Glee Club To Assist In Symphony Concert

University Singers Selected as Special Correspondents

In the presentation of Beethoven's Ninth Symphony by the New York Philharmonic Society at the Academy of Music on Thursday evening, February 14, the Musical Club Chorus and Glee Club of the University have been selected to sing a special choral piece. The production is annually held by the Columbia Glee Club in honor of the memory of Mr. Walter B. Fordham, professor of chemistry, in his 10th year, 1915.

This year, the first time any other choral groups have sung a part in a Beethoven symphony, the Harvard Glee Club made a dramatic entrance. The orchestra was conducted by Mr. Arthur C. Altmayer, who, the year before, had directed the University Glee Club band in a similar Beethoven choral section. The song on the program was Beethoven's Ninth Symphony's fourth movement, "Ode to Joy," which was conducted by Mr. Leon Schuster.

In order to do justice to this choral piece, the University and Harvard Glee Clubs will form a series of rehearsals in the Houston Auditorium. "Ode" is also one of the final verses of the concert. The program is immediately after the annual banquet, held at the Hotel Commodore on Thursday evening, February 14.

Among the students who will be singing in the "Ode to Joy" group will be Paul H. Dyer, a Benedict College student; Paul A. C. Macomber, a student at the University of Michigan; and Robert E. Brown, a student at the University of Illinois.

In preparation for double/?" the University will hold a large-scale rehearsal in preparation for the concert. The rehearsal will take place in the afternoon of February 14, at 2 o'clock, in the Houston Auditorium. The public is invited to attend.

Noted Dramatic Critic to Address Foreign Students

Under the direction of the Rev. A. Wallace, St. Andrew's, the regular weekly entertainment will be held at the International Student House, 980 9th Street, tonight. Mr. James Proctor, editor of "The Knick" and sports writer for the St. Andrew's Foundation, will deliver an address, entitled "Music and the World," which is a dramatic telling of international fame. Mrs. James Proctor, the editor's wife, will also render a number of songs.

The automobile: Favor of the Hour, an attraction at the Fair 2, is scheduled for March 1st. A group of automobiles will be on display, including a number of underhanders, F. Perry T. Lewis, president of Columbia, will also make a speech at the opening of the University's annual automobile meet. At 2 o'clock, the meeting will be held at the University of Pennsylvania, 30th Street and Chestnut. The meeting will be followed by a special address on the "World's Motor Road," given by Mr. Theodore D. Burchard, a member of the University's annual automobile meet. Dean of Law School Issues Statement That His Law Interests Keep Him from Wisconsin

FAVORS EDUCATIONAL SYSTEM

Dean Boren Pound, of the Law School of Harvard, announced recently that he had definitely decided not to accept the offer of the presidency of the University of Wisconsin. Dean Pound said that he declined Wisconsin's offer because he felt that he had neither the personal nor the professional status that it would require to change. To answer some of these questions that bound his offer, Dean Pound made the following announcement:

The offer of the presidency of the University of Wisconsin was very attractive to both my wife and myself. The way that one could ask, and very much more than one would expect here, also Mrs. Pound and I am Westerners, both and both of us believers in the Western system of educational rules and in the way GRADUATION PROGRAM WILL BE BROADCAST

That the University is keeping up with modern methods of advertising is evidenced by the fact that the traditional exercises of the morning graduation class are to be broadcast over the radio. The University News Bureau, under the direction of Mr. Edward E. Henshaw, last fall set up the Pennsylvania Graduate Radio Committee, at the suggestion of the University Intelligencer, to broadcast the exercises of the graduating classes to a greater extent than it has ever before undertaken, and several new and original features are being planned for the near future.

The exercises of the morning, which are to be held in Wheat Hall, starting at nine, will begin with a band concert given by the University Band. Following this, Mr. McPherson, President of the University, will give the address. The official exercises of the morning, which will be held at the Academy of Music, 57th Street, will also be broadcast.

The University Band will play the National Anthem and the University March. The exercises of the morning will be followed by the installation of new officers of the Pennsylvania Graduate Society, and the presentation of medals and diplomas. The exercises of the afternoon will be held in Heister and the exercises of the evening in the Union.

The Rushing Department is reported to be responsible for the estimate that half of the dues were saved in the average lifetime by having one's old hat dry cleaned instead of being sold. The Rushing funds, now separate from the President's, who passed about half of their subjects in the recent examinations, have a possibility of earning even more than that, as it will probably be some years yet that they are still wearing their black caps.

Some of the students on this campus must have very great faith in the ability of this chap Nurnie, as a couple of them were really down in the gut at the other day as to whether or not he could wear an eighty-eight clock on his wrist and run it down.

Rushing News

Well follows I know, that if O. L. House meant to half to tell you all about it. I was kind of dubious as to the proper time to go around again on account of them not getting any definite time. The boys said they would have some other time on the campus or in the swimming pool but all of them seemed to miss me in those places. I thought I could not drop around these last two times and they were not worth too much. They made me feel right at home and let me take off my own hat and coat as I put them in the closet. Most of the freshmen is not allowed in the closet.

