KITE AND KEY SOCIETY TO LODGE HIGH SCHOOL TEAMS

David Grady, president of the Kite and Key Society at St. Louis University, is busy in preparing for the first annual Kite and Key meet to be held at the school. The meet will be the first of its kind ever to be held in the city and will be the largest ever to be held in the city.

The meet will be composed of at least 20 teams from various high schools and will consist of three events: the Kite and Key meet, the Kite and Key relay, and the Kite and Key jump.

The Kite and Key meet will consist of a series of events, each of which is designed to test the skill and ability of the competitors. The events will include a kite-flying contest, a relay race, and a jumping event.

The Kite and Key relay will consist of a series of relays, each of which is designed to test the speed and endurance of the competitors. The relays will be run in a series of heats, with the fastest team in each heat advancing to the next round.

The Kite and Key jump will consist of a series of jumps, each of which is designed to test the height and distance of the competitors. The jumps will be run in a series of heats, with the highest jumpers in each heat advancing to the next round.

The meet will be open to all high school teams in the city, and will be held on the track at St. Louis University. The meet will begin at 2:00 p.m. and will continue until 6:00 p.m.

The meet will be judged by a panel of judges, who will be selected from the faculty of St. Louis University. The panel will be composed of three judges, each of whom will have a different specialty: one will be a specialist in kite-flying, one will be a specialist in relay races, and one will be a specialist in jumping events.

The winners of the meet will be awarded certificates and medals, and their names will be recorded in the school records. The meet will also be broadcast on the school radio station.

The Kite and Key Society is a national organization, with chapters at many high schools across the country. The society is devoted to promoting the study of kites, relays, and jumps, and to fostering a love of these activities among its members.

Huntington players, accompanied by Coach Carter, the managers, assistant Coach Lodahl and Trimmer Mike Doe, made the trip South. Nearly every man on the team was given an opportu-ity to work out in the games. Each morning practice field with all the players were kept in condition for the remaining schedule that was ahead of them.

Next Year—What?

GOGING into business? If so, remember that the length of time it takes you to master certain fundamentals is the amount of time you will have to serve in minor positions before you can occupy an executive role. In addition to your undergraduate work, which should serve as a solid foundation, it will be well to combine the advantages of special training which will help to cut off years of apprenticeship in the business world.

Babson Institute offers an intensive training course of one or two years which teaches the fundamental principles of business and how to apply them in the daily conduct of commercial affairs.

The Aetna Man of 1850 and the Aetna Man of 1925

1. The Diamond Jubilee Celebration of the Aetna Life—Celebrating the 50th Anniversary of the founding of our company—is to emphasize the superior advantages offered by the Aetna man of today, and of seventy-five years ago.

2. The Aetna plan of insuring the policyholder is not through salesmen of advance, but by making them independent agents.
(a) By training them to become insurance experts.
(b) By translating the principles of scientific salesmanship.
(c) By sending trained superintendents out to show them how to sell life insurance in the beginning and by allowing them full commissions on their first sales.

3. Two classes of men are not wanted—
(a) Those who are looking for a short cut.
(b) Those who haven't enough vision to see a wonderful chance for permanent progress and independence in this opportunity.

4. A career in life insurance with the Aetna in Philadelphia should especially appeal to:
(a) The Wharton School man who wishes to choose a business where he will have the opportunity of building up a permanent and constantly increasing business, which he will never have to advertise for a job, and who desires the advantages of being connected with a successful agency.
(b) In persons and ask for Mr. W. J. Gilmore.
