BABY WELFARE ASSOCIATION WILL GIVE ANNUAL DANCE

Appoint Fine Arts Pageant Committee

"Court Scenes in Training," in Moffet Hall on April 17.

Preparations are being made for the annual talent contest of the Baby Welfare Association of Philadelphia. The contest will be held at the Bible-Sterling on Thursday evening, April 18, and is under the direction of Miss Elizabeth C. M. Hildebrandt and Miss Alice W. Flowers.

The Finance Committee recently authorized their selection of "Nothing," a comedy of the highest type in the 1925 production of the society. The play calls for a variety of character parts and is open for both men and women students on the card.

The final tryouts held by the Army Marching Band are expected to take place at 1:00 o'clock on Monday afternoon in the Palace of Music.

MEETING THE DEMAND

When the Mask and Wig announced that the show would be on the road for an entire week this year, with Chicago as the western end and, it was received with a realization that it would be a task suited for the Mask and War. We have now arrived at the point where the Mask and Wig productions have been a success and are growing in number.

In former years, and even during the most recent performances, because of the increased popularity of the Mask and Wig productions, a demand has been made for more seats to be made available for the Philadelphia presentation of the annual production. The graduate and undergraduate demand for seats has never been adequately met. But now we have a large number of theatre-goers in the city who have year after year made valid attempts to procure tickets. Such a demand could not possibly be satisfied if we had only a steady supply of a seat at the front of the theatre, for the first time we have been able to say that the shows were not sold out.

But while this week's booking of the show is a success, it should be possible for both the Mask and Wrig to meet not only the demand of the public, but also the needs of the students. The forecast suggests that the student's tickets will be more plentiful for this season. It has been announced that a special evening showing of the show will be given for the students. This definite news for the students is not as expected, but it is true. We plan to have the increased popularity of the Mask and Wig productions alone in the second week of the Philadelphia appearance.

By this policy the undergraduates and the public demand for Mask and Wig tickets should be satisfied, which can only result in the increased popularity of the Mask and Wig productions. The Forrest Theatre should book the thirty-seventh annual production for a showing of two weeks in its new season. No other college or amateur performances have been as popular as the Mask and Wig productions, and no other college has ever been granted the same steady supply of a seat at the front of the theatre, for the first time we have been able to say that the shows were not sold out.

The next performance will be on Thursday, March 17th, at the Forrest Theatre.

al dormitory accommodations, and plans have been made for two new houses. During the year 225 new scholarships have been awarded, and the total up to 340. The requirements of college work for entering the Academy have been increased to two or three years, but there has been a decline in the entering class.

Completion of the Graduate School is dated 1869, the largest in its history, its doors have been open to represent 174 American and 20 foreign universities, an increase of 27 over the preceding year. During the year 151 students holding fellowships or internships in the Philadelphia public schools were enrolled. This year more than 300 college classes have been scheduled at home to assist their course, which continues to be an important service to the community.