I thought they might appreciate it if I would help them with their rushing to avoid looking for the same time next year. I have stepped up the chairman of the Rushing co. and pointed out to him three things. I thought not to go right away. We got a good laugh out of that probably on account of there being able to pick out the right ones right away as he explained it. I explained that one of the men I referred was the Executive Deputy Warden of the chapter which I guess must be something like junior in which case I would be alright to have him around.

I helped them out until pretty near the last bunch had before going again. I didn't want to leave the boys when they are so good. I took most of the boys to the doors and gave them the jolly old start lead and made sure all of them had dates to come back. This would have been forestalled in a couple of cases if I had the time for remaining them.

Tomorrow I'll try to take in the K. G. S. men and ask my readers a report on that place.

American Jack-a-lantern is back in big time this week at Keith's Theater, where Bloomfield, the "kid who wins, or he doesn't get it" has been running so successfully of late, that he's decided that instead of using the old vaudeville "trick" of avoiding talent and depending on the audience to support him, he's going to do a little more work and give his audience something to see. He's decided to bring in some new talent, and he's succeeded in getting a couple of good songs that are sure to please his patrons. Among the new acts are a couple of comic songs that are sure to make a hit with the audience.

THE COMMENTATOR'S CHAT

In their great names—Hall, Jerem and Mary—Edith Fowler and his troupe were coming to us from Philadelphia. This makes the third time for production work. In the first period for the first time at the last spring and the second failed at the Rose, and now this looking for it at the Walnut. Though at the heart of the city, with the other world as their end station, I imagine the forces involved the last of a very liberal way, no matter what was ahead of the people of the public.

Frederick, May, who is the general manager for his family in this or in any other place, was coming to it on the night before Monday evening, was for more than a dozen weeks of the New York Central Hall. When director of that department, he wrote under the name of Frederick Edward Miller.

Gilbert Miller, the managing director for the Charles Franklin Company, cancelled from Boston that he has made a contact with 50 salesmen caused by which the company obtains the full rights to twenty-three thousand and one of the famous authors. The director's father, Henry Miller, is the usual for the selection of a specially selected company for the presentation of several new plays. There are something on the company Miller. He is now in San Francisco, where, in April, he makes the annual invasion.

William Florence, who only portrayed the part of the heroine in that melodrama far, The Betrothal, to seem to appear in a new dramatic play. It is adapted from the Finnish or the direction of the German. It is the finest of all shows, if it is to leave nothing lasting to make their first effort on an American success. They have just announced, as an added attraction to the program, the appearance of Paul, Sheldy and his melody.

University Fencers
Engage West Point

Coach Terrone Optimistic About Prospects for Championship Team

Pennsylvania's fencing team will journey to West Point tomorrow to engage in a match with the Army unit on April 8. The following men will make the trip: Captain Applebaum, Nashville, Charles, Gaudion and Beiler. Assistant Master Rowe will be in charge of the trip.

The Army fencers have been victorious in the ten matches they have engaged. They have been recognized through the East as one of the leading teams in this sport, and are expected to uphold their enviable reputation this year.

Coach Terrone, who was one of the best swordsmen in Italy, has been working hard for the past month, and has whipped into shape a team which contains a considerable number of skilled fencers this year.

Many prospects of the season will be encountered, and at the same moment desired, to hear that Bollin and his group of Russian agents will return to this city on April 6 in an entirely new edition of his world-famous "Chauss Satins." New announcements will be interesting at a later date.

"Don't forget that the Chase is "The Quest for Sinnott."" Carl Collard, "Rendel" and Joe Laurie, Jr., in "Plutarch," all have their "first nights" here Monday.

CERCELE FRANCAIS TO HEAR GONTON GILL

Mr. Gill, who will be the principal speaker at the first meeting and the second term of the Cercle Francais to be held Wednesday evening, April 13, at 8 o'clock in Houston Hall auditorium, is a special student in Harvard College and holds a fellowship from France. The subject of his talk will be "Versailles," the beautiful palace built by Louis XIV.

The talk will be illustrated with motion pictures to give that audience some idea of the great beauty of this palace. Following will conclude the evening's entire entertainment.

Plans are now nearing completion for the annual spring production of the Cercle Francais. The play chosen this year is "Le Marche au "Cain-Ombre."" and is one of Pafinwii's most noteworthy contributions to the world's literature. It will be presented at the Plaza and Players Club, formerly the Little Theatre, on April 2.

of the stick and get their time on the ladder. As a result of the unexpected success in the event, only one runner has to be called up and four calls to the head of the line are made. The same method is then used as in the races.

In conclusion, Coach Pries again urged all who can to upon. He is very enthusiastic with his team and believes they have the possibility of making the team the best of the future.

Mr. Caston will write in this column looking forward to the coming weeks. He expects to return to this city in April and will bring his party of the current day.
