YOUNG GIVES VARSITY LIGHT PRACTICE DRILL

THOMAS OUT OF STATE GAME

As advanced yesterday by Dr. Light, Varsity from physical, it is very probably that the "Little" Young's first varsity make, will not see action against Penn this afternoon. The injury which he received last Saturday is not here ready for it, and it is very probable that Thomas will not see action until the Cornell game.

"Student Problems" by LITTLE

Opposition will be with everything but with men and nothing to lose, appears on Franklin Field in the first, but the most critical, of the nine conference games of the season since its conference defeat at Princeton last fall. The team showed much spirit and individual excellence in the upset of the undefeated Pennsylvania earlier in the season, and it is some question as to whether they can do it again today.

FRESHMAN BOOT'S DEFEAT GLOUCESTER

In a closely contested contest, the Freshman Boot defeated Gloucester by a score of 34 to 20 on Saturday afternoon. The Boot, led by the running back, played a powerful game in the first half of the game, scoring two touchdowns and dominating the game from the start.

Basketball candidates undergo hard workout

Large Turnout of First-Year Aspirants

Several VETERANS REPORT

Basketball will enter headway last night when the Freshman candidates went through a long workout. The candidates were brought to the ballpark from noon on last Friday until the end of the afternoon, when they were taken to the university. The candidates were divided into two groups, and the candidates were given the names of the members of the team before coming to the ballpark.

Luthers CATCHER TONIGHT AT ANNAKET

In the absence of the starting catcher, the second baseman was called upon to fill the position. He did so with distinction, and the team was able to hold off the opponents, who were more evenly matched than usual.

The new University Directory claims to be able to answer any question that a student might ask. If it can give us a good answer to the question in that it is behaving in such a way now we'll buy a copy right away. How can we take a certain young lady to the Cornell place, junior class, a few dozens of other important questions having to do with our roommate's watch, overcoat, shoes and subtracting the room?

This book has all of the answers, so it claims, it will be a good idea to take along to a college.

One of the advertisements for this directory has this line: "11,000 Addresses for Fifty Cents!" This must be quite a blow to the boys who have labored diligently for two years putting together a collection of college addresses.

The report has come in to this office that about two hours after the rally the other night six Freshmen were found luring squabblers over the embers of the fire. We are beginning to understand the popularity of the local Boy Scout troop.

It may be that some of the freshmen realities of this column are present to former members of the Senate, and if so we'd like to offer them a bit of advice: Don't offer to light your upperclassman's pipe for two months or less. Better carry an extra supply along.

We hope that some one is keeping on the watch to see that this Power House crew will not pull anything over on us. We're well in a position to know all in these matters. Even those who are digging into a complete role having in with no possible means of escape.

It certainly speaks well for the student body that there was no attempt to break up classes after the victory of the women students' hockey team over the Normal Girls. Better carry an extra supply along.

The astounded downtown papers gave quite a write-up to a student who had started off on a Campus trip in the middle of the night when it first realized that he has been wandering around between the Engineering Building and the Old School for his classes ever since he has been here. They could understand how could wander off on a long trip without stopping and think about it.

The old question has come up again in a popular scientific magazine as to the relative intelligence of men and women. A word can be said about the conditions in both Pennsylvania—men are intelligent enough to take a bit of a lead in it is made broad enough.

Probably the only way to settle the question once and for all, though, is to have the type of physical build hold a vote in the matter.

The talks still of a motorist who parked his car in the wrong spot on Chestnut street and found and let be taken to the hospital when rushed by a traffic officer. This motorist is a friend of ours, and he explained emotionally that he had driven around for hours, in vain looking for a parking place and finally decided that some new strategy as he tried would be the only way to keep away from being arrested.

Better carry an extra supply along. The newspaper is of the view that this trip is in Tapka, Kansas.

STRAW VOTE FORETOLD

Results of Election

Daily Princetonian Collects Straw Vote
Pollings From Universities in Eastern States.

COOLIDGE GETS BIG MAJORITY

"As the administration goes on, so goes the nation," was often more clearly visible than in the recent Presidential election. The Daily Princetonian has taken unto itself the task of collecting the returns of several of the Eastern universities to determine the probable collective standing. A grand total of 5,484 ballots has been cast by the Republican candidate, in three states, while Davis is far behind with 2,232 and La Follette trails with 79.

Not a single one of the institutions represented in the grand straw vote failed to give Coolidge first place, while La Follette occupied Davis' second place rating. At three states and tied the Democratic leader at one college. Coolidge collected his largest number of votes at Harvard, where he took 24 per cent of the total votes. Respectively, with 292 and 235 votes for Coolidge, while Davis gained 868 and La Follette was third with 159. Foster polled 20 votes.

At Yale, Coolidge polled 920 votes, Davis and La Follette taking second and third place respectively, with 292 and 235 votes for Coolidge, while Davis gained 868 and La Follette was third with 159. Foster polled 20 votes.

The Harvard men have given La Follette 1,200 votes, while Davis received 56 per cent of the total count. The Harvard men gave Foster 10 votes, while Fannie and Foster received 4 votes each.

BRASS VOTE FORETOLD

The straw vote as predicted in the various state votes, indicates that the chances of the Republican candidate are considerable higher than in the recent Presidential election.
