SMART MONEY

—That's the money we make with our head-on comparison to that made with our hands. You men are College training to prepare yourself to earn brain money—"Smart money"—money.

Do now.

Before walking into a retail store and asking for a suit or a tie, or before walking into a clothier's to examine his stock, ask him to permit you to examine his stock from almost an inspection of their own, and to provide them opportunity to discuss the stock. The name of the association will be known as "The Men's Club." This is offered as an approach, APPROVED KEYHOLE (Philadelphia). The first step of the title was applied to a person who brings in Philadelphia a solution and the last two, the bringing of the world into a city. There are no organization agencies of a sort in a group of organizations of international interest. The following are the club's officers: President, Cyril Kendall; Secretary, G. American Colleagues; and Treasurer, E. University Library.

Regarding A Men's Colonnade, President's notes, "the receptions at the International Students' House, with which the proposition of the club was first suggested, is not a college, but a college and a university, and the prominent member of the University, a member of men from all parts of the world who experience international problems from different points of view. Some of them have real contributions to make to discussion in which programs in the present time have no opportunity.

One of the principal functions of this organization, given the president, will be to bring together twice a month and the conduct of periodic functions and dinners. Under the proposed constitution, all students are eligible for membership and this will help to bring the men and American students together.

The club was formed this year in close connection with the former students' house and will enable members to repay some of the obligations that have been placed on them. He also states that the University has expressed its appreciation of the club, which will hold its inaugural meeting in the fall. Membership for already on paid out from Evans, Price, or a Fuller, Price, Brown, Rice, China, Japan, North-China, Shanghai, Canton, Peking, and Philadelphia.

Rifle Team Reinstituted in University Sports

Col. Snyder of Military Department Will Train for H.R.O.T.C. Rifle Teams

ELECT VALENTINI CAPTAIN

Both the University Rifle Team and the H.R.O.T.C. Rifle Team will be under the supervision of Capt. C. J. Sullivan this season. An action of the Council in Milwaukee last year removed the rifle teams from the curriculum of University sports but it has been reinstated.

Both teams, however, will have the same yesterday. Yesterday, Frank J. Valenti, Jr., high rifler of last year's team and president of the Kappa Chapter, was elected captain of the University team, and the team was elected satisfied next week.

In 1924, Hester, who has acted wild service as a marksman, will coach next year. In former times the team was one of the most successful among Penn rifle teams and in three Intercollegiate championships the team has won.

Chances have already been received from members A. and Miller, Miss, and Depauw University, and the team was then continued strictly to the H.R.O.T.C. team. There has been no announcement of the University team, in which the H.R.O.T.C. team is eligible to compete.

All not interested in either of the two teams are not eligible for either the University or the H.R.O.T.C. teams. The former is to be in the University, the latter in the H.R.O.T.C. Office in the Filbert Building this week. Present will study Harvard and the men in the present time are to be in the junior class. After the team is well under way, the early part of November, there will be a match or two week. As in previous years, a fresh team will also be organized.

Rival Grid Captains Meet for Second Time

McGraw of Pennsylvania, and Koppert of Columbia, Last Four Years

COLUMBIA HAS STRONG OFFENSE

When Pennsylvania meets Columbia at Franklin Field, Saturday afternoon, it will mean the second meeting the rival captains, Koppert and McGraw, will hold. Both of these teams are being played in the Filbert Building, and the Lafayette and Moore Park High Schools of the North, N.Y., are in a four-year struggle for the Harvard Cup which was the champion of the East. No McGraw, 25 Wt., outside, is one of the Philadelphia, is another player.

BOSTON COLLEGE Assistant with No Previous experience. After the contact, McGraw and his chest walked off with the coveted trophy. Perhaps winner will record further Boston, Koppert, the head of the defeated Merchant Marine, whose brother was pitted the Blue and White for three consecutive years on the field. Of the three captains, the winning offensive player at Philadelphia this year, McGraw was the one to whom the winning offensive player in the department, he is a graduate student of Harvard and a star in every division of the line. He kicking, passing five-yard line, and complete running made him, in this case, the Columbia students. The outstanding man of the 1924 and won, and they are in this contest for a successful football season. The lead- ing playing authorities agree that this year's combination is the best that the New York school has ever had and that under the leadership of the dollar cap it will secure a place for itself in the national event.

Canteen—The President, Franklin, Philadelphia, Koppert's safe weakness last year was punting and this was last year that he had improved in the department, he is a graduate student of Harvard and a star in every division of the line. A New York woman is saving a man for $50,000 and she claims she is doing it to teach him that men can't trig with a young lady's heart. On the same issue we have to mold a certain young lad we would like to see his fortune merely to teach him that she can't trig with a young man's weekly allowance.

Two headlines in yesterday's Pennsylvania attracted our attention. The first one we shall merely call to your attention and make comment on it at all—"Yale Looks For Hard Battle From Dartmouth." The other headline is deserving of some criticism we think—"Dr. Edward Han Passes 50th Ansiversary." Even if a professor may have been existing in his classes and may have "busted" a few students, there is no need for keeping count of these unfortunate students and referring to them as "stumps."

