CLASS OF 1969adopts ENDOWMENT FUND PROGRAM

Committee Will Try for Record Subscription to Drive Toward $600,000 Goal

SOUTHERN STATES LEND SUPPORT

Through the action of its campaign committee to place Endowment into the Alumni Fund, the Class of 1969 College went on record as being the first to adopt a definite program in regard to the alumni endowment drive which will be inaugurated May 1. This decision was reached following a meeting at the Alumni Club Wednesday, during which William O. Miller, chairman of the University and general manager of the fund, explained the educational objectives to which the endowment will be applied. Although there are only 50 mills in the class, the enthusiasm shown was pronounced. The campaign committee decided to try for a record subscription percentage in addition to setting a high mark for other classes to aim at.

The class has been active since the first announcement of the drive was made. Several members have important places in the fund organization. President C. N. Callellan is one of the "fairy dilly doners," and Frederick L. Baldwin is comptroller as secretary of the National Committee on Alumni, a committee which also includes in its permanent membership President Trimborn, president of the Varsity Club and Edward H. Rogers, president of the Old and Win Club. Edward H. Richard, vice-chairman of the Special Development Committee, has also become a valuable unit in the organization of the fund.

Professor Calderwe recently returned from an extended tour covering constituent centers in Florida, Alabama, Mississippi, Louisiana and Arkansas. The purpose of his trip was to acquaint the enthusiasm

Well, we feel rather like an old rain check, too—one that has been used twice at least by our loaf. And by the way, we aren't yet so overborne by lassitude that we can't throw out of the office any one who remarks, "Well, option is here."

And that reminds us that they are building a new nurse trains at the northwestern corner of Locust Hall. Or perhaps it is for the sky.

We have heard, though we can't touch for the truth of the statement, that the man who is working on this new model is a student in mathematics and science, vocal color for his senior research.

It seems as though the publicity men of the University Fund should get a rule for sullenness. In everything. It is a characteristic.

Our secret ambition is to stand up in a crowded theatre and wave our hat while the band plays "The Red and Blue.""—Headline.

After watching the Mask and Wig rehearsal we think we can safely say that we have at least six men in the chorus who will ultimately be chosen on the All-American Chorus.

The Freshman Across the Hall is of the opinion that nowadays the press have the cross-words and the students have the puzzles.

Nurmi still has one record to break. We learn from a prominent astronomer that a star named Mira is moving at the rate of 100 miles per second.

The Bonus Cup says that that majority C. A. is out-splashing a lot of fellow.

Instructors can now easily tell which students have had an hour's work at the Library merely by looking for their C. A. button.

At first we were alarmed when we saw an independent driving his Ford with one tire torn out, but then we suddenly remembered that it was right, because the fire was a Kelly.

"Schoolmen Attack Civic Indifference."—Headline. Looks like another one to reform those vicious "moderate" students who are invariably arrested at the cafe raids.

The Dormitory is down to the University of Pennsylvania, but it is trying to reform the first time it is in competition.

Boxing as a college sport was borrowed from the professional. But in enriching the sport, the intensification, the calculating and similar unpleasant aspects of the prize ring were left behind. Intercollegiate boxing has rapidly assumed a place of high rank in the realm of amateur athletics.

DIAMOND MENTOR SEEKS RIGHT HANDED BATTERS
Goldblatt May Be Shifted to Outfield to Strengthen Attack Against Southpaw Pitching

EXPERIENCED CATCHERS NEEDED
Realizing the danger of having too many southpaw batters in the lineup, Coach Carter and his assistants have started a search for hard-hitting right-handed outfielders. Of the five leading candidates for outfield positions, Tremper is the only man who bunts from the right side of the plate.

The coach stated yesterday that, although McTavish, Fields, and Hitcher, the southpaw outer gardeners, have all been hitting the ball hard in practice, he feared that they would be less effective when facing left-handed pitching. For this reason the veteran mentor contemplates several changes which will enable him to send in right-handed batters whenever southpaw batters are needed. "Monsieur" Goldblatt, who has been playing a strong game at third base for the varsity, will probably be shifted to the outfield, according to the coach. Goldblatt is right-handed, and his batting has improved steadily until he has become a formidable batters. In addition, his fielding qualities prove as great an asset to the team in the opinion of the mentor.

Coach Carter is also faced with a dearth of material in the catching department. Barrow and Chase are the only candidates who have had previous experience, and should these two be disabled, the team would be placed in dire straits.

Of the two, Barrow, although playing on the Varsity for the first time, is the more experienced player.

The veteran mentor announced yesterday that, in order to bolster up the reserve strength of the team, every man who registers sufficient ability will be retained on the Varsity squad, regardless of whether he is in the Junior class or not. Present plans are to maintain a squad of about twenty-five men, of whom eighteen will be taken on the trips for out-of-town games.

The team has been unable to resume workouts on the regular diamond, but has been forced to practice on the west end of the field. Reports to the Brethren that the water pipe is progressing rapidly, and that the excavation in back of second base will soon be filled in. As soon as the field has been replaced, the players will be able to use the regular diamond again.

SCRAMMAGE DAILY IN FOOTBALL WORKOUTS
Washington, a member of last year's Penn team, and McVeigh, who played on the Junior Varsity squad, are two infield candidates who have shown up particularly well in spring football scrimmages that are taking place every afternoon on River Field. Among the promising newcomers are Bane, captain of last year's varsity squad, and Aldy and McDermott, also from varsity.

The daily drills are expected to put the Varsity in the fine condition which will make an extended early fall training unnecessary.

In order to allow the backfield candidates to devote more of their time to the veterans, Craig and Dewhirat, of last year's varsity squad, are assisting in the training of new men. The linesmen are drilling on fundamentals, while the backfield practices kicking and passing, with especial attention being given to accurate timing of forward passes.

A short, snappy scrummer finishes the practice for the afternoon.

Although this is the third week of spring practice, the first injury occurred yesterday, when Miller Moore, a Freshman end, received a bruised arm. The injury is not a serious one and it is expected that Moore will report for practice next Monday.

Germany Develops New Kind Of School

Constructive School an Inauguration in the German Revolution of 1918

One of the results of the German revolution of 1918 is the Constructive school, which is an inauguration in the German educational system. It developed from an older institution, the school for the talented, which admitted only specially gifted children from the elementary schools.

This new system was adopted in order to educate both boys and girls. All the places left vacant by the German soldiers of the military schools, the construction school is so organized that it prepares for the most difficult examinations in whatever period than does the ordinary higher grade school. The German university entrance examination is supposed to be the most difficult examination in the history of any of the schools, the world over.

The object of this type of school is to teach the students to think for themselves and to develop a true social spirit. The instructors, for the most part, do not give their students general information but allow the students to acquire knowledge as a result of their individual work. This is known by all of the students in their subjects. The subjects being taught is worked out to make a distinct line between college and professional training.

For Men and Young Men Who Want Style and Stability in Clothing

The masculine mind does not associate style with frippery or foppery. A man may choose his clothes with critical insistence upon fit and workmanship. He wants to pose as a Beatle Prince, and yet have no desire to stand out in clothing. He wants to blend into his surroundings, and depend upon his clothing to give him what he wants—which may be summed up as Style and Stability. We believe there is no undue boast in the statement that our appreciation of style, character, quality, and value, and our ability to produce that happy combination, have made this Store Philadelphia's foremost Clothing store.
