Lacrosse Meeting
Scheduled Tomorrow

Red and Blue Will Open Season Here

Tomorrow night, at 7 p.m., the first lacrosse game of the current year will be played in the Student Union auditorium, 25th and Locust streets, in a game with Princeton. Coach W. P. Fries, who urges all men interested to try out, will coach the team. The game will be an exhibition one, the score of which will not be recorded.

Lacrosse is a game of ancient origin which is fast becoming popular in this country. In it the object is to carry the ball on the ground by means of a small ball which is carried on the feet and which is placed on the hand or the shoulder. The object is to get the ball out of the opposition's territory into the offensive one, where it is collected by a member of the defensive team, who then attempts to carry it into the goalposts. The game is played on a field which is about 110 yards long and 70 yards wide, and consists of two halves of 30 minutes each. The game is divided into periods of 7.5 minutes each, and a timekeeper is assigned to keep the game on an even keel. The game is a thrilling one, requiring both speed and skill on the part of the players. The players are divided into two teams, the blue team and the red team, and the game is played in a friendly and sportsmanlike manner. The players are dressed in blue and red uniforms, and the game is played on a field which is carefully maintained and kept in good condition. The game is a popular one, and attracts a large crowd of spectators, who are enthusiastic and supportive of the game. The game is a fine form of exercise, and is enjoyed by all who participate in it.

But with the increased activity on the campus and the diversification of interests common with a larger enrollment, the number of students attending chapel services became smaller and smaller. It was with a feeling of regret that President Pennsylvania and other members of the administration and the faculty, who were at one time undergraduate in the University, witnessed the passing of this tradition. To them it was a part of the heritage of their campus life. If such men ever susped the old chapel services and from their minds anything which we have been prominence something from our undergraduate days if we have failed to attend at least some of the chapel services.

President Pennsylvania expressed his appreciation of chapel services in a talk before one of the upper classes last fall and stated that he would like to see a return to the same traditions of Pennsylvania. Dr. Arthur Holcomb, who is now conducting the chapel services in the place of President Pennsylvania, has planned a program of activities for the services to be held during the next term in an attempt to arouse more interest in these short devotional activities and increase the attendance. If you think that these meetings, representing the oldest Pennsylvania custom, hold something for you, your presence will be appreciated by these men who have the interests of Pennsylvania at heart.

Chapel is a very nice name with nothing behind it of the way of compulsory or voluntary support is worse than to establish with a group attending which can be conducted on the figures, even when the capacity is limited, seems more or less superficial. If something can be done to establish a chapel that it will have some definite appeal to the undergraduates and really fill some place in campus life will have been accomplished.

Such a chapel will have interest at a new movement even if it be with some skepticism.

BE YOURSELF

With rushing season in full swing, members of the Class of 1923 who successfully topped the first scholastic board are now catching the hospitality of the third-year fraternity houses of the campus. For the first time since their entries into the University the men shall be feared and feared to their hearts content; even to exclusion. And for the coming weeks they will be summoned for the upper classmen socials.

During this period of tree meals and frequent handshakes, the members of the class should be subjected to the pressure of tests. He is supremely violate the test that is in the professional, that is, in contrast to being himself, that of by submitting his every-day

We were able to see that very few if any failed in the Paul and Billards course as given by the Lionton Club. At least as far as we are able to learn from what we understand is a report on this, we take it that everybody succeeded in passing the course.

The prize offered for a new slogan for the University was the place of the "Old and Root for Penn" attracts our attention and we shall try to submit a few. Several good ones have come to mind already:

"For—The final winter resort, The playground of the world." " Ninety-nine and forty-nine hundredths per cent pays." "The school of a thousand weeks and a thousand different times."

Time to relax. You'll be glad as 25.

"Go out and try to get a seat at Paul's."

More suggestions will be made along this line from time to time, and readers are at liberty to use any of the slogans at our usual rates of 25 per cent of the price money.

We are glad to announce that another one of the Alpha brothers are in school. One of the fraternities held a "rally"—"quixotic"—at the end of the year and made a slogan to make smokers on time. Don't wait."—Crab Apple.

This was quite a blow to the fraternity—the S. O. L. House—but they will try their best to recover.

The Apple boys have for two years now been the staunch correspondents for the Pennsylvania on rushing season matters, and we hope that Club will be able to handle the matter for us again this year.

One of the Freshmen we were talking to at another student of the other fraternity might seem to think the new observation, which is being discussed in the news columns of this paper, was some sort of an anticipation.

We can't say how true it is, but the rumor has reached us that one of the fraternities on this campus is paying three old clothe men to stand eight and day in front of the homes of their worst rivals.

On Monday night a freshman walked more than a mile for a Camel.

The rushin season might well be defined as that time of the year when 20-cent cigarettes大理石 in seven packages.

The president of one of our 68 active sections has failed to show up for two classes now and some of the boys are beginning to think that he must have flunked out.

The Vigilance Committee reports that a Freshman who was fortunate enough to register three "Do" in the last examination has sent in an application for rushing as a social member.

The Freshman life—320.50, $34.50 and $39.50

REPORT SUBMITTED BY SURVEY COMMITTEE SHOWS MANY SUGGESTIONS FOR IMPROVEMENTS

The survey committee recommended that the University of Pennsylvania take the following steps:

1. Establish a central Institute of Education to coordinate all educational activities.
2. Increase the number of administrative and faculty positions to ensure adequate staffing.
3. Provide more financial support for research and teaching.
4. Implement a comprehensive admissions policy to attract a diverse student body.
5. Enhance the University's physical facilities, including the library and academic buildings.
6. Improve the University's image and reputation through promotion and public relations.

The committee also noted that the University's financial situation was favorable, with excess reserves that could be used to fund improvements. However, they emphasized the importance of maintaining financial stability.

THE COMMENTATOR'S CHAIR

The columnist, Dr. Penniman, stated that the University's financial situation was favorable, with excess reserves that could be used to fund improvements. However, they emphasized the importance of maintaining financial stability.
