Menorah Society To Hear Famous Rabbi

Will Describe Existing Conditions in Palestine at Meeting Today

Rabbi Max B. Klein, of the Congregation Adath-Judah synagogues of Philadel-phia, will speak at 3 o’clock tonight in the Student Club Auditorium under the auspices of the Menorah Society. His topic will be “Life Conditions in Palestine,” in which he will relate the experiences and facts of a trip he made in the past of the world.

As Rabbi Klein has just returned from an extensive tour of Palestine, where he spent the summer and will return in the near future, he will have some unique experiences that will be shared. He will be followed by an amusing lecture on the subject of ‘I Have Seen’. His lecture will open with the opening of the lecture, and the trip to Palestine. The lecture will be followed by a trip to the sea of galilee and a visit to the holy land. This lecture will be open to the public, and is not to be missed. As Rabbi Klein is a recognized authority on the subject of the Holy Land, he will be able to answer questions from the audience today.

Today’s speech will be the second in a number of similar speeches sponsored by the Menorah Society on Jewish subjects. Rabbi Schwartz and Mr. Harley have been the speakers for the last two weeks. This speech will be of interest to all who could not attend the previous lectures. The rabbi has the full cooperation of the Holy Land in this endeavor.

VALUE OF UNIVERSITY

Artile Points Out How Pennsylvania
Has Become Valuable Asset

GRADUATES HOLD HIGH OFFICES

"The University of Pennsylvania and the city of Philadelphia have grown up nearly together," stated an article carried in the Value of the University of Pennsylvania in the City of Philadelphia." This article, published in the Corn Exchange, which is issued by the Corn Exchange Bank of Philadelphia, contains many interesting items relevant to the University.

It shows how the University started when Philadelphia was only a small city and how that institution which exists today in Philadelphia has taken shape and grown into a mighty institution which sends students from all parts of America and the world.

"But suppose that the University should be closed," asked. "What would Philadelphia lose besides a few thousands of dollars in the city's budget?" It need not cost the financial world "even as much as the annual cost of one student," it said.

JUNIOR WEEK

Only a few days remain before the commencement of Junior Week. The various committees in charge of arrangements have come about all the work of preparation for the third-year social activities. All that remains to be done is to secure student cooperation.

The third-year men are charged with the responsibility of making Junior Week a success. Every third-year man is expected to take an active part in the activities. This year the third-year men should prove their ability to handle the details of the student council in the same way as the seniors did last year. It is up to the third-year men to organize into a strong, spirited unit. As soon as they begin they remain until the end of the year.

In order to make Junior Week a success, every third-year man should be inclined to give Dartmouth serious thought. The burden of preparing for Junior Week is not a large one, but it is quite a burden to those who have not made adequate arrangements for the coming social events. Notice has been appearing in this paper urging the juniors to come to the House in Hallow and secure their tickets. These appeals must not fail to reach the third-year men who have not yet made adequate arrangements for the coming social events. Notice has been appearing in this paper urging the juniors to come to the House in Hallow and secure their tickets. These appeals must not fail to reach the third-year men who have not yet made adequate arrangements for the coming social events.

The third-year men are expected to carry on the tradition of pageantry and student cooperation started by the juniors last year. It is up to the third-year men to prove that they are as capable of handling the details of Junior Week as the seniors were last year.

A 24-hour watch will be held every night in the future. It may have to be increased to a 24-hour watch if necessary.

The Bulletin

William Penn, the founder of Philadelphia, was a great believer in the printed word for getting people interested in his plans for bettering their conditions. If he were alive today he would doubtless give his unqualified approval to advertising in THE BULLETIN. He would want his millions of copies of THE BULLETIN to carry day by day and persons who are ambitious to get along, to be successful, find that advertising in THE BULLETIN pays.

Bulletin, editors of real estate, of hotels, manufacturers and advertisers find buyers for the fruits of their skill and labor. Workers find positions through Bulletin Want Ads and employers get workers. If you have something to sell or have a want of any kind, the quickest and most satisfactory way to get your want filled is to send your want inserting THE BULLETIN, the Philadelphia newspaper with the largest circulation. It is easy to phone Your Want Ads to the paper "nearly everybody" reads.
