MANAGERIAL COMPETITION OPENS

Due to the inclement weather of the past few days, and the small number of public appearances of Coach Vollmer, the Mask and Grill has been somewhat slowed in getting under way. Starting early next week, all members who are interested in cross-country will report to the Track Club in the Athletic Building where arrangements will be made for the competition.

In order to keep abreast of all the activities of the Mask and Grill, it is essential that the rules of the competition be observed and followed. The Mask and Grill Stadium, which will be used for the following events, is located on the University grounds.

Exterior Publicity Campaign

Under the supervision of J. L. Wright, 25 Wh., vice-president of the Kite and Key Society, competition for membership will start today at 12:30 in the union. Only those who are enrolled in the society and have met the requirements for membership will be eligible for election.

The Kite and Key Society is an organization of students who are interested in the development of the campus and the union. It is open to all members of the University, and is intended to promote the welfare of the institution.

The membership cards may be obtained at the union, and the rules of the competition for membership will be observed.

FORUM MEETING POSTPONED

Owing to the confusion resulting from the closing of the University, the Forum meeting scheduled for Monday evening could not be held. The meeting therefore has been postponed to Friday afternoon, October 3, at 3:30 in the union. The members of the Forum are urged to attend.

COMPETITION FOR NEW FOOTBALL SONG OPENS

For the Mask and Grill has been materialized to publish "The Bennett Musk," a monthly magazine for women, by the University women's society. The magazine is intended to provide a forum for the expression of the views and opinions of the women of the University, and to promote the welfare of the institution.

Subscription blanks are available for ten cents each, and may be obtained from the union or the Mask and Grill headquarters.

First Practice To Be Held On Field Today

The 1924 football team, according to reports, will be composed as follows:

Northwestern State School 4

Norfolk High School 4

Maryville College 3

Pennsylvania State College 3

Washington & Jefferson College 3

Ohio State University 2

University of Pennsylvania 2

West Chester State College 2

The team is composed of men who have won recognition in the state and is expected to be one of the strongest in the country.

Fall Crew Practice

Nets Few Blasphemers

In accordance with the number of candidates reporting for the crew, the number of men who have signed up is much smaller than before. This is due to the fact that many of the men have been called into service in the armed forces.

The weather of the last two days has been unfavorable, with much rain and cold. The crew has not been able to practice in the river, and the men have been forced to remain indoors. This has made it difficult for the men to keep up with their regular training.

HOLIDAYS AT OXFORD FOR STUDY PURPOSES

Social and Athletic Activities Play Great Part in Student Life

WEN ON OWN RESPONSIBILITY

The most striking difference between Oxford and American Universities is that there are but twenty-four weeks of class work in a five-three week term and that the Christmas and Easter holidays last each about one week! And the reason for such an unusual holiday is to give the student an chance for his studying. That this is a well reconnoitered state of affairs can be seen from the fact that once a member of the faculty attempted to shorten the vacation period upon which those in charge of the Oxford Union are God forbid that we should not have sufficient time to prepare for the coming term.

The most curious difference between Oxford and the American universities, is the division of the former into a number of small colleges, each teaching privately the same courses, but each having its own faculty and buildings. These colleges enroll but a few hundred men apiece, the student being given his choice of colleges entering the University.

It appears that our brothers in Oxford, and those in Cambridge too, for life is much alike in both schools, spend a great deal more time on their athletic, literary, and social activities than we do. While there are no fraternities at Oxford, the students do a great deal of socializing in their rooms, as their needs can be met there. Students may also keep their rooms in the dormitories, which are indestructible brick and tall.

There are no fraternities at Oxford, the students do a great deal of socializing in their rooms, as their needs can be met there. Students may also keep their rooms in the dormitories, which are indestructible brick and tall.

There is no compulsory "gum" walk, every man having his own walk for one sport or another. While the walks are on the hard, they are not nearly as costly as ours, a greater number of men taking in sport.

The Recess in America is more of "poor for sports' sake" than an ordained effort to keep the men off the streets.

The interest in literary and debating societies is much greater than in this country. In one college of six thousand students there are seven literary societies and one debating society. Some of the other colleges also have a university, a weekly newspaper, a symphony orchestra, a debate club, and a few social clubs which have rooms upon the campus. Therefore, students differ from freshmen so that the numbers together eat or sleep at the same hour.

There are many customs which have been handed down from generation to generation, but which have now fallen into disuse. At one time all students were required to attend chapel. At present, the only required part of the curriculum is to go to the chapel and write a roll, and then go back to bed. The gym, similar to our recreation areas, is open in all hours. If you should enter the dormitories after ten o'clock you would be fined two cents for every minute until midnight, when the assessment would be made, and on the--

The Greatest Overcoat Sale Ever Known!

Tomorrow Thursday—Wanamaker's—Philadelphia

16,241 Men's Winter All-Wool Overcoats and Ulsters

$16.50 for overcoats regularly priced $30 and $35—$28.50 for overcoats regularly priced $40 to $65—

The circumstances of this greatest overcoat sale that the world has ever known are brief and can be brought immediately to the point.

