PLEDGE PAYMENT URGED

VOLUME XLII — No. 172

Students once and always present time two hundred the swimming team. Fund during the regular campaign students pay their Initial pledge on standing deferred payment pledges to a balance of students to subsist to last December In order to enable a number of students who were out of town at the time, officials organized the Committee paid in or before February 9. It is expected that a large number of two hundred students will make a pledge by February 15. Nearly all the rest are taking advantage of the opportunity to make an additional payment, which is not due, and in order to complete the pledge payments enrollment, it is essential that the student pay their initial pledge before the close of the term.

The deferred payment plan was developed under the undergraduate drive last December in order to enable a lot of students to subscribe to the magazine during the regular campaign. One dollar is deducted from the balance of a pledge by that amount will not be able to collect all of the pledges, the Board of Trustees, Mr. Theodore L. Hall, a member of the Class of 1923, was appointed as chairman of the Committee to study the situation. The committee is now in session, and the report will be ready for presentation at the next meeting.

We have heard that there will be a meeting of the Student Senate tonight at 7:30 in the auditorium. The meeting is open to all students, and the following business will be transacted:

How did your Carters Look this Morning?
A few short weeks and Pennsylvania will hold the election of Twelve Thousand forever. The idea is a severe one measured in round numbers or in significant individual. With total confidence, the editor has entrusted the torch of progress to the men who are to succeed them. Most of us appreciate the responsibility which has been placed upon our shoulders and will do our best to perform our duties to the best of our abilities.

The pages forward a few months. Late in September we will assume the task of welcoming a new group of men to the University. They will be the men who will inherit the torch of progress from the men who have preceded them. It is to these men we must turn in order to assure the success of the torch high and the adding of a new layer to our foundation. The determination of our athletic teams, our publications and innumerable other interests.

Perhaps we are "away ahead of the game," or at least we seem to come to the realization. However, it is our thought that a bit of ordinarily preparation will eliminate the local publica...

STILLMAN ENDSOWS CHAIR of POETRY AT HARVARD

Doeve Expresses Wish That Incumbents of Chair Be Men of Internationl Reputation

PURCHASES FAMOUS DORMITORY

Setting a precedent for American colleges, Charles Channing Stillman, of New York, has endowed a professor ship in poetry at Harvard University.
It will bear the name of Charles Eliot Norton in recognition of what this professor did for Harvard. Mr. Stillman was a member of the Class of 1876 and was one of Professor Norton's pupils.

The donor of the chair has designated that that tenancy of the chair be chosen without regard of nationality; and shall be preferably men of international reputation. The administration of this gift, Mr. Stillman wishes the term professor to be interpreted in its broadest sense, including, together with verse, all poetic expression in language, music, music the fine arts.

In addition to this work at Harvard, the builder of the professorship will de-dote each year at least six public lectures on poetry, not previously printed or delivered, for the subsequent publiation of which he reserves the privilege.

Within the past few weeks Mr. Stillman has been hailed as a Harvard home-factor. When it was announced that Rock Hall, stately home of wealthy Harvard undergraduate, was to be torn down and an apartment house erected on the site, Mr. Stillman purchased the building in order that he might forge his undergraduate days, an area previously owned by the university. He was especially desirous of having his name, who will soon move. The building in question is in the Cambridge Institution, live in the famous dormitory.
In addition to this service, he also bought additional ground near the university which a bond selling concern had under consideration. These two acts have added greatly Harvard's future expansion policy.

All protection who intend changing their addresses will stand report these changes to 3825 Locust Street before Monday, May 25, so that clear correct addresses will appear in your next Prosimian Handbook.

PI. KAPPA ALPHA SEATS
THETA CHI IN LEAGUE GAME

Kappa Alpha secured its supremacy in fraternity baseball circles by de-beating Theta Chi, 4 to 3, last Wednesday in one of the most hotly contested games of the season. Jack De Vigne scored the single tally in the eighth frame of a scheduled autumnal contest by stealing two bases and going over as an error.

The boys were quite evenly matched, which made for a very exciting game. Each party scored five runs.

Kappa Sigma added another victory to its record by taking the big end of a 14-4 score from Sigma Tau Phi. The latter will meet Theta Chi for the championship of their division of the league. The winner of this game will then play the leading team in the opposite section. It has not yet been announced which team will compete for the latter honor.

STATE EXPENDITURES, TOPIC OF FRIDAY LECTURE TODAY

Dr. Clyde L. King, of the Political Science Department, will deliver a lecture on the "The Problems of the Congress of Pennsylvania" this afternoon, at 4 o'clock, in Houston Hall. Dr.
King is a well-known authority on his subject, will illustrate his talk with latter slides.

This will be the seventh and last of the series of faculty lectures, All the topics discussed thus far have been interesting, and Dr. King's talk will close this year's work in a successful close. The lecture is open to the general public and admission is charged.

It is a great pleasure to return to our post once more, after a rather an exhilarating absence, and to do a small turn at the regular Monday evening ope-ing, but it is a nuisance to try and properly evaluate such a show as "Hurrricane," with Olga Petrova in the lead, when the heat is particularly present.
All things being equal, it is my firm be-that the best medium for reporting is in a cool house, if nothing else "OFA stuff" you say? Surely, surely, agreed, yet isn’t the old stuff the most popular? This summer freshness does not in the least place one in a correct mind. However, be it so if it de-time may be resolved, so in proceed:

Not many minutes of the performance had passed before a thought presented itself. Here was a realistic trend in the exhibition of the plot. As the actions went on, harder was the realization until, at the conclusion of the first act, I fear it collapsed again, according to what my ears had heard, yet my eyes had seen, that I was listening either to "Dester Under the Elms" or "What Price Gibbs?" Many music days came and went since Philadelphia has listened, and at that with vibrating procedure. In such a rendition. Yet, this is a sign that pages well, both for the theatregoer in this city and for the playwright. There is no reason to doubt the great object to bring some something artistic presented so far, merely because, in an unordinary 12" with such a plane, the action, or the music must happen to be somewhat weird, of course, on the other hand. I am left so opposed to histrionics want for one’s sake." If there have be such productions as "The Harleian" and "Ladies of the Evening" let them run in New York: there are of the type which the listener is just as well off without. But to delete any sign of "Billclown," would be the effect of the plot substance. In one or two low-bad cases there may be grounds for omission, but with these minor exceptions the remainder should stand. To get into the reasons for this would only be to bore the reader and to tire myself for such extraneous matters have no place in this article.

Relate, the plot is too fragile, for brought up in such circumstances as
