ELI RUNNERS ARE FORMIDABLE OPPONENTS FOR RED AND BLUE IN TRIANGULAR MEET

Pennsylvania's track team will meet two strong opponents in Yale and Dartmouth in the triangular track meet at New Haven this Saturday. Yale, however, according to Coach Lawrence Robertson, is the more dangerous rival for it is the defending champion of the Eastern Conference. Yale will test the speed of Pennsylvania's runners. The Yale team consists of an individual champion and a sprinter of the high jump variety the Blue team will meet Maxie, of Yale, & the 200 and 220 yard dashes. This race will probably be one of the closest of the meet.

After the track meet at New Haven, the University of Pennsylvania football team will play an important game against the University of Chicago. The game will be held on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock.

JUDGES ATTENTION!

Every member of the Junior class is expected to present at an important meeting of the Junior class in the Houston Hall auditorium today at 11 o'clock.

Kraemer Elected To Lead 1926 Gymnasts

Instead of a roll, the gymnasts for the year at the annual banquet of the team, which was held at the Hotel Normandy Monday, Kraemer, the national intercollegiate track and swimming champion, was elected to the chief honor of the day, breaking the old record held by Paul Chappell, '26W, by 9 seconds. The time was 12 minutes 43.5 seconds. Last year’s winner, did not compete in the event.

Although there were many entries in the event, Kraemer outdistanced his competitors, and won by the margin of 71 feet. A gold medal was presented to the winner.

Richard Kolosi, Oklahoma student at the University of Oklahoma, has been named to the honor system, and the provision was made that each school or college in the university be allowed to readopt the system if it so desires.

SQUEEBS' DENTAL CREAM
Made with Squibb's Milk of Magnesia

Squibb's Dental Cream, made with Squibb's Milk of Magnesia, does much more than keep the teeth clean and attractive. It safely and promptly neutralizes the acids in the mouth which attack the teeth and gums—especially at that vital place where gums meet teeth. The Danger Line. It is the only dentifrice that affords protection that lasts for hours after use. At drug stores.

When you eat something sweet, and you feel the pang of pain in your teeth, you are being warned! Acid Decay has begun. And if neglected, Acid Decay may lead to dangerous abscesses and even serious infections of the gums.

A recent newspaper article with the headline, "How to Be a Good Player," quotes a Yale professor as saying that this can be accomplished in about half as much time as by quick breathing. It seems that half an hour is quite a long time to give up to the process of running, jumping, throwing, and catching, especially in cases of emergency. But of our readers who might be in need of a similar remedy in a hurry someday, we would suggest that these methods might work.

A master at the mark in an examination in which you are sure you made out very well.

Think of the final examination only a month away. If you are a Sophomore, think of the Final Flight.

Look at the game made by either of the Boston teams after you had placed a bet on them.

Three months should effect a cure in a very short time, but in order not to spoil the game altogether, avoid looking at the Library, trying to copy Woodland Avenue, looking at the cup at the center of Thirty-seventh and Woodland, or reading the Boost News.

It seemed to us that the announcement of a mass meeting in the area yesterday was rather necessary.

Mass meetings have been held in that building nearly every hour of the day for the last two weeks, and we didn't know that any announcement of that fact would be needed.

The Deep Cup sure he is kind of glad that Mars didn't vote in Germany, as he would have a chance to break up such a wonderful musical comedy team as the Four Mary Brothers.

A small article in the Pennsylvania states that it is a tradition of the University regulations at Pittsburg University in Tennessee to bid a tried and true man, and they may take, except with a man instructor as a director in certain institutions that no regulation is necessary.

We would mention in such a staff of faculty as we saw with each other, but it is certain that no such regulation is necessary.

For the second year in a row, we have been informed by the athletic authorities that there will be a respite from the press of intercollegiate.

In the paper the other day we read of an advertisement explaining the best way to cultivate the attention of the female sex. Just out of curiosity to email to know how many copies of that advertisement were sold and to a certain Woodland Avenue pawnshop.

There is no further information of the approach of the good old college than that the little society men are warding off their habits on rainy days.

It would seem to us to be a wise precaution to have it plainly understood by the Philadelphia newspaper that our men have no connection with either Rug World or the later that every one seems to expect on May 3.

While the parade is to improve the average with all the importance of a large improvement on the University, we think we can give it the parade of large groups on the Saturday that will, and that the change of the festival in some of the smaller settings is due to the sparsity along with samples of the hot water obtainable in the gymnasium.

No wonder the author draws his observations from our own institution.

But seriously, as far as going to one side (as Ring Leader says), we think the parade is a splendid thing and a real sponsor of a spreader purpose. Any man who thinks of Friday money as a holiday to be used for one pleasure, and does not consider his duty to get into that parade downtown and to do his part toward making it a parade of gentleman, should never be allowed to deteriorate himself a Pennsylvanian man.