Since it has come to our attention that someone who goes over the balcony on the fourth floor of Locust Hall is addicted to smoking in his most unattractive form.

We received a very lucidly written form that this morning's copy was not with us and announce our arrangements. We fail to see why we should do this, and men we have a very difficult time getting the copy and acquaint anybody that we are in favor of the man who was successful in her campaign for governor of Texas and we also have a personal interest in the farm labor movement. If there is anyone on the campus who cares to take issue with us in this case, we have only to stop near door into the Red and Blue office and get a good strong speaker to defend us.

Politics are certainly coming to a pretty pass at Pennsylvania—here the dean elections are over and the Junior elections are today and at the time of going to press there have been no torch light parades, no trump speaking, no bulletins signed by politicians—none of the old election traditions at the University of being preserved.

We can remember one class election not so long ago where an adding machine was used by the campaign managers to total up prospective votes and on election day one had to whip through six rows of opposition politicians in order to count a ballot. Frequent meetings of prominent candidates had to be held to drop from all activities hereinafter any opposition candidates, who gave indications of winning in their campaigns. Ah, then was the day and we trust they are gone forever.

Another member has been added to the College's large staff of investigators. His title is "Official Advertisement Scout" and it is his duty to investigate the claims of all advertisers using the Pennsylvania. His first assignment is to see if a certain hair company retailing in local stores will keep the hair "just as the brush left it." He is going to make the proprietors of his looks and then go out and "slim" in West Philadelphia some evening this week. His complete report will be turned over to the readers as soon as it comes in.

FRESHMEN BOOTERs DOWN THIRD VARIETY
Second Half Rally Enlarges Yearlings’ To Bounce 5-2 Victory Over Bees

After trailing behind throughout the first half the freshman sewer team on a rigorous finish and defeated the third variety 5-2 yesterday afternoon at Franklin Field. Due to the inspired efforts of Reiter and Anderson, the third team lost 1-1 at half time.

Battling in the second half the yearlings took four goals and completely expunged their opponents. Stiles, Wohlt, and Gordon started for the freshmen; the first two scoring two goals apiece and the latter one.

The freshman successes were actually anticipated to play Nevertheless, perhaps, this Cleveland year’s team is going to be a better one than Harvard has had in probably six years, which have been acquainted with Harvard recently.

Through Coach White’s optimistic predictions, the chances of the Crimson get-tered batters to make good kick shib. Of last year’s continuation, seven men have been graduated and two are in the navy. "Nevertheless," says the Crimson "this year’s team is going to be a better one than Harvard has had in probably six years, which have been acquainted with Harvard recently."

On the Varsity Squad are found two brothers from last year and two from 1922, along with four first freshman substitutes. The others are all Harvard varsity men. Mr. GUS. ALEXANDER, Representative
SIXTY CANDIDATES

At a meeting of the University Dramatic Club, held last evening in College Hall, thirty-two candidates were nominated to select the sixty actors who will appear in the play next spring. There were many good candidates, and some promising material was uncovered.

About 46 candidates went through the preliminary tryouts which consisted of pronunciation, acting and voice testing. The stage setting consisted of one chair on an empty stage. Each candidate went into the stage, stood in an imaginary corner, conversed, closed the door and came to take the chair to try to convey to the auditors some impression by plain acting. Some of the older boys took one minute to perform so many things, while others could draw upon their imagination. In each one had and to what extent others would draw upon their imaginations. In the voice proofs, each proof carried out some kind of conversation with some one in the group. They showed the carry- put for and quality of their voice.

The results of last night’s work will be posted on the Dramatic Club bulletin board at ten o’clock on Monday. Only fifteen actors are needed for the first act of the play but everyone will be given a chance to act sometime in the year so there is no cause for anyone to get disappointed.

FIFTEEN FRESHMEN INTRODUCED

At the first regular meeting and smoker of the Rocky Mountain Club last night at Houston Hall, eleven of the twelve Rocky Mountain states were represented. Wyoming belted the only one omitted when the roll was called. Thirty-seven steps and many wanderers turned out for the function but there was practically no attempt to enumerate any of the descriptions. About fifteen of these men were freshmen, and they were formally introduced into the club upon the opening of the meeting.

President R. F. Steghers, 22 Wh., in a half-hour talk gave bids to the freshmen welcome, and outlined the purpose of the club. It is to bring men from the Rocky Mountain region together socially, and to promote the University in the West. He then introduced, in turn, the officials of the club and made a few remarks of welcome to the new men. These were: William Cress, 22 Wh., vice-president, T. B. Hilde, 23 Wh., secretary, and A. H. Perry, 23 Wh., treasurer.

"The club tried to live popular meetings the first Wednesday of each month, and plans for several special social functions were discussed. There will be a "dirk" of the meet tomorrow. In addition to free members, students are urged to bring eligible men around at that time. University literature was handed out at the meeting, and all will be mailed to those interested in the western states. The possibility of getting in touch with a man or two from Wyoming was discussed and members are on the lookout for matters of that state.
