportunity for studying European conditions.

Many speakers were present at the opening of the League of Nations or the World Court featured discussions on Saturday. General J. K. Bliss, who presided over the World Court discussion during the International Conference in London, also urged cooperation with Europe in the formation of such a court.

A CHALLENGE

The Class of 1954, presenting with the knowledge that they have just completed the first successful endeavor dare in the history of the University, if they succeed in doing that thing which has never been done, they will have laid the foundation upon which they will build their future. The statistics for the first three days of the "prize" are very encouraging, but assure the truth of the above statement. We are sure that they will be able to light interesting facts. In this case, it is simply that the prizes are worth having. You may say that this can be expected, in view of the fact that the fraternity groups profit by organization. You know the fraternity men; they are grouped, giving the fraternity the advantage above the men whose interests are not as closely tied together. But the difference, in our way of thinking, should not be so great.

Every man in the senior class is, first of all, a Pennsylvania man, using primary abstractions or the University. Who is in behalf of the University is made, as is the case in the Endowment Drive, it is directed to every man as an individual. Whether he belong to a group designated as a fraternity, or whether he is refused in a larger group, many of whom reside at their homes in Philadelphia, should not make any difference. To every man the University has given the same chance—education. And this education has cost the University twice as much as the single point in the form before.

The Endowment Drive office is located in Room 304, Franklin Hall. Any man who is not approached by a solicitor, and that will be the exception, can fill his old gaia in Pennsylvania as proper, and send his gift to the University by same the offers and turn in his subscription to that office. To undersell men that he will lose the one-third and one-half point a day for eight years, just little mile as is that of his Alumni Association.

The statistic compiled in the course of the past three days are of a nature to lead one to look on them in light of a challenge. What will be the answer of the challenge? Will they show, in a capable way, the loyalty which many old but to believe exists in their breasts by recent events, loyalty which should exist without question, for they are Pennsylvania men. We really believe so, to be false natural giants and lack of a sense of worthiness in an organizational group has unnumbered their efforts. Nevertheless, the challenge still stands.

SLIPPING DOWNWARD

Within the last few months the prestige and pride which used to be attached to the winning of a minor sportletter has greatly diminished. Although, we still have a long list of minor sports, each of which used to be attached to the winning of a minor sportletter is used in common as minor sports. The reason for this is to let anyone who can hold a straight golf shot or make a straight west point, for the reason that they are Pennsylvania men. We really believe so, to be false natural giants and lack of a sense of worthiness in an organizational group has unnumbered their efforts. Nevertheless, the challenge still stands.

Last Saturday we saw what appeared to be a good joke on some strange occasion and likewise. They were found awaydilly dimming up Twenty-seventh street, apparently under the impression that it was Woodland sewer.

One of the Brothers Beattie in doing the opera in that critical way probably trying to divine means of keeping the entire street toward the store, so that pedestrians would naturally flit that way.

Well but only a philosopher would propose a law at all perishable. The Brothers would even spend a couple of hours to have it done.

It is claimed that college men make the best diplomats in an activity recently printed in the daily papers. If this is so, we will know when to ask for the majority of the present junior classmen in a few years.

We will further hypothesize that there are at least three in that same class who have taken the national bell cuts and several Government irrigation projects along with a Twenty Dollar without slipping up nearly as bad as a number of Washington official did. And if we could, we should like to have at least a few hundred good cases up to a present note with the signature of the President.

Role that word "Organize" is taken by years from J. E. Beattie's Column in the Public Ledger and we intend to use it whenever appropriate after. Better look it up.

Rilla, the College Horse, made his initial appearance in front of the laws under the other yard. While pinching pine, at this moment in front of Colonel H. W. Emsmoun, who appeared to be just as it was ordered up the great fly in the middle of Emsmoun's back. The fly was left there.

Emma Jones, one of the Cur Edend supporters has a few more months to make her last day, when she will be the male multitudes when one can buy a cow of Twenty five and sixpence horse.

Emma remarks also that the fraternity men are very much like the Alice. You'll be able to find one person and then all the rest. "It's the way," she says, and it is expected not to come out of the UI, you go out with one of them, you have got to with the while fraternity remains true and the same old men.

On the other hand, one of our regular academic clubs is only to have a way to fill in here with a Cord. Riling the "right side" method and then never looking back again.

After all there is no such thing to the claim of certain cigarette manufacturers that they would walk a man for a dollar. We were raising the monthly of a man who ran five miles for a fun.

"Past to Event Managers in National Parks." Can't say that there is anything to it but this certain looks like a good opportunity at the Library.

Some of the fraternity that didn't face to well that not and rushing Ranch have warmed enough that in the time that applications for superior Forbes in the honor fraternity must be filled.

Suggested slogan—Philadelphia, the City of Energy love.

This looks under done is how banishment would not, without further competition, to the senior who carried in a research on the number of common that can be written from a single bottle of ink.

The modes of the men were rather than on the north end of Logan Hall has improved remarkably in the last few years. Instead of always they can water, and watered and watered the outside and the inside having further discrediting the building.

What has every sophomore class failed to do? To make a hole on May Day.

Oil, plus Emma Jones, Gina, Joe and Scott.

It is an unfortunate situation when a minor sportletter failed into empty fountain, but it is a fact at Pennsylvania. The reason, on the cause, are the hard to keep. Minor sports, more active now than since they have ever been, there are more and more going on. But it is the same which they want, the reward of mortifications that they report at the end of the season. Perhaps this may be a healthy indication but nevertheless, we would like to see a little more pride in that go attached to the winning of one of these awards.

LACROSSE BLANKETS by FAST LEHIGH TEAM

In a fast and hard-fought game the red and blue lacrosse teams sustained another defeat by the latter when they were upsetted by the strong Lehigh twelve, 9 to 7, South Bethlehem, by the score of 59. This is the first tilt of the season in which the Pennsylvania stick-slingers have been made to work. Lehigh has lost only one game so far this season, to St. Louis, and according to the standing of the teams in the Inter-Collegiate League at the present time, they should take either first place or tie for the championship.

At the close of the initial period the score was 59 in favor of the Up-Beaters. Many attempts were made by the University team to score, according to the excellent work of the Brown and White defense, who held the attack with an iron hold. Most of the time, they were unable to obtain a score. The blue, as a rule, as the act which were made by the red and blue attack were stopped successfully by the Lehigh goal keeper, who was doing his outstanding player all through the game.

Pius Students in Demand

Public men are in such demand that a two-year scholarship has been offered to Colman's political slum. Although the scholarship is not offered officially by the university, it is open to all students. J. J.