The famous Daniel Boone Mills, one of America's greatest woolen companies, some time ago decided to use their own woolens and make overcoats. They made great numbers of very fine overcoats and sold them all over the country. But recently production overtook distribution. There was a surplus of over 25,000. To keep factories busy in four cities it was necessary to turn these 25,000 overcoats into money at once. The manufacturers came to Wanamaker's and asked if we could take 25,000 overcoats, and we told them we could, if the price was right. The price was made right, average half price, and we will market the overcoats at average half price. 16,241 are now ready in our stores in Philadelphia and New York. They go on sale tomorrow morning, Thursday.

This One Day the Store Will Be Open from 8 A. M. to 8 P. M. Use Market Street Entrance

The great sale will be held on the Street Floor, at Market Street, and on the Gallery of the Down Stairs Store. One hundred extra salesmen will be ready to serve you. There will be every facility for quick fitting and convenient buying.

These Are All Really Fine Overcoats In Spite of Their Low Prices

They are all-wool, standard in rigid test and the fabrics are the long-wearing, hard-twist kind. Every overcoat is good for years and years. Most of the overcoats are lined with the best-known lining satin. There is every good model to choose from. Box coats, ulsters, great field coats, country coats, all-purpose coats.

These Are Undoubtedly the Best Overcoat Values That Have Ever Been Offered in Philadelphia

This is your opportunity. Come to Wanamaker's on Thursday and get a brand-new, guaranteed overcoat of the very best description for half as much as you would have to pay at any other time.

FORMER TRACK STAR IS AVIATOR AT 68

Captain Hugh L. Willsoughby, Class of 77, one of the first experimenters in the field of aviation and an old athlete on the Pennsylvania track team was seen in the football game last Saturday wearing the current "P" on his sweater. Although he is 65 years of age he was one of the most enthusiastic supporters on the sidelines. His life is one full of interest and romance.

While in the University, he was sent to the first intercollegiate association meet, in which he won the running broad jump, bringing to the University its first intercollegiate cup. As a result he was the first athlete to wear the Red and Blue on theVarsity team all class are admitted.

In 1908 he met the famous balloonist, Kitty Hawk, who gave him some pointers on his experiments with heavier-than-air machines. He started this work in 1912 and was one of the first to fly a biplane, in 1915, and although he was killed in a fatal accident, he is the first of his kind to reach the United States. He must have been a male citizen of the United States.

The following are the qualifications necessary:
1. He must reside in the United States.
2. He must have completed his sophomore year in college.
3. He must be between nineteen and twenty years of age.
4. He must be between nineteen and twenty years of age.

RHODES SCHOLARSHIP MEN TO BE SELECTED IN OCTOBER

All applications for Rhodes scholarships for the year of 1924 must have their applications in by the 22nd of October. These men are chosen from the Universities of the different states. They must be selected by October 22nd however.

The amount of the scholarship is $5000 per year, and the candidates are chosen, not by examinations, but entirely on the following merits:
1. Literary and scholastic accomplishments, abilities and attainments.
2. Qualities as to manhood, character and leadership.
3. Physical abilities and attainments.
4. The following are the qualifications necessary:

For writing ease and legibility

The Wahl Pen was designed for writing ease and legibility. It is a perfected, modern writing instrument which will aid you in acquiring a practical hand, a readable expression of your thoughts.

All metal construction—gold or silver for permanence and serviceability—gives light weight, fine balance, increased ink capacity, strength to resist wear and abuse. And brings the designer opportunity to produce a pen matching the beauty of a hand-casely cased watch.

Prices in gold filled or silver models $5 to $10.

We'll gladly send it.

And you can't get to New York--

If we're not in town--

to do nothing else but!

JEWISH STUDENT HOUSE

New Institute Will Cooperate With Christian Association For Student Welfare.

ADMINISTRATION ENTHUSIASTIC

With the opening of this year's University life and activities, a new Institute, "The Jewish Students' House," is being ushered into existence. Situated on the campus at 34th Walnut Street, the House, through its director, Samuel Diamond, is anxious to serve all students of the University. The building will be thrown open sometime during the coming week as soon as the finishing touches are added to its interior. In the meantime, the offices of the Institute will be temporarily located in the Christian Association, 3417 Woodland Avenue, where Samuel Diamond will be glad to render any possible assistance to students.

A committee of prominent Philadelphians in conjunction with campus leaders are working to provide the House with a homelike atmosphere. Reception quarters, club rooms, a library devoted especially to Jewish literature and other features have been provided. Religious services for our own students, discussion groups led by prominent Rabbits of this city, and provisions for social service will all come within the scope of this Institute.

The Board of such a place as the "Jewish Students' House" has long been felt on the campus and President Prisbrey and the University authorities are enthusiastic about the project. The undertaking is being fostered by the Philadelphian branch of the United Synagogue of America. This new welfare-lunch branch will work in cooperation with the Christian Association of the University.

