FRESHMEN VIE WITH PRINCETON

Pennsylvania’s golf team will compete in a four-cornered match at Montclair, N. J., today. Susquehanna, Columbia and Williams and Dartmouth are the other entrants. Susquehanna will be the opponent for the University team this morning, with Columbia furnishing the opposition in the afternoon. The teams from Williams will be played during the fore-morn tomorrow, while the match with Dartmouth in the afternoon will wind up the two days of play.

Susquehanna, which last week won the intercollegiate, and Columbia of New York State, is expected to furnish the strongest opposition for Captain All-man and his men. However, the Blue and White team has been practicing regually at the Huntingdon Valley Country Club and over other Philadelphia courses in preparation for these matches, and is in fine fettle for the show.

The overwhelming defeat administered by Penn State last Saturday reflects the capability of the University golfers. The Lions returned to Mount Sinai with only one match to their credit. Captain Allman, leading off form, dropped the only single encounter out of four, while the Pennsylvania foursomes of Allen and Steven’s and Merritt and Brown came through both matches victorious.

Goodwillie SHOULd PRESS HILL

When the Cornell Varsity track team arrives in Philadelphia tomorrow for the Pennsylvania meet in the Pennsylvania Athletic Field they will have with them an imposing array of track and field stars. Coach Jack Stocker, in picking his men, took into consideration the results of a series of trials held last Saturday at Alumni and must this morning. Goodwillie's record is somewhat comparable to the meteoric career of Frank Hutcheson. In last year's dual meet, he did 1:00 in 10 seconds flat, he entered for the first time this year as the Red and Blue lead over the same course.

Cornell, Harvard and Massachusetts will start the big race by virtue of the victory over the lighter boat, steered by Stanley White, in a trial row held over the Schuylkill. Robert Varsity, Deply's crew will now as the Junior Varsity, while the victorious first-year men will compete in the Freshman race. Harvard and M. I. T. the hosts, in tomorrow's regatta, as well as the Big Ten schools, will be represented by strong roster combinations. Individual events have been entered against the Crimson crews in practice races this week. In a severe heat against that team the Cambridge rowers benefited by 80 yards. Under the rule by the Red and Blue sweep over the same course.

These, although handicapped by the loss of one boat, 190-pound veteran, will nevertheless be a strong contender.