With the hope of stimulating spirit and activity among the students in the Engineering School, the Private Chemical Club is planning to start a football league with teams selected from the four classes of each department of the school as the contestants. A like venture was conducted last year and restored great interest among the capable athletes.

Games will be played among the different classes in the Chemical, Electrical, Mechanical and Civil Engineering departments. The winners in these four divisions will then clash and the final winner will be awarded the championship. A suitable award will be provided by the Club for the victorious school.

ATHLETIC COUNCIL CHOSES SUCCESSOR TO "BY" DICKSON

At a recent meeting of the Athletic Council, Martin J. Kelchner was chosen to succeed Byron Dickinson, '97, as director of intramural athletics. Mr. Kelchner was a four letter man at Allegheny College, Meadville, Pa., from which he graduated in 1914. He served in France with the hospitals combating the World War, and has been athletic director at Grand College for the past three years. Mr. Kelchner's particular work will be to take charge of the novice classes in football, soccer and track. The object of these classes is to teach the men who have little or no knowledge of these sports how to participate in them. Students taking these subjects will receive credit for their work.

Football Coach Robinson, who at the present time is trainer of the football team, will take charge of the men interested in track the close of the football season.

The Pennsylvania State University

Possibly we shall lose too much over our victories but one of the happiest moments of our summer vacation was when we read that the European debt tangle was worked out in just the opposite manner from the way our Finance Prof. said it would be solved.

We have the same chap this year for a different course and any time he starts to wax sarcastic at our expense we intend to clear our throat ominously and profess our remarks with "Now take the European debt situation last year——"

"Your Men Shot in Row"—Headline

Quantity production seems to pay in any line of endeavor.

Yesterday's Pennsylvania announced that plans for another football season are being completed and that a committee will be appointed shortly. We have always held rather strong ideas on this subject and would like to make some suggestions to the members of this committee, faithfully we are incapable of singing any song which goes outside of our range of time notes. Close observation has enabled us to prove that the same difficulty is experienced by nine and forty four hundredths percent of the common and garden majority of plain plus citizens, one of which we claim to be.

When the selection are attempting to render even beyond the northern limit of our capabilities our singing becomes rather more or a recitation and remains as until the notes return to return again. When the lower musical depths are plumbed we must be content with a few throaty growls until the time comes once more into the realm of our best endeavors. We particularly detest the lower singing because of the discovery one day when performing in a room provided with a mirror that our efforts along this line were accompanied with a rather disbelieved facial expression. This abhorred expression is very much on the order of that of a chap who has just come to the decision that the kibosh can't be removed and much will be accomplished otherwise.

However, in spite of our limitations, when we can sing it is with a rich baritone—all that could be desired. Of course, we rather hesitate to say so but when we are bouncing our neighbors up and down among those same notes the result is quite good. And we are not assuming too much for ourselves when we claim to have sung in some of the best homesickness in the country. Many of our readers have never sung outside of the halls of the Berenicean or the Gym but we have wandered and performed far from the home bath, as it were.

NOTED ALUMNUS

TAKEN BY DEATH

ONE of the University of Pennsylvania's most beloved alumni, Dr. Raymond H. Alden, died last Saturday at his home in North Charles Street, Baltimore. Dr. Alden, who was Professor of English at the University of Pennsylvania, had been granted a leave of absence and had been residing at Beardsley Court, a modern college at the University.

Professor Alden entered the University of Pennsylvania as a student in 1893. After teaching at Beardsley Court, he returned to Pennsylvania for the degree of Ph. D. He began his career as a teacher at Harvard as an assistant in English and later became a scholar, but as a poet, a writer, and a lecturer of great renown. He was a member of Phi Beta Kappa and the Beta Psi fraternity. Financial services will be held tomorrow at 2:30 p.m. from 1550 Steinmetz Street.

UNIVERSITY MUSICAL CLUBS ARE NOW RAPIDLY REGAINING

The Musical Clubs are now regaining their former success. The first band tryout was held several days ago. Quite a good number of last year's men reported, also a large number of new candidates. Further band tryouts along with marching practice will be held Thursday afternoon. No further announcements will be made until the band has the same in uniform. The Rev. Dr. H. S. Hart, Robert Ramsoe Proctor, Robert Goldblatt, bandmaster, and basketball star, Captain Manuel Tracten, head of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity, will be present.

MENORAH SOCIETY HOLD FIRST MEETING TONIGHT

With an interesting program provided for, the Menorah Society will hold its first meeting tonight at the Houston Hall Auditorium at 8 o'clock. All freshmen are invited to come and bring their friends. President in campus activities will be chosen tonight. The Rev. Dr. H. S. Hart, Robert Ramsoe Proctor, Robert Goldblatt, bandmaster, and basketball star, Captain Manuel Tracten, head of the Beta Theta Pi fraternity, will be present.

SUITS

you’ll like! Snappy, handsomely tailored suits, built along Bond Street lines. Coats boast of broader shoulders, easy fitting, loose back, no vent and a bit shorter than heretofore. Single and double breasted models. Vests have blunted points—the trousers of course are cut straight hanging and full. Strange to relate, the prices start at
